Republicans to Start Big Campaign Push

By JOHN L. CUTTER

WASHINGTON, (UP) Republicans yanked the stops from their congressional campaign today in what appeared to be their "big push" to hang onto control of Congress in the crucial Nov. 2 elections.

These were straws in the political winds that seemed to point up a new phase in GOP strategy: President Eisenhower, in whose popularity many Republicans think lies the key to an election victory, took off for Connecticut and New York on a two-day speaking tour that carried him into the strategic east for the first time in the campaign.

Vice President Richard M. Nixon announced he was peeling off his gloves and then proceeded to hammer former Prresident Truman in a slinging attack.

GOP National Chairman Leonard W. Hall termed the Democratic party and "instrument for the left wing crowd."

Sen. Irving M. Ives, Republican gubernatorial candidate in key New York, hurled a sensational bribery charge at his Democratic foe, Averell Harriman.

The Democrats met the stepped up Republican drive with hard-hitting campaigning by the party's "old pros."

Rep. Sam Rayburn (Tex.), house Democratic leader, took the stump at Decatur, Ill., while his Senate counterpart, Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson (Tex.), was scheduled to speak at Las Vegas, Nev. Sens. John L. McClellan (Ark), John J. Sparkman (Ala.) and Albert Gore (Tenn.) scheduled appearances in Ohio, Pennsylvania and Oregon, respectively.

Although Mr. Eisenhower's tour was labeled officially as "non-political," GOP strategists privately counted on it giving their candidates a boost. Mr. Eisenhower will see Gov. John Davis Lodge of Connecticut who is up for reelection, and former Rep. Clifford M. Case, GOP senatorial candidate in New Jersey.

Nixon announced his change of campaign tactics in a speech last night at Philadelphia. He said that never again should Mr. Truman or any of his Democratic "appointees" be "entrusted with the task of protecting America's security from the termites who are constantly gnawing at us from within."

The Vice President, who jumped off today on a new nine-state campaign swing, also attacked Adlai E. Stevenson, 1952 Democratic presidential candidate, and other spokesmen of the ADA left-wing of the Democratic party.

Hall labeled the Democratic party as left wing in a special at Indianapolis. His office here released a statement saying Mr. Eisenhower scored a 53 percent better batting average than did former President Truman in his relations with congress.

The statement cited a report by the Congressional Quarterly, a news service organization, which Hall said showed that from 1947 to 1952 Mr. Truman got 49.2 per cent of his legislative proposals through Congress. Mr. Eisenhower's average in the past two years, Hall said was 65.9 per cent.

Ives' charge that Harriman headed a firm that paid a $250,000 bribe to a Brooklyn judge in the 1920's touched off a political storm. Harriman angrily "completely and categorically" denied any knowledge of any such bribe and accused Ives of a "baseless attack on my personal honor and integrity."

Meanwhile, Ross Rizley, assistant secretary of Agriculture and a former Republican House member, challenged a statement by Sen. Estes Kefauver (DTenn.) that the farmer has suffered under the Eisenhower administration.

Rizley, in a statement released by the GOP national committee, said the administration has t opped "the sharp decline in farm prices that started in the last two years of the Truman administration."

Show 6% Gain Department Stores

ST. LOUIS, (AP) Department store sales in the Eighth Federal Reserve District last week showed a 6 per cent gain over the corresponding week of 1953.

The Federal Reserve Bank of St. Louis attributed the increase to somewhat cooler weather and a difference in timing of seasonal promotions.

The Memphis, Tenn., area showed the largest gain, with 17 per cent. Sales were up 13 per cent in Little Rock Ark., 5 per cent in St. Louis, 3 per cent in smaller district cities combined and 1 per cent in Louisville.

The district volume in the past four weeks was 1 per cent greater than in the same 1953 period. The losses reported were in the smaller cities.

Madness In The Spring

By ELINORE DENNISTON

I

It was morning. Taxis swished through Central Park South, their windshield wipers moving like meteorological pendulums beating time for the rain. Water dripped down the nose of the statue in front of the Plaza and on William Shakespeare, standing on his ballet dancer legs in the Mall in Central Park.

Farther inside the park something momentous was happening. Anyone braving the wind and the rain would have seen the earth crack. And through the crack there emerged the first yellow crocus. It was spring.

Some five blocks to the east, on the right side of the city but the wrong part of the right side, a bel shrilled in the apartment and Greg awakened frowning, resentful at being wrested from his dream. The silent guardian inside his mind, which made him look up from his newspaper at the right subway station and aroused him a few seconds before the alarm went off on week days, reminded him that it was Sunday morning and there was no need to hurry. But Greg was hounded by a relentless conscience that stalked him like an FBI man pursuing a criminal. From morning to night it prodded at him, sneered at his accomplishments, questioned his motives, believed the worst of him.

As his sleepy lids half closed, his conscience shook him firmly by the shoulder, reminding him that after all, he had not checked on the time. He might be sleeping away half the morning and, as his stepfather had pointed out for the past dozen years, there was nothing more demoralizing for a healthy young man than Loafing in Bed. The Energetic Man Went Up-Up-Up. The Apathetic Man Went Down-Down-Down. Greg's stepfather might not express himself in headlines but he always talked in capitals!

Greg dutifully reached for his watch, holding it close to his eyes because the room was dusky. Twenty minutes of 9.

The bell rang again and Greg swung his feet off the studio couch and into his slippers, groping for his robe. While he punched the button in the kitchenette that released the bell in the downstairs hall, he ran his fingers through his hair and tied the robe around him. March 30. It was his birthday. Perhaps his mother had remembered. After all, she remembered quite often. And once she had even come to the apartment to see what sort of "atmosphere" he preferred to his stepfather's house in Montclair.

Gregg went back to the living room and took a quick inventory, regretting that it was too late to make up the studio couch. He make an effort to see the place as it looked to his mother, although he knew from her silence on that visit that she resented the shabbiness, the secondhand furniture, the Venetian blinds that shut out the sight but not the sound of the Third Avenue Elevated. It reminded her of the old days, before she had become Mrs. Horace Crain when she had been Millcent Seaver, married to Greg's father.

Compared with the 20-room Queen Anne house in Montclair, it was nothing to boast of, but he liked it because he had found it himself, bought his own furniture, paid his own way.

Feet climbed the fifth flight of stairs at the plodding gait people always reached at that altitude, and someone knocked heavily. Greg opened the door. A panting messenger grunted, "Some climb! Are you Seaver" At Greg's nod he thrust into his arms a basket covered with cellophane and tied with a mammoth bow of red satin ribbon. "Watch it, Bud. The thing weighs a ton." He leered. "She must like you."

Greg, clutching the ornate basket with both hands, nudged over the sill the bulky Sunday paper that lay outside his door. He eased the basket onto the coffee table. Through the cellophane he could see the labels on the bottles [illegible] champagne, Imperial Tokay. An envelope was tucked under the broad satin ribbon.

"Happy birthday, dearest boy. You'll find a little booklet in the basket telling you the proper temperatures for serving the wines. Don't throw it out. Little items like these are important for a man to master. They tell people so much about his background. Mother."

Greg slipped the note back into its envelope and, after a nudge from his conscience, pulled out the booklet on wine and laid it on top of the newspaper beside his easy chair. He told himself loyally that it was a lavish gift; probably cost as much as he earned in a week. The fact that he did not like wine was not important. After all, his mother was trying to give her son some social polish.

While he waited the coffee to perk he took a shower and shaved, squinting at his face in the mirror. With a face like that, he reflected, one could commute on the same train, month in and month out, and be practicaly invisible. In fact, that had happened to him during the years when, to please his mother, he had lived at his stepfather's house in Montclair. Now and then, he was introduced to men who were familiar to him because they took the 8:11 in the morning. There was never any recognition in their faces.

"Gregory Seaver" they would say. "Oh, Horace Crain's stepson."

No one ever needed to ask who Horace Crain was. Crain's Canned Cornbread was served up on the billboards of the nation as a tasty substitute for the scenery they concealed. It was the subject of a singing commercial on the radio which ingeniously introduced the voice of a can opener. The man who thought of that was now high in his agency and generally regarded as being wellon the way to a dazzling future. Horace Crain was only waiting for an equally worthy vehicle to present his product to the television audience, having discovered what a nuisance it is to turn off a commercial on the screen.

In the company of his vigorous, dogmatic stepfather and his absurdly young and decorative mother, Greg felt like a mongrel, vaguely apologetic for getting in the way. He supposed he must be like his father, who had not fitted in anywhere either, and who had not, in Horace Crain's capitals, Made the Most of His Opportunities.

Greg was afraid of the future. In fact, Greg was afraid of a great many things. Life itself was a wary business of walking a tightrope, exxpecting at every moment to lose one's precarious balance. The only safety lay in following the rules, in doing what was expected.

He set the basket of wine bottles on the floor to make room for his breakfast tray and reached for the first section of the Sunday paper. The booklet on serving wines tumbled into his lap. For a moment Greg flicked the pages; then he made the first rebellious gesture of his life. He tore the booklet in two.

"I don't like wine," he said aloud, defying his lurking conscience.

Bear Bryant Getting Team 'Up' for Porks

COLLEGE STATION, Tex. (AP) Texas A&M Coach Pau Bryant said today he was officially "taking over" the football team, was glad to have it and had faith that the boys would beat somebody.

It was a little on the facetious side, since Bryant obviously was taking a poke at those who ride only with the winners. But Arkansas might note and get the idea it could run into a peck of trouble Saturday night when the night-flying Razorbacks, leading the Southwest Conference race, play the Aggies on their home field.

Bryant observed that nobody else wanted the team so he would take it.

"It's always 'our' team when we're winning and going good, but nobody has asked me how 'our' team is doing. It's always 'How's your team going' this season" said the man whos in his first losing season of a 10-year coaching career. He always finished ahead in nine years at Maryland and Kentucky.

A&M has won only one out of six. At Kentucky, in 1951 his team had an 8-4 record and those four losses were the previous high for a Bryant-coached squad. But that outfit pretty well redeemed itself by beating Texas Christian in the Cotton Bowl.

The lone Aggie victory was over Georgia, and Georgia right now leads the Southeastern Conference race. So Arkansas leads the Southwest Conference. . . h-m-m.

"I still have confidence in these Aggies," growled Bryant. "They have plenty of determination, guts and character and I still think they'll beat somebody."

But in "taking over" the team, Bryant said he would not tolerate "giving up on the part of his varsity and issued this note of warning:

"It's past history that about this time of year some folks players begin to give up. If anyone on my teams shows signs of giving up the rest of this season they'll be disassociated with this outfit."

Lower Prices for Food Drops Cost of Living

WASHINGTON (UP) A drop in food prices lowered the nation's cost of living by three-tenths of one percent from mid-August to mid-September. the government reported today.

The bureau of labor statistics said it was the sharpest monthly drop since last November for both food prices and the overall cost of living. Food prices declined 1.3 percent during the month.

In a statement accompanying the price report, Secretary of Labor James P. Mitchell said the average American factory worker in September "could buy more goods and services with his take-home pay than in the same month of any previous post-war year."

He said the average factory worker earned $71.86 a week in September, an all time high for that month. His take-home pay, assuming three dependents to be counted as tax exemptions averaged $66.78, also a record-high for September.

Mitchell said the average worker with three dependents was able to buy two percent more goods and services and the single worker four percent more in mid-september than two years earlier rearmment boom was still under way.

"The rise in wage rates in the past year has offset the drop in the length of the work week," he said.

". . .In addition, the stability of consumer prices has made for confidence, a major ingredient of a strong and growing economy."

Woman Must Serve on Jury Despite Plea

By WILLIAM NEWKIR K

CLEVELAND (AP) A woman who burst into tears and pleaded to be excused was seated anyway today as a juror at the murder trial of Dr. Samuel H. Sheppard.

Answering questions from defense counsel Fred Garmone with seeming poise, Mrs. Genevieve A. Pelsay suddenly looked fixedly at the handsome osteopath for the first time.

Then the blond biscuit company employee lowered her head and, with tears brimming in her eyes, fumbled in her pocketbook for a handkerchief

"I would like to be excused," she said, her voice choking. "I would not like to be on this case."

Her sudden outburst followed this question:

"Is there any doubt in your mind that Sam Sheppard as he sits here in this courtroom is presumed to be innocent?"

She shifted her eyes from the ceiling to Sheppard, the the tears started to flow.

Mrs. Pelsay was a replacement for Gerald L. Liederbach, a mailman who delivered letters to the door of Defense Atty. Garmone. The state, using its second peremptory challenge, thumbed Liederbach out of the jury box.

Italy Formally Takes Over Trieste

By WEBB McKINLEY

TRIESTE (AP) Italy took over Trieste today in a rain-drenched but fervent celebration marking the end of nine years of British-American control over this long-disputed Adriatic city.

A bitter wind and slanting rain washed out a series of ceremonies scheduled for the formal change of command.

But a cheering throng of Trieste citizens broke through police barriers when Italian army, navy and air force units marched into the city for the first time since World War II.

Thousands pressed onto the waterfront to hail a five-ship Italian naval squadron as it steamed into the harbor. Their cheers nearly drowned out the roar of 24 Italian air force jets which swept across the city's grey skies.

The formal end of the Allied Military Government came at 10 a. m., with a proclamation signed by British Maj. Gen. Sir John Winterton, Allied military governor of th Trieste territory's Zone A. The proclamation was read over Trieste Radio.

It was the first day since May 8, 1945, that Allied soldiers had not been in the city in strength.

At noon, the red, white and green Italian national colors rose over Unity Square, the heart of the city. Five minutes later, Maj. Gen. Edmondo de Renzi, the new Italian military governor, issued an emotional greeting to the city's inhabitants on their return to Italy.

The American troopship W. G. Haan pulled out shortly afterwards with about 1,700 U. S. troops aboard. The people momentarily dropped their greetings to the Italians. With cheers, waving flags and honking of horns along the waterfront they bade farewell to the Americans.

Better Picture in Employment Painted by Ike

By RICHARD E. MOONEY

WASHINGTON (UP President Eisenhower last night announced a 400,000-man drop in unemployment and predicted a record-shatte ng jump in national production in the next 10 years.

He revealed new government figures showing that the number of jobless fell to 2,700,000 this month 400,000 below September and the first time this year that the total has been less than 3,000,.00

He also declared he expects America's total annual output to climb 40 per cent "in less than a decade" to a record $500,000,000,000. Evenly distributed he said this would theoretically amount to an extra $3,000 "for every American family of today."

Mr. Eisenhoer spoke out in a week before the crucial congressional elections. The speech was labeled "non-political" but it amounted to a slashing counter-attack against Democratic claims of economic dangers and charges that the administration has failed to come with them.

"I believe that it is high time in this great, growing productive land of ours," the President said, "to put behind us the rash fears that for so long have haunted some among us fear of war, fear of unemployment, fear of ourselves, fear of the future. Certainly, we know now that one such fear, the fear of a ralyzing depression, can be safely laid away."

After 20 years of war somewhere in the world, he said the nation can look forward to peace and an "exciting" growth in the economy that will bring "a steady rise in the living standards of all of our people." To spur the progress, he urged a seven-point program calling for such things as eventual tax cuts, expanded trade, and more highway building.

Mr. Eisenhower conceded that "some unemployment" mars the economy this year, "our most prosperous peacetime year in history." But he said the number of jobless has been steadily declining and that the outlook is good.

12 Branches Open to New Enlistments

M-Sgt. Herman W. Smith of the local U. S. Army Recruiting Station in the Hope City Hall has announced that the Army is now offering twelve different branches of service to men enlisting or reenlisting.

These branches include the Military Police Corps, Ordinance Corps Airborne, Corps of Engineers, Signal Corps, Medical Corps and many others. Men choosing these branches are assured of going to the one of their choice upon completion of their basic training. There are also 87 different army technical schools open at the present time.

The Army is now giving enlistees 10 to 14 days leave to come home after the first eight weeks of basic training. Those enlisting in the near future will be able to be home during the Christmas and New Year Holidays.

Under the new reenlistment bonus bill recently passed by Congress, men reenlisting in the regular Army within 90 days from date of discharge may draw a bonus up to $1200.00, depending upon their grade held at discharge.

For full information on the above items, Sgt. Smith may be contacted at the U. S. Army Station, now located in the Hope City Hall.

Big City No Different From Smaller One, Every Group Has Favorite Meeting Place

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP) — Every occupation or hobby group in Manhattan has its favorite meeting places.

The college crowd holds re-unions "under the clock" in the Biltmore Hotel lobby. Actors hang out at the Algonquin, Ralph's an Sardi's.

Outdoor checker players cluster in Washington Square, horseshoe pitchers in Central Park, musicians and pickpockets in Time Square, dog walkers on Park Avenue, professional bums on the Bowery, Army men at the Astor, airmen at the Hotel Lexington, and politicians at the men's bar of the Waldorf.

Clergymen have a rendezvous place, too. They often meet at "Duffy's Tavern" as many refer to it—across the street from the New York Public Library's famous twin lions at 41st street and Fifth Avenue.

The "tavern" is the clerical department of Rogers Peet Co., a clothing firm. The department has been run for 30 years by Frank Duffy, who probably knows more clergymen than any other man in America. He travels 40,000 miles annually and outfits some 10,000 priests, ministers and rabbis.

"We've taken care of ministers from every corner of the world," said Duffy. Challenged as to whether he could outfit a Buddhist priest properly, he said:

"Certainly, although I don't know what would happen if he went out without trousers and tried to convice the nearest cop he was a priest."

Duffy said clergymen were relatively easy to please because they

Amendment 43, Is Change in Assessment Method or 'Full Value' Plan, Up to the Voters

(This is the first of a series of measures which will be on the general election ballot.

LITTLE ROCK — (AP) How are you going to find out what 20 per cent of anything is without knowing the value of the thing itself?

That simple question might well serve as the central idea behind the so called "100 per cent" or "full value" proposed constitutional amendment which will be voted on at the general election a week from today.

Nobody now gives the proposal formally proposed constitutional amendment No. 43 — a ghost of a chance of adoption. Gov. Francis Chery, the man most closely identified with it in the public mind, has been defeated for a second term nomination. Nobody has raised a voice in its behalf but plenty of opposition voices have been heard. Nevertheless, it will be on the ballot the 1953 Legislature put it there and there's no way to take it off.

The proposal, as everyone knows, is concerned with the assessment of real estate and personal property for tax puiposes.

At present a person is supposed to list all his taxable real and personal property with the county assessor at 20 per cent of its actual value.

The 20 per cent figure is not fixed by statute. The law says the Public Service Commission shall set the percentage of value for assessment puproses. Twenty per cent is the ratio currently in use.

Eventually the taxpayer will get a tax bill based on his assessment. The total, besides fixed road and poll taxes, will represent so much to the county, so much to the school district and so much to the municipality im he believes in an incorporated area. All charges will be based on millage that is so many mills for each dollar of valuation as represented by the taxpayer's assessment, the rate depending on where he lives.

Everybody pretty generally agrees that a true 20 per cent valuation is as rare as — well, as rare as a 50 per cent one was when that rate was in effect.

In actual practice a citizen can assess just about what he wants to at what valuaton he wants to Assessment has been called, not inaptly, a "voluntary pledge."

Some citizens undoubtedly pay more than their fair share of property taxes, other pay less and still others perhaps pay none at all.

A committee appointed by Gov. Cherry to study the admittedly inequitable situation recommended that assessment be at "market value" the "100 per cent" or "full" designation is not used. This suggestion and others were embodied in the proposed constitutional amendment.

A state Board of Equalization would be set up to supervise work of the elected county tax assessors and see that all property was listed on the tax books.

Until the state board had certified that property in a specific county was equalized at market value assessment procedures would continue as at present.

After the certification had been

Sheppard Case Has Already Cost $19,000

CLEVELAND (AP) The Sheppard murder case already has cost more than $19,000, not including the fees of Chief Defense Counsel William J Corrigan.

Corrigan said yesterday the family of Dr. Samuel H. Sheppard has paid about $4,000 for court reporters, special stenographer and other expenses.

Not included is the $1,000 paid for bail bond and fees to be paid for a private investigator and other attorneys.

Frank T. Cullitan, Cuyahoga County prosecutor, said expenses incurred by his office total about $1,500, including those of state witnesses and for trips by investigators and lawyers.

Still to be added are court costs such as jurors ($5 daily), witnesses ($3 daily and transcripts.

The biggest single bill was the one for $13,200 which Cleveland police handed suburban Ray Village for handling a large part of the investigation leading to the indictment of the osteopath.

Mr. McCarthy Says Two Were Prejudiced

By G. MILTON KELLY

WASHINGTON (AP)— Sen. McCarty (R-Wis.) today hurled a "preiudice" charge at Sen. Watkins (R-Utah and two other members of a special six-man committe which has recommended that McCarthy be censured for certain of his actions as a senator.

This was the first time McCarthy has leveled a bias accusation directly at members of the censure committee, although he has indicated he felt Chairman Watkins and Senators Edwin C. Johnson (D-Colo and Ervin (DNC) were against him. In his charge today, he mentioned only Watkins by name.

Watkins could not be reached immediately for comment.

Russian Talks After Germany Settled, Dulles

By MERRIMAN SMITH

WASHINGTON (UP) — Secretary of State John Foster Dulles made it clear to the world today that the United States may agree to new cold war talks with Russia after the new agreements on German rearmament have been ratified.

In an unprecedented televised meeting of the President's cabinet, Dulles said "there may be a new basis for discussion" with the Communists "when we create, as we hope we will, a position of solidity and strength for Western Europe."

"At least we can hope," he added, "that then there can be talks more satisfactory than those that exist when the only object of the Soviet Union, is, by trick or device, to try and break up the European unity."

The extraordinary cabinet meeting was called last night to dramatize the Paris agreement for enlisting West Germany in the European Defense System. With the congressional elections only a week away, Republican leaders hoped it would help win votes for the GOP.

For the first time in history, Americans across the nation were invited via television to pull up a chair at a business session in the green-carpeted cabinet room at the White House.

As soon as his top advisers had assembled around the coffin-shaped mahogany table shortly after 7 p. m., President Eisenhower briskly called the meeting to order and introduced Dulles.

Dulles, waving a pencil for emphasis and referring occasionally to notes, carefully traced the free world's uphill struffle to build a strong defense system in Europe. The agreement finally reached at Paris, he said, was an achievement that "history will not soon forget."

India Calls for Halt to Arms Making

By TOM HOGE

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (AP) — The long U. N. arms debate neared a close today with a call by India for a halt on weapons production until a worldwide disarmament pact can oe reached.

India's V. K. Krishna Menon, last speaker listed in the debate sought the floor in the 60-nation Political Committee to present his appeal for a standstill agreement.

The Indian resolution called on the U. N. Disarmament Commission to study ways of setting up an "armament truce" pending agreement on a disarmament convention. Menon previously urged a halt in the production of atomic bombs until measures could be set up to eliminate them, but nothing ever came of it.

The resolution circulated among delegates last night also called on the General Assembly to recess in December instead of adjourning — so it could reconvene quickly if the Disarmament Commission issued a report requiring immediate action.

American to Recuperate in Poland

By ROB-RT BRANSON

VIENNA, Austria, (UP) — Hermann Field, the Ohio architect released yesterday from a jail in Communist Poland, today advised his wife in London that he must recuperate in Poland "for a short while" before returning home.

Reports reaching Vienna from reliable sources said the contact with Field was made "after midnight and outside the American embassy."

But beyond that there was no word on the whereabouts of Field one of four members of the Field family who were swallowed up one by one behind the Iron Curtain in 1949 and 1950.

The fate of the other three missing members of the family still is shrouded in mystery and Communist silence.

"There was no explanation of why officials of the Warsaw embassy met Field "outside the embassy."

By LEON HATCH

Republican Pratt Remmel, who will have visited all 75 of the state's counties by this weekend, continued his handshaking appearances in Crittenden County.

Crittenden was strongly for Gov. Francis Cherry, whom Orval Faubus defeated for Democratic nomination for a second term in the August primary.

By JOHN L. CUTTER

WASHINGTON, (UP) Republicans yanked the stops from their congressional campaign today in what appeared to be their "big push" to hang onto control of Congress in the crucial Nov. 2 election.

There were straws in the political winds that seemed to point up a new phase in GOP strategy: President Eisenhower, in whose popularity many Republicans think lies the key to an election victory, took off for Connecticut and New York on a two-day speaking tour that carried him into the strategic East for the first time in the campaign.

Vice President Richard M. Nixon announced he was peeling off his gloves and then proceeded to hammer former President Truman in a slugging attack.

GOP National Chairman Leonard W. Hall termed the Democratic party and "instrument for the left wing crowd."

The Democrats met the stepped up Republican drive with hard-hitting campaigning by the party's "old pros."

Rep. Sam Rayburn (Tex.), house Democratic leader, took the stump in Decatur, Ill., while his Senate counterpart, Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson (Tex.), was scheduled to speak at Las Vegas, Nev. Sens. John L. McClellan (Ark), John J. Sparkman (Ala.), and Albert Gore (Tenn.), scheduled appearances in Ohio, Pennsylvania and Oregon, respectively.

Although Mr. Eisenhower's tour was labeled officially as "non political," GOP strategists privately counted on it giving their candidates a boost. Mr. Eisenhower will see Gov. John Davis Lodge of Connecticut who is up for reelection, [illegible] and former Rep. Clifford M. Case, GOP senatorial candidate in New Jersey.

Nixon announced his change of campaign tactics in a speech last night at Philadelphia. He said that never again should Mr. Truman or any of his Democratic "appointees" be entrusted with the task of protecting America's security from the termites who are constantly gnawing at us from within.

Hall labeled the Democratic party as left wing in a special [illegible] Indianapolis. His office here released a statement saying Mr. Eisenhower scored a 53 percent better batting average than did former President Truman in his relations with congress.

The statement cited a report by the Congressional Quarterly, a news service organization, which Hall said showed that from 1947 to 1952 Mr. Truman got 49.2 percent of his legislative proposals through Congress. Mr. Eisenhower's average in the past two years, Hall said was 65.9 per cent.

Ives' charge that Harriman headed a firm that paid a $250,000 bribe to a Brooklyn judge in the 1920's touched off a political storm. Harriman angrily "completely and categorically" denied any knowledge of any such bribe and accused Ives of a "baseless attack on my personal honor and integrity."

Meanwhile, Ross Rizley, assistant secretary of Agriculture and a former Republican House member, challenged a statement by Sen. Estes Kefauver (D-Tenn.) that the farmer has suffered under the Eisenhower administration.

Rizley, in a statement released by the GOP national committee, said the administration has t opped "the sharp decline in farm prices that started in the last two years of the Truman administration."

[illegible] Show 6% Gain [illegible] Department Stores

ST. LOUIS, (AP) Department store sales in the Eighth Federal Reserve District last week showed a 6 per cent gain over the corresponding week of 1953.

The Federal Reserve Bank of St. Louis attributed the increase to somewhat cooler weather and a difference in timing of seasonal promotions.

The Memphis, Tenn., area showed the largest gain, with 17 per cent. Sales were up 13 per cent in Little Rock Ark., 5 per cent in St. Louis, 3 per cent in the smaller district cities combined and 1 per cent in Louisville.

The district volume in the past four weeks was 1 per cent greater than in the same 1953 period. The only losses reported were in the smaller cities.

Madness In The Spring

By Elinore Denniston

Copyright 1954 by Elinore Denniston. Distributed by NEA Service, Inc.

By ELINORE DENNISTON

It was morning. Taxis swished through Central Park South, their windshield wipers moving like meteorological pendulums beating time for the rain. Water dripped down the nose of the statue in front of the Plaza and on William Shakespeare, standing on his ballet dancer legs in the Mall in Central Park.

Farther inside the park something momentous was happening. Anyone braving the wind and the rain would have seen the earth crack. And through the crack there emerged the first yellow crocus. It was spring.

Some five blocks to the east, on the right side of the city but the wrong part of the right side, a bel shrilled in the apartment and Greg awakened frowning, resentful at being wrested from his dream. The silent guardian inside his mind, which made him look up from his newspaper at the right subway station and aroused him a few seconds before the alarm went off on week days, reminded him that it was Sunday morning and there was no need to hurry. But Greg was hounded by a relentless conscience that stalked him like an FBI man pursuing a criminal. From morning to night it prodded at him, sneered at his accomplishments, questioned his motives, believed the worst of him.

As his sleepy lids half closed, his conscience shook him firmly by the shoulder, reminding him that, after all, he had not checked on the time. He might be sleeping away half the morning and, as his stepfather had pointed out for the past dozen years, there was nothing more demoralizing for a healthy young man than Loafing In Bed. The Energetic Man Went Up-Up-Up. The Apathetic Man Went Down-Down-Down. Greg's stepfather might not express himself in headlines but he always talked in capitals.

Greg dutifully reached for his watch, holding it close to his eyes because the room was dusky. Twenty minutes of 9.

The bell rang again and Greg swung his feet off the studio couch and into his slippers, groping for his robe. While he punched the button in the kitchenette that released the bell in the downstairs hall, he ran his fingers through his hair and tied the robe around him. March 30. It was his birthday. Perhaps his mother had remembered. After all, she remembered quite often. And once she had even come to the apartment to see what sort of "atmosphere" he preferred to his stepfather's house in Montclair.

Gregg went back to the living room and took a quick inventory, regretting that it was too late to make up the studio couch. He make an effort to see the place as it looked to his mother,, although he knew from her silence on that visit that she resented the shabbiness, the secondhand furniture, the Venetian blinds that shut out the sight but not the sound of the Third Avenue Elevated. It reminded her of the old days, before she had become Mrs. Horace Crain when she had been Millcent Seaver, married to Greg's father.

Compared with the 20-room Queen Anne house in Montclair, it was nothing to boast of, but he liked it because he had found it himself, bought his own furniture, paid his own way.

Feet climbed the fifth flight of stairs at the plodding gait people always reached at that altitude, and someone knocked heavily. Greg opened the door. A panting messenger grunted, "Some climb! Are you Seaver" At Greg's nod he thrust into his arms a basket covered with cellophane and tied with a mammoth bow of red satin ribbon. "Watch it, Bud. The thing weighs a ton." He leered. "She must like you."

Greg, clutching the ornate basket with both hands, nudged over the sill the bulky Sunday paper that lay outside his door. He eased the basket onto the coffee table. Through the cellophane he could see the labels on the bottles [illegible] champagne, Imperial Tokay. An envelope was tucked under the broad satin ribbon.

"Happy birthday, dearest boy. You'll find a little booklet in the basket telling you the proper temperatures for serving the wines. Don't throw it out. Little items like these are important for a man to master. They tell people so much about his background. Mother."

Greg slipped the note back into its envelope and, after a nudge from his conscience, pulled ouut the booklet on wine and laid it on top of the newspaper beside his easy chair. He told himself loyally that it was a lavish gift; probably cost as much as he earned in a week. The fact that he did not like wine was not important. After all, his mother was trying to give her son some social polish.

While he waited the coffee to perk he took a shower and shaved, squinting at his face in the mirror. With a face like that, he reflected, one could commute on the same train, month in and month out, and be practicaly invisible. In fact, that had happened to him during the years when, to please his mother, he had lived at his stepfather's house in Montclair. Now and then, he was introduced to men who were familiar to him because they took the 8:11 in the morning. There was never any recognition in their faces.

"Gregory Seaver" they would say. "Oh, Horace Crain's stepson."

No one ever needed to ask who Horace Crain was. Crain's Canned Cornbread was served up on the billboards of the nation as a tasty substitute for the scenery they concealed. It was the subject of a singing commercial on the radio which ingeniously introduced the voice of a can opener. The man who thought of that was now high in his agency and generally regarded as being wellon the way to a dazzling future. Horace Crain was only waiting for an equally worthy vehicle to present his product to the television audience, having discovered what a nuisance it is to turn off a commercial on the screen.

In the company of his vigorous, dogmatic stepfather and his absurdly young and decorative mother, Greg felt like a mongrel, vaguely apologetic for getting in the way. He supposed he must be like his father, who had not fitted in anywhere either, and who had not, in Horace Crain's capitals, Made the Most of His Opportunities.

Greg was afraid of the future. In fact, Greg was afraid of a great many things. Life itself was a wary business of walking a tightrope, exxpecting at every moment to lose one's precarious balance. The only safety lay in following the rules, in doing what was expected.

He set the basket of wine bottles on the floor to make room for his breakfast tray and reached for the first section of the Sunday paper. The booklet on serving wines tumbled into his lap. For a moment Greg flicked the pages; then he made the first rebellious gesture of his life. He tore the booklet in two.

"I don't like wine," he said aloud, defying his lurking conscience.

Bear Bryant Getting Team 'Up' for Porks

COLLEGE STATION, Tex. (AP) Texas A&M Coach Paul Bryant said today he was officially "taking over" the football team, was glad to have it and had faith that the boys would beat somebody.

It was a little on the facetious side, since Bryant obviously was taking a poke at those who ride only with the winners. But Arkansas might note and get the idea it could run into a peck of trouble Saturday night when the night-flying Razorbacks, leading the Southwest Conference race, play the Aggies on their home field.

Bryant observed that nobody else wanted the team so he would take it.

"It's always 'our' team when we're winning and going good, but nobody has asked me how 'our' team is doing. It's always 'How's your team going' this season" said the man whos in his first losing season of a 10-year coaching career. He always finished ahead in nine years at Maryland and Kentucky.

A&M has won only one out of six. At Kentucky, in 1951 his team had an 8-4 record and those four losses were the previous high for a Bryant-coached squad. But that outfit pretty well redeemed itself by beating Texas Christian in the Cotton Bowl.

The lone Aggie victory was over Georgia, and Georgia right now leads the Southeastern Conference race. So Arkansas leads the Southwest Conference. . . h-m-m.

"I still have confidence in these Aggies," growled Bryant. "They have plenty of determination, guts and character and I still think they'll beat somebody."

But in "taking over" the team, Bryant said he would not tolerate "giving up on the part of his varsity and issued this note of warning:

"It's past history that about this time of year some folks players begin to give up. If anyone on my teams shows signs of giving up the rest of this season they'll be disassociated with this outfit."

Lower Prices for Food Drops Cost of Living

WASHINGTON (UP) A drop in food prices lowered the nation's cost of living by three-tenths of one percent from mid-August to mid-September, the government reported today.

The bureau of labor statistics said it was the sharpest monthly drop since last November for both food prices and the overall cost of living. Food prices declined 1.3 percent during the month.

In a statement accompanying the price report, Secretary of Labor James P. Mitchell said the average American factory worker in September "could buy more goods and services with his take-home pay than in the same month of any previous post-war year."

He said the average factory worker earned $71.86 a week in September, an all time high for that month. His take-home pay, assuming three dependents to be counted as tax exemptions averaged $66.78, also a record-high for September.

Mitchell said the average worker with three dependents was able to buy two percent more goods and services and the single worker four percent more in mid-sentember than two years earlier rearmment boom was still under way.

"The rise in wage rates in the past year has offset the drop in the length of the work week," he said.

". . .In addition, the stability of consumer prices has made for confidence, a major ingredient of a strong and growing economy."

Woman Must Serve on Jury Despite Plea

By WILLIAM NEWKIRK

CLEVELAND (AP) A woman who burst into tears and pleaded to be excused was seated anyway today as a juror at the murder trial of Dr. Samuel H. Sheppard.

Answering questions from defense counsel Fred Garmone with seeming poise, Mrs. Genevieve A. Pelsay suddenly looked fixedly at the handsome osteopath for the first time.

Then the blond biscuit company employee lowered her head and, with tears brimming in her eyes, fumbled in her pocketbook for a handkerchief

"I would like to be excused," she said, her voice choking. "I would not like to be on this case."

Her sudden outburst followed this question:

"Is there any doubt in your mind that Sam Sheppard as he sits here in this courtroom is presumed to be innocent?"

She shifted her eyes from the ceiling to Sheppard, the the tears started to flow.

Mrs. Pelsay was a replacement for Gerald L. Liederbach, a mailman who delivered letters to the door of Defense Atty. Garmone. The state, using its second peremptory challenge, thumbed Liederbach out of the jury box.

Error in Judges, Clerks List

The list of judges and clerks for the November 2nd. General Election, which was published in the Hope Star last Saturday, contained the name of "W. A. Spears" as one of the alternate judges in the Beard's Chapel Precinct. This was an error on the part of the typist who prepared the list for us. The name should be "Herbert Chambless," not "W. A. Spears." it was announced by J. A. Davis, Secretary, Hempstead County Election Commissioners.

Italy Formally Takes Over Trieste

By WEBB McKINLEY

TRIESTE (AP) Italy took over Trieste today in a rain-drenched but fervent celebration marking the end of nine years of British-American control over this long-disputed Adriatic city.

A bitter wind and slanting rain washed out a series of ceremonies scheduled for the formal change of command.

But a cheering throng of Trieste citizens broke through police barriers when Italian army, navy and air force units marched into the city for the first time since World War II.

Thousands pressed onto the waterfront to hail a five-ship Italian naval squadron as it steamed into the harbor. Their cheers nearly drowned out the roar of 24 Italian air force jets which swept across the city's grey skies.

The formal end of the Allied Military Government came at 10 a. m., with a proclamation signed by British Maj. Gen. Sir John Winterton, Allied military governor of th Trieste territory's Zone A. The proclamation was read over Trieste Radio.

It was the first day since May 8, 1945, that Allied soldiers had not been in the city in strength.

At noon, the red, white and green Italian national colors rose over Unity Square, the heart of the city. Five minutes later, Maj. Gen. Edmondo de Renzi, the new Italian military governor, issued an emotional greeting to the city's inhabitants on their return to Italy.

The American troopship W. G. Haan pulled out shortly afterwards with about 1,700 U. S. troops aboard. The people momentarily dropped their greetings to the Italians. With cheers, waving flags and honking of horns along the waterfront they bade farewell to the Americans.

Big City No Different From Smaller One, Every Group Has Favorite Meeting Place

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP) — Every occupation or hobby group in Manhattan has its favorite meeting places.

The college crowd holds re-unions "under the clock" in the Biltmore Hotel lobby. Actors hang out at the Algonquin, Ralph's an Sardi's.

Outdoor checker players cluster in Washington Square, horseshoe pitchers in Central Park, musicians and pickpockets in Time Square, dog walkers on Park Avenue, professional bums on the Bowery, Army men at the Astor, airmen at the Hotel Lexington, and politicians at the men's bar of the Waldorf.

Clergymen have a rendezvous place, too. They often meet at "Duffy's Tavern" as many refer to it—across the street from the New York Public Library's famous twin lions at 41st street and Fifth Avenue.

The "tavern" is the clerical department of Rogers Peet Co., a clothing firm. The department has been run for 30 years by Frank Duffy, who probably knows more clergymen than any other man in America. He travels 40,000 miles annually and outfits some 10,000 priests, ministers and rabbis.

"We've taken care of ministers from every corner of the world," said Duffy. Challenged as to whether he could outfit a Buddhist priest properly, he said:

"Certainly, although I don't know what would happen if he went out without trousers and tried to convice the nearest cop he was a priest."

Duffy said clergymen were relatively easy to please because they

Better Picture in Employment Painted by Ike

By RICHARD E. MOONEY

WASHINGTON (UP President Eisenhower last night announced a 400,000-man drop in unemployment and predicted a record-shattering jump in national production in the next 10 years.

He revealed new government figures showing that the number of jobless fell to 2,700,000 this month 400,000 below September and the first time this year that the total has been less than 3,000,.00

He also declared he expects America's total annual output to climb 40 per cent "in less than a decade" to a record $500,000,000,000. Evenly distributed he said this would theoretically amount to an extra $3,000 "for every American family of today."

Mr. Eisenhoer spoke out in a week before the crucial congressional elections. The speech was labeled "non-political" but it amounted to a slashing counterattack against Democratic claims of economic dangers and charges that the administration has failed to come with them.

"I believe that it is high time in this great, growing productive land of ours," the President said, "to put behind us the rash fears that for so long have haunted some among us fear of war, fear of unemployment, fear of ourselves, fear of the future. Certainly, we know now that one such fear, the fear of a ralyzing depression, can be safely laid away."

After 20 years of war somewhere in the world, he said the nation can look forward to peace and an "exciting" growth in the economy that will bring "a steady rise in the living standards of all of our people." To spur the progress, he urged a seven-point program calling for such things as eventual tax cuts, expanded trade, and more highway building.

Mr. Eisenhower conceded that "some unemployment" mars the economy this year, "our most prosperous peacetime year in history." But he said the number of jobless has been steadily declining and that the outlook is good.

12 Branches Open to New Enlistments

M-Sgt. Herman W. Smith of the local U. S. Army Recruiting Station in the Hope City Hall has announced that the Army is now offering twelve different branches of service to men enlisting or reenlisting.

These branches include the Military Police Corps, Ordinance Corps Airborne, Corps of Engineers, Signal Corps, Medical Corps and many others. Men choosing these branches are assured of going to the one of their choice upon completion of their basic training. There are also 87 different army technical schools open at the present time.

The Army is now giving enlistees 10 to 14 days leave to come home after the first eight weeks of basic training. Those enlisting in the near future will be able to be home during the Christmas and New Year Holidays.

Under the new reenlistment bonus bill recently passed by Congress, men reenlisting in the regular Army within 90 days from date of discharge may draw a bonus up to $1200.00, depending upon their grade held at discharge.

For full information on the above items, Sgt. Smith may be contacted at the U. S. Army Station, now located in the Hope City Hall.

Amendment 43, Is Change in Assessment Method or 'Full Value' Plan, Up to the Voters

(This is the first of a series of measures which will be on the general election ballot.

LITTLE ROCK — (AP) How are you going to find out what 20 per cent of anything is without knowing the value of the thing itself?

That simple question might well serve as the central idea behind the so called "100 per cent" or "full value" proposed constitutional amendment which will be voted on at the general election a week from today.

Nobody now gives the proposal formally proposed constitutional amendment No. 43 — a ghost of a chance of adoption. Gov. Francis Chery, the man most closely identified with it in the public mind, has been defeated for a second term nomination. Nobody has raised a voice in its behalf but plenty of opposition voices have been heard. Nevertheless, it will be on the ballot — the 1953 Legislature put it there and there's no way to take it off.

The proposal, as everyone knows, is concerned with the assessment of real estate and personal property for tax purposes.

At present a person is supposed to list all his taxable real and personal property with the county assessor at 20 per cent of its actual value.

The 20 per cent figure is not fixed by statute. The law says the Public Service Commission shall set the percentage of value for assessment puproses. Twenty per cent is the ratio currently in use.

Eventually the taxpayer will get a tax bill based on his assessment. The total, besides fixed road and poll taxes, will represent so much to the county, so much to the school district and so much to the municipality im he believes in an in corporated area. All charges will be based on millage that is so many mills for each dollar of valuation as represented by the taxpayer's assessment, the rate depending on where he lives.

Everybody pretty generally agrees that a true 20 per cent valuation is as rare as — well, as rare as a 50 per cent one was when that rate was in effect.

In actual practice a citizen can assess just about what he wants to at what valuaton he wants to Assessment has been called, not inaptly, a "voluntary pledge."

Some citizens undoubtedly pay more than their fair share of property taxes, other pay less and still others perhaps pay none at all.

A committee appointed by Gov. Cherry to study the admitteoly inequitable situation recommended that assessment be at "market value" the "100 per cent" or "full" designation is not used. This suggestion and others were embodied in the proposed constitutional amendment.

A state Board of Equalization would be set up to supervise work of the elected county tax assessors and see that all property was listed on the tax books.

Until the state board had certified that property in a specific county was equalized at market value assessment procedures would continue as at present.

After the certification had been

Sheppard Case Has Already Cost $19,000

CLEVELAND (AP) The Sheppard murder case already has cost more than $19,000, not including the fees of Chief Defense Counsel William J Corrigan.

Corrigan said yesterday the family of Dr. Samuel H. Sheppard has paid about $4,000 for court reporters, special stenographer and other expenses.

Not included is the $1,000 paid for bail bond and fees to be paid for a private investigator and other attorneys,

Frank T. Cullitan, Cuyahoga County prosecutor, said expenses incurred by his office total about $1,500, including those of state witnesses and for trips by investigators and lawyers.

Still to be added are court costs such as jurors ($5 daily), witnesses ($3 daily and transcripts.

The biggest single bill was the one for $13,200 which Cleveland police handed suburban Ray Village for handling a large part of the investigation leading to the indictment of the osteopath,

Mr. McCarthy Says Two Were Prejudiced

By G. MILTON KELLY

WASHINGTON (AP)— Sen. McCarty (R-Wis.) today hurled a "prejudice" charge at Sen. Watkins (R-Utah and two other members of a special six-man committe which has recommended that McCarthy be censured for certain of his actions as a senator.

This was the first time McCarthy has leveled a bias accusation directly at members of the censure committee, although he has indicated he felt Chairman Watkins and Senators Edwin C. Johnson (D-Colo and Ervin (DNC) were against him. In his charge today, he mentioned only Watkins by name.

Watkins could not be reached immediately for comment.

Russian Talks After Germany Settled, Dulles

By MERRIMAN SMITH

WASHINGTON (UP) — Secretary of State John Foster Dulles made it clear to the world today that the United States may agree to new cold war talks with Russia after the new agreements on German rearmament have been ratified.

In an unprecedented televised meeting of the President's cabinet, Dulles said "there may be a new basis for discussion" with the Communists "when we create, as we hope we will, a position of solidity and strength for Western Europe."

"At least we can hope," he added, "that then there can be talks more satisfactory than those that exist when the only object of the Soviet Union, is, by trick or device, to try and break up the European unity."

The extraordinary cabinet meeting was called last night to dramatize the Paris agreement for enlisting West Germany in the European Defense System. With the congressional elections only a week away, Republican leaders hoped it would help win votes for the GOP.

For the first time in history, Americans across the nation were invited via television to pull up a chair at a business session in the green-carpeted cabinet room at the White House.

As soon as his top advisers had assembled around the coffin-shaped mahogany table shortly after 7 p. m., President Eisenhower briskly called the meeting to order and introduced Dulles.

Dulles, waving a pencil for emphasis and referring occasionally to notes, carefully traced the free world's uphill struffle to build a strong defense system in Europe. The agreement finally reached at Paris, he said, was an achievement that "history will not soon forget."

India Calls for Halt to Arms Making

By TOM HOGE

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (AP) — The long U. N. arms debate neared a close today with a call by India for a halt on weapons production until a worldwide disarmament pact can oe reached.

India's V. K. Krishna Menon, last speaker listed in the debate sought the floor in the 60-nation Political Committee to present his appeal for a standstill agreement.

The Indian resolution called on the U. N. Disarmament Commission to study ways of setting up an "armament truce" pending agreement on a disarmament convention. Menon previously urged a halt in the production of atomic bombs until measures could be set up to eliminate them, but nothing ever came of it.

The resolution circulated among delegates last night also called on the General Assembly to recess in December instead of adjourning — so it could reconvene quickly if the Disarmament Commission issued a report requiring immediate action.

American to Recuperate in Poland

By ROB-RT BRANSON

VIENNA, Austria, (UP) — Hermann Field, the Ohio architect released yesterday from a jail in Communist Poland, today advised his wife in London that he must recuperate in Poland "for a short while" before returning home.

Reports reaching Vienna from reliable sources said the contact with Field was made "after midnight and outside the American embassy."

But beyond that there was no word on the whereabouts of Field one of four members of the Field family who were swallowed up one by one behind the Iron Curtain in 1949 and 1950.

The fate of the other three missing members of the family still is shrouded in mystery and Communist silence.

"There was no explanation of why officials of the Warsaw embassy met Field "outside the embassy."

epublicans o Start Big ampaign Push

By JOHN L. CUTTER

WASHINGTON, (UP) Republicans yanked the stops from their congressional campaign today in what appeared to be their "big push" to hang onto control of Congress in the crucial Nov. 2 election.

These were straws in the political winds that seemed to pint up a new phase in GOP strategy: President Eisenhower, in whose popularity many Republicans think lies the key to an election victory, took off for Connecticut and New York on a two-day speaking tour that carried him into the strategic east for the first time in the campaign.

Vice President Richard M. Nixon announced he was peeling off his gloves and then proceeded to hammer former Prresident Truman in a slugging attack.

GOP National Chairman Leonard W. Hall termed the Democratic party and "instrument for the left wing crowd."

Sen. Irving M. Ives, Republican gubernatorial candidate in key New York, hurled a sensational bribery charge at his Democratic foe, Averell Harriman.

The Democrats met the stepped up Republican drive with hard-hitting campaigning by the party's "old pros."

Rep. Sam Rayburn (Tex.), house Democratic leader, took the stump at Decatur, Ill., while his Senate counterpart, Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson (Tex.), was scheduled to speak at Las Vegas, Nev. Sens. John L. McClellan (Ark), John J. Sparkman (Ala.) and Albert Gore (Tenn.) scheduled appearances in Ohio, Pennsylvania and Oregon, respectively.

Although Mr. Eisenhower's tour was labelpd officially as "non-political," GOP strategists privately counted on it giving their candidates a boost. Mr. Eisenhower will [illegible] Gov. John Davis Lodge of Connecticut who is up for reelection, and former Rep. Clifford M. Case, GOP senatorial candidate in New Jersey.

Nixon announced his change of campaign tactics in a speech last night at Philadelphia. He said that never again should Mr. Truman or any of his Democratic "apologists" be "entrusted with the task of protecting America's security from the termites who are constantly gnawing at us from within."

The Vice President, who jumped off today on a new nine-state campaign swing, also attacked Adlai E. Stevenson, 1952 Democratic presidential candidate, and other spokesmen of the ADA left-wing of the Democratic party.

Hall labeled the Democratic party as left wing in a special [illegible] at Indianapolis. His office here released a statement saying Mr. Eisenhower scored a 53 percent better batting average than did former President Truman in his relations with congress.

The statement cited a report by the Congressional Quarterly, a news service organization, which Hall said showed that from 1947 to 1952 Mr. Truman got 49.2 percent of his legislative proposals through Congress. Mr. Eisenhower's average in the past two years, Hall said was 65.9 per cent.

Ives' charge that Harriman headed a firm that paid a $250,000 bribe to a Brooklyn judge in the 1920's touched off a political storm. Harriman angrily "completely and categorically" denied any knowledge of any such bribe and accused Ives of a "baseless attack on my personal honor and integrity."

Meanwhile, Ross Rizley, assistant secretary of Agriculture and a former Republican House member, challenged a statement by Sen. Estes Kefauver (DTenn.) that the farmer has suffered under the Eisenhower administration.

Rizley, in a statement released by the GOP national committee, said the administration has t opped "the sharp decline in farm prices that started in the last two years of the Truman administration."

ST. LOUIS, (AP) Department store sales in the Eighth Federal Reserve District last week showed a [illegible] per cent gain over the corresponding week of 1953.

The Federal Reserve Bank of St. Louis attributed the increase to somewhat cooler weather and a difference in timing of seasonal promotions.

The Memphis, Tenn., area showed the largest gain, with 17 per cent. Sales were up 13 per cent in Little Rock Ark., 5 per cent in St. Louis, 3 per cent in the smaller district cities combined and 1 per cent in Louisville.

The district volume in the past [illegible] weeks was 1 per cent greater than in the same 1953 period. The losses reported were in the smaller cities.

Madness In The Spring

By ELINORE DENNISTON

I

It was morning. Taxis swished through Central Park South, their windshield wipers moving like meteorological pendulums beating time for the rain. Water dripped down the nose of the statue in front of the Plaza and on William Shakespeare, standing on his ballet dancer legs in the Mall in Central Park.

Farther inside the park something momentous was happening. Anyone braving the wind and the rain would have seen the earth crack. And through the crack there emerged the first yellow crocus. It was spring.

Some five blocks to the east, on the right side of the city but the wrong part of the right side, a bel shrilled in the apartment and Greg awakened frowning, resentful at being wrested from his dream. The silent guardian inside his mind, which made him look up from his newspaper at the right subway station and aroused him a few seconds before the alarm went off on week days, reminded him that it was Sunday morning and there was no need to hurry. But Greg was hounded by a relentless conscience that stalked him like an FBI man pursuing a criminal. From morning to night it prodded at him, sneered at his accomplishments, questioned his motives, believed the worst of him.

As his sleepy lids half closed, his conscience shook him firmly by the shoulder, reminding him that after all, he had not checked on the time. He might be sleeping away half the morning and, as his stepfather had pointed out for the past dozen years, there was nothing more demoralizing for a healthy young man than Loafing In Bed. The Energetic Man Went Up-Up-Up. The Apathetic Man Went Down-Down-Down. Greg's stepfather might not express himself in headlines but he always talked in capitals!

Greg dutifully reached for his watch, holding it close to his eyes because the room was dusky. Twenty minutes of 9.

The bell rang again and Greg swung his feet off the studio couch and into his slippers, groping for his robe. While he punched the button in the kitchenette that released the bell in the downstairs hall, he ran his fingers through his hair and tied the robe around him. March 30. It was his birthday. Perhaps his mother had remembered. After all, she remembered quite often. And once she had even come to the apartment to see what sort of "atmosphere" he preferred to his stepfather's house in Montclair.

Gregg went back to the living room and took a quick inventory, regretting that it was too late to make up the studio couch. He make an effort to see the place as it looked to his mother, although he knew from her silence on that visit that she resented the shabbiness, the secondhand furniture, the Venetian blinds that shut out the sight but not the sound of the Third Avenue Elevated. It reminded her of the old days, before she had become Mrs. Horace Crain when she had been Millcent Seaver, married to Greg's father.

Compared with the 20-room Queen Anne house in Montclair, it was nothing to boast of, but he liked it because he had found it himself, bought his own furniture, paid his own way.

Feet climbed the fifth flight of stairs at the plodding gait people always reached at that altitude, and someone knocked heavily. Greg opened the door. A panting messenger grunted, "Some climb! Are you Seaver" At Greg's nod he thrust into his arms a basket covered with cellophane and tied with a mammoth bow of red satin ribbon. "Watch it, Bud. The thing weighs a ton." He leered. "She must like you."

Greg, clutching the ornate basket with both hands, nudged over the sill the bulky Sunday paper that lay outside his door. He eased the basket onto the coffee table. Through the cellophane he could see the labels on the bottles: [illegible] champagne, Imperial Tokay. An envelope was tucked under the broad satin ribbon.

"Happy birthday, dearest boy. You'll find a little booklet in the basket telling you the proper temperatures for serving the wines. Don't throw it out. Little items like these are important for a man to master. They tell people so much about his background. Mother."

Greg slipped the note back into its envelope and, after a nudge from his conscience, pulled ouut the booklet on wine and laid it on top of the newspaper beside his easy chair. He told himself loyally that it was a lavish gift; probably cost as much as he carned in a week. The fact that he did not like wine was not important. After all, his mother was trying to give her son some social polish.

While he waited the coffee to perk he took a shower and shaved, squinting at his face in the mirror. With a face like that, he reflected, one could commute on the same train, month in and month out, and be practicaly invisible. In fact, that had happened to him during the years when, to please his mother, he had lived at his stepfather's house in Montclair. Now and then, he was introduced to men who were familiar to him because they took the 8:11 in the morning. There was never any recognition in their faces.

"Gregory Seaver" they would say. "Oh, Horace Crain's stepson."

No one ever needed to ask who Horace Crain was. Crain's Canned Cornbread was served up on the billboards of the nation as a tasty substitute for the scenery they concealed. It was the subject of a singing commercial on the radio which ingeniously introduced the voice of a can opener. The man who thought of that was now high in his agency and generally regarded as being wellon the way to a dazzling future. Horace Crain was only waiting for an equally worthy vehicle to present his product to the television audience, having discovered what a nuisance it is to turn off a commercial on the screen.

In the company of his vigorous, dogmatic stepfather and his absurdly young and decorative mother, Greg felt like a mongrel, vaguely apologetic for getting in the way. He supposed he must be like his father, who had not fitted in anywhere either, and who had not, in Horace Crain's capitals, Made the Most of His Opportunities.

Greg was afraid of the future. In fact, Greg was afraid of a great many things. Life itself was a wary business of walking a tightrope, exxpecting at every moment to lose one's precarious balance. The only safety lay in following the rules, in doing what was expected.

He set the basket of wine bottles on the floor to make room for his breakfast tray and reached for the first section of the Sunday paper. The booklet on serving wines tumbled into his lap. For a moment Greg flicked the pages; then he made the first rebellious gesture of his life. He tore the booklet in two.

"I don't like wine," he said aloud, defying his lurking conscience.

Bear Bryant Getting Team 'Up' for Porks

COLLEGE STATION, Tex. (AP) Texas A&M Coach Pau Bryant said today he was officially "taking over" the football team, was glad to have it and had faith that the boys would beat somebody.

It was a little on the facetious side, since Bryant obviously was taking a poke at those who ride only with the winners. But Arkansas might note and get the idea it could run into a peck of trouble Saturday night when the night-flying Razorbacks, leading the Southwest Conference race, play the Aggies on their home field.

Bryant observed that nobody else wanted the team so he would take it.

"It's always 'our' team when we're winning and going good, but nobody has asked me how 'our' team is doing. It's always 'How's your team going' this season" said the man whos in his first losing season of a 10-year coaching career. He always finished ahead in nine years at Maryland and Kentucky.

A&M has won only one out of six. At Kentucky, in 1951 his team had an 8-4 record and those four losses were the previous high for a Bryant-coached squad. But that outfit pretty well redeemed itself by beating Texas Christian in the Cotton Bowl.

The lone Aggie victory was over Georgia, and Georgia right now leads the Southeastern Conference race. So Arkansas leads the Southwest Conference. . . h-m-m.

"I still have confidence in these Aggies," growled Bryant. "They have plenty of determination, guts and character and I still think they'll beat somebody."

But in "taking over" the team, Bryant said he would not tolerate "giving up on the part of his varsity and issued this note of warning:

"It's past history that about this time of year some folks players begin to give up. If anyone on my teams shows signs of giving up the rest of this season they'll be disassociated with this outfit."

Lower Prices for Food Drops Cost of Living

WASHINGTON (UP) A drop in food prices lowered the nation's cost of living by three-tenths of one percent from mid-August to mid-September, the government reported today.

The bureau of labor statistics said it was the sharpest monthly drop since last November for both food prices and the overall cost of living. Food prices declined 1.3 percent during the month.

In a statement accompanying the price report, Secretary of Labor James P. Mitchell said the average American factory worker in September "could buy more goods and services with his take-home pay than in the same month of any previous post-war year."

He said the average factory worker earned $71.86 a week in September, an all time high for that month. His take-home pay, assuming three dependents to be counted as tax exemptions averaged $66.78, also a record-high for September.

Mitchell said the average worker with three dependents was able to buy two percent more goods and services and the single worker four percent more in mid-sentember than two years earlier rearmment boom was still under way.

"The rise in wage rates in the past year has offset the drop in the length of the work week," he said.

". . .In addition, the stability of consumer prices has made for confidence, a major ingredient of a strong and growing economy."

Woman Must Serve on Jury Despite Plea

By WILLIAM NEWKIRK

CLEVELAND (AP) A woman who burst into tears and pleaded to be excused was seated anyway today as a juror at the murder trial of Dr. Samuel H. Sheppard.

Answering questions from defense counsel Fred Garmone with seeming poise, Mrs. Genevieve A. Pelsay suddenly looked fixedly at the handsome osteopath for the first time.

Then the blond biscuit company employee lowered her head and, with tears brimming in her eyes, fumbled in her pocketbook for a handkerchief

"I would like to be excused," she said, her voice choking. "I would not like to be on this case."

Her sudden outburst followed this question:

"Is there any doubt in your mind that Sam Sheppard as he sits here in this courtroom is presumed to be innocent?"

She shifted her eyes from the ceiling to Sheppard, the the tears started to flow.

Mrs. Pelsay was a replacement for Gerald L. Liederbach, a mailman who delivered letters to the door of Defense Atty. Garmone. The state, using its second peremptory challenge, thumbed Liederbach out of the jury box.

Italy Formally Takes Over Trieste

By WEBB McKINLEY

TRIESTE (AP) Italy took over Trieste today in a rain-drenched but fervent celebration marking the end of nine years of British-American control over this long-disputed Adriatic city.

A bitter wind and slanting rain washed out a series of ceremonies scheduled for the formal change of command.

But a cheering throng of Trieste citizens broke through police barriers when Italian army, navy and air force units marched into the city for the first time since World War II.

Thousands pressed onto the waterfront to hail a five-ship Italian naval squadron as it steamed into the harbor. Their cheers nearly drowned out the roar of 24 Italian air force jets which swept across the city's grey skies.

The formal end of the Allied Military Government came at 10 a. m., with a proclamation signed by British Maj. Gen. Sir John Winterton, Allied military governor of th Trieste territory's Zone A. The proclamation was read over Trieste Radio.

It was the first day since May 8, 1945, that Allied soldiers had not been in the city in strength.

At noon, the red, white and green Italian national colors rose over Unity Square, the heart of the city. Five minutes later, Maj. Gen. Edmondo de Renzi, the new Italian military governor, issued an emotional greeting to the city's inhabitants on their return to Italy.

The American troopship W. G. Haan pulled out shortly afterwards with about 1,700 U. S. troops aboard. The people momentarily dropped their greetings to the Italians. With cheers, waving flags and honking of horns along the waterfront they bade farewell to the Americans.

Big City No Different From Smaller One, Every Group Has Favorite Meeting Place

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP) — Every occupation or hobby group in Manhattan has its favorite meeting places.

The college crowd holds re-unions "under the clock" in the Biltmore Hotel lobby. Actors hang out at the Algonquin, Ralph's an Sardi's.

Outdoor checker players cluster in Washington Square, horseshoe pitchers in Central Park, musicians and pickpockets in Time Square, dog walkers on Park Avenue, professional bums on the Bowery, Army men at the Astor, airmen at the Hotel Lexington, and politicians at the men's bar of the Waldorf.

Clergymen have a rendezvous place, too. They often meet at "Duffy's Tavern" as many refer to it—across the street from the New York Public Library's famous twin lions at 41st street and Fifth Avenue.

The "tavern" is the clerical department of Rogers Peet Co., a clothing firm. The department has been run for 30 years by Frank Duffy, who probably knows more clergymen than any other man in America. He travels 40,000 miles annually and outfits some 10,000 priests, ministers and rabbis.

"We've taken care of ministers from every corner of the world," said Duffy. Challenged as to whether he could outfit a Buddhist priest properly, he said:

"Certainly, although I don't know what would happen if he went out without trousers and tried to convice the nearest cop he was a priest."

Duffy said clergymen were relatively easy to please because they

Better Picture in Employment Painted by Ike

By RICHARD E. MOONEY

WASHINGTON (UP President Eisenhower last night announced a 400,000-man drop in unemployment and predicted a record-shattering jump in national production in the next 10 years.

He revealed new government figures showing that the number of jobless fell to 2,700,000 this month 400,000 below September and the first time this year that the total has been less than 3,000,000

He also declared he expects America's total annual output to climb 40 per cent "in less than a decade" to a record $500,000,000,000. Evenly distributed he said this would theoretically amount to an extra $3,000 "for every American family of today."

Mr. Eisenhoer spoke out in a week before the crucial congressional elections. The speech was labeled "non-political" but it amounted to a slashing counter-attack against Democratic claims of economic dangers and charges that the administration has failed to come with them.

"I believe that it is high time in this great, growing productive land of ours," the President said, "to put behind us the rash fears that for so long have haunted some among us fear of war, fear of unemployment, fear of ourselves, fear of the future. Certainly, we know now that one such fear, the fear of a ralyzing depression, can be safely laid away."

After 20 years of war somewhere in the world, he said the nation can look forward to peace and an "exciting" growth in the economy that will bring "a steady rise in the living standards of all of our people." To spur the progress, he urged a seven-point program calling for such things as eventual tax cuts, expanded trade, and more highway building.

Mr. Eisenhower conceded that "some unemployment" mars the economy this year, "our most prosperous peacetime year in history." But he said the number of jobless has been steadily declining and that the outlook is good.

12 Branches Open to New Enlistments

M-Sgt. Herman W. Smith of the local U. S. Army Recruiting Station in the Hope City Hall has announced that the Army is now offering twelve different branches of service to men enlisting or reenlisting.

These branches include the Military Police Corps, Ordinance Corps Airborne, Corps of Engineers, Signal Corps, Medical Corps and many others. Men choosing these branches are assured of going to the one of their choice upon completion of their basic training. There are also 87 different army technical schools open at the present time.

The Army is now giving enlistees 10 to 14 days leave to come home after the first eight weeks of basic training. Those enlisting in the near future will be able to be home during the Christmas and New Year Holidays.

Under the new reenlistment bonus bill recently passed by Congress, men reenlisting in the regular Army within 90 days from date of discharge may draw a bonus up to $1200.00, depending upon their grade held at discharge.

For full information on the above items, Sgt. Smith may be contacted at the U. S. Army Station, now located in the Hope City Hall.

Amendment 43, Is Change in Assessment Method or 'Full Value' Plan, Up to the Voters

(This is the first of a series of measures which will be on the general election ballot.

LITTLE ROCK — (AP) How are you going to find out what 20 per cent of anything is without knowing the value of the thing itself?

That simple question might well serve as the central idea behind the so called "100 per cent" or "full value" proposed constitutional amendment which will be voted on at the general election a week from today.

Nobody now gives the proposal formally proposed constitutional amendment No. 43 — a ghost of a chance of adoption. Gov. Francis Chery, the man most closely identified with it in the public mind, has been defeated for a second term nomination. Nobody has raised a voice in its behalf but plenty of opposition voices have been heard. Nevertheless, it will be on the ballot the 1953 Legislature put it there and there's no way to take it off.

The proposal, as everyone knows, is concerned with the assessment of real estate and personal property for tax purposes.

At present a person is supposed to list all his taxable real and personal property with the county assessor at 20 per cent of its actual value.

The 20 per cent figure is not fixed by statute. The law says the Public Service Commission shall set the percentage of value for assessment puproses. Twenty per cent is the ratio currently in use.

Eventually the taxpayer will get a tax bill based on his assessment. The total, besides fixed road and poll taxes, will represent so much to the county, so much to the school district and so much to the municipality im he believes in an incorporated area. All charges will be based on millage that is so many mills for each dollar of valuation as represented by the taxpayer's assessment, the rate depending on where he lives.

Everybody pretty generally agrees that a true 20 per cent valuation is as rare as — well, as rare as a 50 per cent one was when that rate was in effect.

In actual practice a citizen can assess just about what he wants to at what valuaton he wants to Assessment has been called, not inaptly, a "voluntary pledge."

Some citizens undoubtedly pay more than their fair share of property taxes, other pay less and still others perhaps pay none at all.

A committee appointed by Gov. Cherry to study the admitteoly inequitable situation recommended that assessment be at "market value" the "100 per cent" or "full" designation is nct used. This suggestion and others were embodied in the proposed constitutional amendment.

A state Board of Equalization would be set up to supervise work of the elected county tax assessors and see that all property was listed on the tax books.

Until the state board had certified that property in a specific county was equalized at market value assessment procedures would continue as at present.

After the certification had been

Sheppard Case Has Already Cost $19,000

CLEVELAND (AP) The Sheppard murder case already has cost more than $19,000, not including the fees of Chief Defense Counsel William J Corrigan.

Corrigan said yesterday the family of Dr. Samuel H. Sheppard has paid about $4,000 for court reporters, special stenographer and other expenses.

Not included is the $1,000 paid for bail bond and fees to be paid for a private investigator and other attorneys.

Frank T. Cullitan, Cuyahoga County prosecutor, said expenses incurred by his office total about $1,500, including those of state witnesses and for trips by investigators and lawyers.

Still to be added are court costs such as jurors ($5 daily), witnesses ($3 daily and transcripts.

The biggest single bill was the one for $13,200 which Cleveland police handed suburban Ray Village for handling a large part of the investigation leading to the indictment of the osteopath.

Mr. McCarthy Says Two Were Prejudiced

By G. MILTON KELLY

WASHINGTON (AP)— Sen. McCarty (R-Wis.) today hurled a "prejudice" charge at Sen. Watkins (R-Utah and two other members of a special six-man committe which has recommended that McCarthy be censured for certain of his actions as a senator.

This was the first time McCarthy has leveled a bias accusation directly at members of the censure committee, although he has indicated he felt Chairman Watkins and Senators Edwin C. Johnson (D-Colo and Ervin (DNC) were against him. In his charge today, he mentioned only Watkins by name.

Watkins could not be reached immediately for comment.

Russian Talks After Germany Settled, Dulles

By MERRIMAN SMITH

WASHINGTON (UP) — Secretary of State John Foster Dulles made it clear to the world today that the United States may agree to new cold war talks with Russia after the new agreements on German rearmament have been ratified.

In an unprecedented televised meeting of the President's cabinet, Dulles said "there may be a new basis for discussion" with the Communists "when we create, as we hope we will, a position of solidity and strength for Western Europe."

"At least we can hope," he added, "that then there can be talks more satisfactory than those that exist when the only object of the Soviet Union, is, by trick or device, to try and break up the European unity."

The extraordinary cabinet meeting was called last night to dramatize the Paris agreement for enlisting West Germany in the European Defense System. With the congressional elections only a week away, Republican leaders hoped it would help win votes for the GOP.

For the first time in history, Americans across the nation were invited via television to pull up a chair at a business session in the green-carpeted cabinet room at the White House.

As soon as his top advisers had assembled around the coffin-shaped mahogany table shortly after 7 p. m., President Eisenhower briskly called the meeting to order and introduced Dulles.

Dulles, waving a pencil for emphasis and referring occasionally to notes, carefully traced the free world's uphill struggle to build a strong defense system in Europe. The agreement finally reached at Paris, he said, was an achievement that "history will not soon forget."

India Calls for Halt to Arms Making

By TOM HOGE

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (AP) — The long U. N. arms debate neared a close today with a call by India for a halt on weapons production until a worldwide disarmament pact can oe reached.

India's V. K. Krishna Menon, last speaker listed in the debate sought the floor in the 60-nation Political Committee to present his appeal for a standstill agreement.

The Indian resolution called on the U. N. Disarmament Commission to study ways of setting up an "armament truce" pending agreement on a disarmament convention. Menon previously urged a halt in the production of atomic bombs until measures could be set up to eliminate them, but nothing ever came of it.

The resolution circulated among delegates last night also called on the General Assembly to recess in December instead of adjourning — so it could reconvene quickly if the Disarmament Commission issued a report requiring immediate action.

American to Recuperate in Poland

By ROBERT BRANSON

VIENNA, Austria, (UP) — Hermann Field, the Ohio architect released yesterday from a jail in Communist Poland, today advised his wife, in London that he must recuperate in Poland "for a short while" before returning home.

Reports reaching Vienna from reliable sources said the contact with Field was made "after midnight and outside the American embassy."

But beyond that there was no word on the whereabouts of Field one of four members of the Field family who were swallowed up one by one behind the Iron Curtain in 1949 and 1950.

The fate of the other three missing members of the family still is shrouded in mystery and Communist silence.

"There was no explanation of why officials of the Warsaw embassy met Field "outside the embassy."

The Weather Bureau forecast cooler weather for tonight with the thermometer expected to dip into the 40's in northwest Arkansas. Minimums in the 50's have been forecast for other areas of the state.

Tomorrow, Faubus will make a speech, described as non-political, before a fraternal meeting at Fort Smith. Tomorrow night he will speak before the Carroll County Republicans for Faubus Committee at Eureka Springs.

Republicans to Start Big Campaign Push

By JOHN L. CUTTER

WASHINGTON, (UP) Republicans yanked the stops from their congressional campaign today in what appeared to be their "big push" to hang onto control of Congress in the crucial Nov. 2 elections.

These were straws in the political winds that seemed to pint up a new phase in GOP strategy:

President Eisenhower, in whose popularity many Republicans think lies the key to an election victory, took off for Connecticut and New York on a two-day speaking tour that carried him into the strategic east for the first time in the campaign.

Vice President Richard M. Nixon announced he was peeling off his gloves and then proceeded to hammer former Prrsident Truman in a slinging attack.

GOP National Chairman Leonard W. Hall termed the Democratic party and "instrument for the left wing crowd."

Sen. Irving M. Ives, Republican gubernatorial candidate in key New York, hurled a sensational bribery charge at his Democratic foe, Averell Harriman.

The Democrats met the stepped up Republican drive with hard-hitting campaigning by the party's "old pros."

Rep. Sam Rayburn (Tex.), house Democratic leader, took the stump at Decatur, Ill., while his Senate counterpart, Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson (Tex.), was scheduled to speak at Las Vegas, Nev. Sens. John L. McClellan (Ark), John J. Sparkman (Ala), and Albert Gore (Tenn.) scheduled appearances in Ohio, Pennsylvania and Oregon, respectively.

Although Mr. Eisenhower's tour was labeled officially as "non-political," GOP strategists privately counted on it giving their candidates a boost. Mr. Eisenhower will see Gov. John Davis Lodge of Connecticut who is up for reelection, today and former Rep. Clifford M. Case, GOP senatorial candidate in New Jersey.

Nixon announced his change of campaign tactics in a speech last night at Philadelphia. He said that never again should Mr. Truman or any of his Democratic "apologists" be "entrusted with the task of protecting America's security from the termites who are constantly gnawing at us from within."

The Vice President, who jumped off today on a new nine-state campaign swing, also attacked Adlai E. Stevenson, 1952 Democratic presidential candidate, and other spokesmen of the ADA left-wing of the Democratic party.

Hall labeled the Democratic party as left wing in a special [illegible] Indianapolis. His office here released a statement saying Mr. Eisenhower scored a 53 percent better batting average than did former President Truman in his relations with congress.

The statement cited a report by the Congressional Quarterly, a news service organization, which Hall said showed that from 1947 to 1952 Mr. Truman got 49.2 percent of his legislative proposals through Congress. Mr. Eisenhower's average in the past two years Hall said was 65.9 per cent.

Ives' charge that Harriman headed a firm that paid a $250,000 bribe to a Brooklyn judge in the 1920's touched off a political storm. Harriman angrily "completely and categorically" denied any knowledge of any such bribe and accused Ives of a "baseless attack on my personal honor and integrity."

Meanwhile, Ross Rizley, assistant secretary of Agriculture and a former Republican House member, challenged a statement by Sen. Estes Kefauver (DTenn.) that the farmer has suffered under the Eisenhower administration.

Rizley, in a statement released by the GOP national committee, said the administration has t opped "the sharp decline in farm prices that started in the last two years of the Truman administration."

Show 6% Gain Department Stores

ST. LOUIS, (AP) Department store sales in the Eighth Federal Reserve District last week showed a 6 per cent gain over the corresponding week of 1953.

The Federal Reserve Bank of St. Louis attributed the increase to somewhat cooler weather and a difference in timing of seasonal promotions.

Madness In The Spring

By Elinore Denniston

Copyright 1954 by Elinore Denniston. Distributed by NEA Service, Inc.

By ELINORE DENNISTON

It was morning. Taxis swished through Central Park South, their windshield wipers moving like meteorological pendulums beating time for the rain. Water dripped down the nose of the statue in front of the Plaza and on William Shakespeare, standing on his ballet dancer legs in the Mall in Central Park.

Farther inside the park something momentous was happening. Anyone braving the wind and the rain would have seen the earth crack. And through the crack there emerged the first yellow crocus. It was spring.

Some five blocks to the east, on the right side of the city but the wrong part of the right side, a bel shrilled in the apartment and Greg awakened frowning, resentful at being wrested from his dream. The silent guardian inside his mind, which made him look up from his newspaper at the right subway station and aroused him a few seconds before the alarm went off on week days, reminded him that it was Sunday morning and there was no need to hurry. But Greg was hounded by a relentless conscience that stalked him like an FBI man pursuing a criminal. From morning to night it prodded at him, sneered at his accomplishments, questioned his motives, believed the worst of him.

As his sleepy lids half closed, his conscience shook him firmly by the shoulder, reminding him that after all, he had not checked on the time. He might be sleeping away half the morning and, as his stepfather had pointed out for the past dozen years, there was nothing more demoralizing for a healthy young man than Loafing In Bed. The Energetic Man Went Up-Up-Up. The Apathetic Man Went Down-Down-Down. Greg's stepfather might not express himself in headlines but he always talked in capitals.

Greg dutifully reached for his watch, holding it close to his eyes because the room was dusky. Twenty minutes of 9.

The bell rang again and Greg swung his feet off the studio couch and into his slippers, groping for his robe. While he punched the button in the kitchenette that released the bell in the downstairs hall, he ran his fingers through his hair and tied the robe around him. March 30. It was his birthday. Perhaps his mother had remembered. After all, she remembered quite often. And once she had even come to the apartment to see what sort of "atmosphere" he preferred to his stepfather's house in Montclair.

Gregg went back to the living room and took a quick inventory, regretting that it was too late to make up the studio couch. He make an effort to see the place as it looked to his mother, although he knew from her silence on that visit that she resented the shabbiness, the secondhand furniture, the Venetian blinds that shut out the sight but not the sound of the Third Avenue Elevated. It reminded her of the old days, before she had become Mrs. Horace Crain when she had been Millicent Seaver, married to Greg's father.

Compared with the 20-room Queen Anne house in Montclair, it was nothing to boast of, but he liked it because he had found it himself, bought his own furniture, paid his own way.

Feet climbed the fifth flight of stairs at the plodding gait people always reached at that altitude, and someone knocked heavily. Greg opened the door. A panting messenger grunted, "Some climb! Are you Seaver" At Greg's nod he thrust into his arms a basket covered with cellophane and tied with a mammoth bow of red satin ribbon. "Watch it, Bud. The thing weighs a ton." He leered. "She must like you."

Greg, clutching the ornate basket with both hands, nudged over the sill the bulky Sunday paper that lay outside his door. He eased the basket onto the coffee table. Through the cellophane he could see the labels on the bottles: [illegible] champagne, Imperial Tokay. An envelope was tucked under the broad satin ribbon.

"Happy birthday, dearest boy. You'll find a little booklet in the basket telling you the proper temperatures for serving the wines. Don't throw it out. Little items like these are important for a man to master. They tell people so much about his background. Mother."

Greg slipped the note back into its envelope and, after a nudge from his conscience, pulled ouut the booklet on wine and laid it on top of the newspaper beside his easy chair. He told himself loyally that it was a lavish gift; probably cost as much as he earned in a week. The fact that he did not like wine was not important. After all, his mother was trying to give her son some social polish.

While he waited the coffee to perk he took a shower and shaved, squinting at his face in the mirror. With a face like that, he reflected, one could commute on the same train, month in and month out, and be practicaly invisible. In fact, that had happened to him during the years when, to please his mother, he had lived at his stepfather's house in Montclair. Now and then, he was introduced to men who were familiar to him because they took the 8:11 in the morning. There was never any recognition in their faces.

"Gregory Seaver" they would say. "Oh, Horace Crain's stepson."

No one ever needed to ask who Horace Crain was. Crain's Canned Cornbread was served up on the billboards of the nation as a tasty substitute for the scenery they concealed. It was the subject of a singing commercial on the radio which ingeniously introduced the voice of a can opener. The man who thought of that was now high in his agency and generally regarded as being wellon the way to a dazzling future. Horace Crain was only waiting for an equally worthy vehicle to present his product to the television audience, having discovered what a nuisance it is to turn off a commercial on the screen.

In the company of his vigorous, dogmatic stepfather and his absurdly young and decorative mother, Greg felt like a mongrel, vaguely apologetic for getting in the way. He supposed he must be like his father, who had not fitted in anywhere either, and who had not, in Horace Crain's capitals, Made the Most of His Opportunities.

Greg was afraid of the future. In fact, Greg was afraid of a great many things. Life itself was a wary business of walking a tightrope, exxpecting at every moment to lose one's precarious balance. The only safety lay in following the rules, in doing what was expected.

He set the basket of wine bottles on the floor to make room for his breakfast tray and reached for the first section of the Sunday paper. The booklet on serving wines tumbled into his lap. For a moment Greg flicked the pages; then he made the first rebellious gesture of his life. He tore the booklet in two.

"I don't like wine," he said aloud, defying his lurking conscience.

Bear Bryant Getting Team 'Up' for Porks

COLLEGE STATION, Tex. (AP) Texas A&M Coach Pau Bryant said today he was officially "taking over" the football team, was glad to have it and had faith that the boys would beat somebody.

It was a little on the facetious side, since Bryant obviously was taking a poke at those who ride only with the winners. But Arkansas might note and get the idea it could run into a peck of trouble Saturday night when the night-flying Razorbacks, leading the Southwest Conference race, play the Aggies on their home field.

Bryant observed that nobody else wanted the team so he would take it.

"It's always 'our' team when we're winning and going good, but nobody has asked me how 'our' team is doing. It's always 'How's your team going' this season" said the man whos in his first losing season of a 10-year coaching career. He always finished ahead in nine years at Maryland and Kentucky.

A&M has won only one out of six. At Kentucky, in 1951 his team had an 8-4 record and those four losses were the previous high for a Bryant-coached squad. But that outfit pretty well redeemed itself by beating Texas Christian in the Cotton Bowl.

The lone Aggie victory was over Georgia, and Georgia right now leads the Southeastern Conference race. So Arkansas leads the Southwest Conference. . . h-m-m.

"I still have confidence in these Aggies," growled Bryant. "They have plenty of determination, guts and character and I still think they'll beat somebody."

But in "taking over" the team, Bryant said he would not tolerate "giving up on the part of his varsity and issued this note of warning:

"It's past history that about this time of year some folks players begin to give up. If anyone on my teams shows signs of giving up the rest of this season they'll be disassociated with this outfit."

MEMO TO ADVERTISERS

"Hardware is my Business"...

"To me the satisfaction of supplying people with quality merchandise and service is the outstanding reward of running a hardware store. There are high industry standards for the tools, appliances and supplies that I handle, and in selecting merchandise for my customers, I make sure that my stock meets these rigid requirements. To keep people reminded of my store and services and to announce new merchandise, I use newspaper advertising regularly. It's an effective way to send the news about my store to the people in this community."

All businessmen are aware of the standards of quality, weight and measure that are used in evaluating the merchandise which they buy and sell. It is also possible to buy newspaper advertising on the basis of definite standards, namely, the information in the reports of the Audit Bureau of Circulations.

The A.B.C. is a cooperative, nonprofit association of 3,575 publishers, advertisers and advertising agencies. Its purpose is to provide advertisers with audited information about the circulation of its publisher members.

At regular intervals the A.B.C., of which this newspaper is a member, sends an experienced circulation auditor to make a thorough inspection and audit of our circulation records. The FACTS thus established are published in an A.B.C. audit report which tells you: How much circulation we have; where it goes; how obtained; how much people pay for our paper; and other FACTS that you need in order to KNOW what you get for your advertising money.

Lower Prices for Food Drops Cost of Living

WASHINGTON (UP) A drop in food prices lowered the nation's cost of living by three-tenths of one percent from mid-August to mid-September, the government reported today.

The bureau of labor statistics said it was the sharpest monthly drop since last November for both food prices and the overall cost of living. Food prices declined 1.3 percent during the month.

In a statement accompanying the price report, Secretary of Labor James P. Mitchell said the average American factory worker in September "could buy more goods and services with his take-home pay than in the same month of any previous post-war year."

He said the average factory worker earned $71.86 a week in September, an all time high for that month. His take-home pay, assuming three dependents to be counted as tax exemptions averaged $66.78, also a record-high for September.

Mitchell said the average worker with three dependents was able to buy two percent more goods and services and the single worker four percent more in mid-sentember than two years earlier rearmment boom was still under way.

"The rise in wage rates in the past year has offset the drop in the length of the work week," he said.

". . .In addition, the stability of consumer prices has made for confidence, a major ingredient of a strong and growing economy."

Woman Must Serve on Jury Despite Plea

By WILLIAM NEWKIR K

CLEVELAND (AP) A woman who burst into tears and pleaded to be excused was seated anyway today as a juror at the murder trial of Dr. Samuel H. Sheppard.

Answering questions from defense counsel Fred Garmone with seeming poise, Mrs. Genevieve A. Pelsay suddenly looked fixedly at the handsome osteopath for the first time.

Then the blond biscuit company employee lowered her head and, with tears brimming in her eyes, fumbled in her pocketbook for a handkerchief

"I would like to be excused," she said, her voice choking. "I would not like to be on this case."

Her sudden outburst followed this question:

"Is there any doubt in your mind that Sam Sheppard as he sits here in this courtroom is presumed to be innocent?"

She shifted her eyes from the ceiling to Sheppard, the the tears started to flow.

Mrs. Pelsay was a replacement for Gerald L. Liederbach, a mailman who delivered letters to the door of Defense Atty. Garmone. The state, using its second peremptory challenge, thumbed Liederbach out of the jury box.

Error in Judges, Clerks List

The list of judges and clerks for the November 2nd. General Election, which was published in the Hope Star last Saturday, contained the name of "W. A. Spears" as one of the alternate judges in the Beard's Chapel Precinct. This was an error on the part of the typist who prepared the list for us. The name should be "Herbert Chambless," not "W. A. Spears," it was announced by J. A. Davis, Secretary, Hempstead County Election Commissioners.

Italy Formally Takes Over Trieste

By WEBB McKINLEY

TRIESTE (AP) Italy took over Trieste today in a rain-drenched but fervent celebration marking the end of nine years of British-American control over this long-disputed Adriatic city.

A bitter wind and slanting rain washed out a series of ceremonies scheduled for the formal change of command.

But a cheering throng of Trieste citizens broke through police barriers when Italian army, navy and air force units marched into the city for the first time since World War II.

Thousands pressed onto the waterfront to hail a five-ship Italian naval squadron as it steamed into the harbor. Their cheers nearly drowned out the roar of 24 Italian air force jets which swept across the city's grey skies.

The formal end of the Allied Military Government came at 10 a. m., with a proclamation signed by British Maj. Gen. Sir John Winterton, Allied military governor of th Trieste territory's Zone A. The proclamation was read over Trieste Radio.

It was the first day since May 8, 1945, that Allied soldiers had not been in the city in strength.

At noon, the red, white and green Italian national colors rose over Unity Square, the heart of the city. Five minutes later, Maj. Gen. Edmondo de Renzi, the new Italian military governor, issued an emotional greeting to the city's inhabitants on their return to Italy.

The American troopship W. G. Haan pulled out shortly afterwards with about 1,700 U. S. troops aboard. The people momentarily dropped their greetings to the Italians. With cheers, waving flags and honking of horns along the waterfront they bade farewell to the Americans.

Better Picture in Employment Painted by Ike

By RICHARD E. MOONEY

WASHINGTON (UP President Eisenhower last night announced a 400,000-man drop in unemployment and predicted a record-shatte ing jump in national production in the next 10 years.

He revealed new government figures showing that the number of jobless fell to 2,700,000 this month 400,000 below September and the first time this year that the total has been less than 3,000,.00

He also declared he expects America's total annual output to climb 40 per cent "in less than a decade" to a record $500,000,000,000. Evenly distributed he said this would theoretically amount to an extra $3,000 "for every American family of today."

Mr. Eisenhoer spoke out in a week before the crucial congressional elections. The speech was labeled "non-political" but if amounted to a clashing counter-attack against Democratic claims of economic dangers and charges that the administration has failed to come with them.

"I believe that it is high time in this great, growing productive land of ours," the President said, "to put behind us the rash fears that for so long have haunted some among us fear of war, fear of unemployment, fear of ourselves, fear of the future. Certainly, we know now that one such fear, the fear of a ralyzing depression, can be safely laid away."

After 20 years of war somewhere in the world, he said the nation can look forward to peace and an "exciting" growth in the economy that will bring "a steady rise in the living standards of all of our people." To spur the progress, he urged a seven-point program calling for such things as eventual tax cuts, expanded trade, and more highway building.

Mr. Eisenhower conceded that "some unemployment" mars the economy this year, "our most prosperous peacetime year in history." But he said the number of jobless has been steadily declining and that the outlook is good.

12 Branches Open to New Enlistments

M-Sgt. Herman W. Smith of the local U. S. Army Recruiting Station in the Hope City Hall has announced that the Army is now offering twelve different branches of service to men enlisting or reenlisting.

These branches include the Military Police Corps, Ordinance Corps, Signal Airborne, Corps of Engineers, Signal Corps, Medical Corps and many others. Men choosing these branches are assured of going to the one of their choice upon completion of their basic training. There are also 87 different army technical schools open at the present time.

The Army is now giving enlistees 10 to 14 days leave to come home after the first eight weeks of basic training. Those enlisting in the near future will be able to be home during the Christmas and New Year Holidays.

Under the new reenlistment bonus bill recently passed by Congress, men reenlisting in the regular Army within 90 days from date of discharge may draw a bonus up to $1200.00, depending upon their grade held at discharge.

For full information on the above items, Sgt. Smith may be contacted at the U. S. Army Station, now located in the Hope City Hall.

Big City No Different From Smaller One, Every Group Has Favorite Meeting Place

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP) — Every occupation or hobby group in Manhattan has its favorite meeting places.

The college crowd holds re-unions "under the clock" in the Biltmore Hotel lobby. Actors hang out at the Algonquin, Ralph's an Sardi's.

Outdoor checker players cluster in Washington Square, horseshoe pitchers in Central Park, musicians and pickpockets in Time Square, dog walkers on Park Avenue, professional bums on the Bowery, Army men at the Astor, airmen at the Hotel Lexington, and politicians at the men's bar of the Waldorf.

Clergymen have a rendezvous place, too. They often meet at "Duffy's Tavern" as many refer to it—across the street from the New York Public Library's famous twin lions at 41st street and Fifth Avenue.

The "tavern" is the clerical department of Rogers Peet Co., a clothing firm. The department has been run for 30 years by Frank Duffy, who probably knows more clergymen than any other man in America. He travels 40,000 miles annually and outfits some 10,000 priests, ministers and rabbis.

"We've taken care of ministers from every corner of the world," said Duffy. Challenged as to whether he could outfit a Buddhist priest properly, he said:

"Certainly, although I don't know what would happen if he went out without trousers and tried to convice the nearest cop he was a priest."

Duffy said clergymen were relatively easy to please because they

Amendment 43, Is Change in Assessment Method or 'Full Value' Plan, Up to the Voters

(This is the first of a series of measures which will be on the general election ballot.

LITTLE ROCK — (AP) How are you going to find out what 20 per cent of anything is without knowing the value of the thing itself?

That simple question might well serve as the central idea behind the so called "100 per cent" or "full value" proposed constitutional amendment which will be voted on at the general election a week from today.

Nobody now gives the proposal formally proposed constitutional amendment No. 43 — a ghost of a chance of adoption. Gov. Francis Chery, the man most closely identified with it in the public mind, has been defeated for a second term nomination. Nobody has raised a voice in its behalf but plenty of opposition voices have been heard. Nevertheless, it will be on the ballot — the 1953 Legislature put it there and there's no way to take it off.

The proposal, as everyone knows, is concerned with the assessment of real estate and personal property for tax purposes.

At present a person is supposed to list all his taxable real and personal property with the county assessor at 20 per cent of its actual value.

The 20 per cent figure is not fixed by statute. The law says the Public Service Commission shall set the percentage of value for assessment puproses. Twenty per cent is the ratio currently in use.

Eventually the taxpayer will get a tax bill based on his assessment. The total, besides fixed road and poll taxes, will represent so much to the county, so much to the school district and so much to the municipality im he believes in an in corporated area. All charges will be based on millage that is so many mills for each dollar of valuation as represented by the taxpayer's assessment, the rate depending on where he lives.

Everybody pretty generally agrees that a true 20 per cent valuation is as rare as — well, as rare as a 50 per cent one was when that rate was in effect.

In actual practice a citizen can assess just about what he wants to at what valuaton he wants to Assessment has been called, not inaptly, a "voluntary pledge."

Some citizens undoubtedly pay more than their fair share of property taxes, other pay less and still others perhaps pay none at all.

A committee appointed by Gov. Cherry to study the admittedly inequitable situation recommended that assessment be at "market value" the "100 per cent" or "full" designation is not used. This suggestion and others were embodied in the proposed constitutional amendment.

A state Board of Equalization would be set up to supervise work of the elected county tax assessors and see that all property was listed on the tax books.

Until the state board had certified that property in a specific county was equalized at market value assessment procedures would continue as at present.

After the certification had been

Sheppard Case Has Already Cost $19,000

CLEVELAND (AP) The Sheppard murder case already has cost more than $19,000, not including the fees of Chief Defense Counsel William J Corrigan.

Corrigan said yesterday the family of Dr. Samuel H. Sheppard has paid about $4,000 for court reporters, special stenographer and other expenses.

Not included is the $1,000 paid for bail bond and fees to be paid for a private investigator and other attorneys.

Frank T. Cullitan, Cuyahoga County prosecutor, said expenses incurred by his office total about $1,500, including those of state witnesses and for trips by investigators and lawyers.

Still to be added are court costs such as jurors ($5 daily), witnesses ($3 daily and transcripts.

The biggest single bill was the one for $13,200 which Cleveland police handed suburban Ray Village for handling a large part of the investigation leading to the indictment of the osteopath.

Mr. McCarthy Says Two Were Prejudiced

By G. MILTON KELLY

WASHINGTON (AP)— Sen. McCarty (R-Wis.) today hurled a "prejudice" charge at Sen. Watkins (R-Utah and two other members of a special six-man committe which has recommended that McCarthy be censured for certain of his actions as a senator.

This was the first time McCarthy has leveled a bias accusation directly at members of the censure committee, although he has indicated he felt Chairman Watkins and Senators Edwin C. Johnson (D-Colo and Ervin (DNC) were against him. In his charge today, he mentioned only Watkins by name.

Watkins could not be reached immediately for comment.

Russian Talks After Germany Settled, Dulles

By MERRIMAN SMITH

WASHINGTON (UP) — Secretary of State John Foster Dulles made it clear to the world today that the United States may agree to new cold war talks with Russia after the new agreements on German rearmament have been ratified.

In an unprecedented televised meeting of the President's cabinet, Dulles said "there may be a new basis for discussion" with the Communists "when we create, as we hope we will, a position of solidity and strength for Western Europe."

"At least we can hope," he added, "that then there can be talks more satisfactory than those that exist when the only object of the Soviet Union, is, by trick or device, to try and break up the European unity."

The extraordinary cabinet meeting was called last night to dramatize the Paris agreement for enlisting West Germany in the European Defense System. With the congressional elections only a week away, Republican leaders hoped it would help win votes for the GOP.

For the first time in history, Americans across the nation were invited via television to pull up a chair at a business session in the green-carpeted cabinet room at the White House.

As soon as his top advisers had assembled around the coffin-shaped mahogany table shortly after 7 p. m., President Eisenhower briskly called the meeting to order and introduced Dulles.

Dulles, waving a pencil for emphasis and referring occasionally to notes, carefully traced the free world's uphill struffle to build a strong defense system in Europe. The agreement finally reached at Paris, he said, was an achievement that "history will not soon forget."

India Calls for Halt to Arms Making

By TOM HOGE

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (AP) — The long U. N. arms debate neared a close today with a call by India for a halt on weapons production until a worldwide disarmament pact can oe reached.

India's V. K. Krishna Menon, last speaker listed in the debate sought the floor in the 60-nation Political Committee to present his appeal for a standstill agreement.

The Indian resolution called on the U. N. Disarmament Commission to study ways of setting up an "armament truce" pending agreement on a disarmament convention. Menon previously urged a halt in the production of atomic bombs until measures could be set up to eliminate them, but nothing ever came of it.

The resolution circulated among delegates last night also called on the General Assembly to recess in December instead of adjourning — so it could reconvene quickly if the Disarmament Commission issued a report requiring immediate action.

American to Recuperate in Poland

By ROB-RT BRANSON

VIENNA, Austria, (UP) — Hermann Field, the Ohio architect released yesterday from a jail in Communist Poland, today advised his wife, in London that he must recuperate in Poland "for a short while" before returning home.

Reports reaching Vienna from reliable sources said the contact with Field was made "after midnight and outside the American embassy."

But beyond that there was no word on the whereabouts of Field one of four members of the Field family who were swallowed up one by one behind the Iron Curtain in 1949 and 1950.

The fate of the other three missing members of the family still is shrouded in mystery and Communist silence.

"There was no explanation of why officials of the Warsaw embassy met Field "outside the embassy."

Republicans To Start Big Campaign Push

By JOHN L. CUTTER

WASHINGTON (UP) Republicans yanked the stops from their congressional campaign today in what appeared to be their "big push" to hang onto control of Congress in the Crucial Nov. 2 election.

These were straws in the political winds that seemed to point up a new phase in GOP strategy:

President Eisenhower, in whose popularity many Republicans think lies the key to an election victory, took off for Connecticut and New York on a two-day speaking tour that carried him into the strategic east for the first time in the campaign.

Vice President Richard M. Nixon announced he was peeling off his gloves and then proceeded to hammer former President Truman in a slugging attack.

GOP National Chairman Leonard W. Hall termed the Democratic party the "instrument for the left-wing crowd."

Sen. Irving M. Ives, Republican gubernatorial candidate in key New York, hurled a sensational bribery charge at his Democratic foe, Averell Harriman.

The Democrats met the stepped up Republican drive with hard-hitting campaigning by the party's "old pros."

Rep. Sam Rayburn (Tex.), house Democratic leader, took the stump at Decatur, Ill., while his Senate counterpart, Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson (Tex.), was scheduled to speak at Las Vegas, Nev. Sens. John L. McClellan (Ark), John J. Sparkman (Ala), and Albert Gore (Tenn), scheduled appearances in Ohio, Pennsylvania and Oregon, respectively.

Although Mr. Eisenhower's tour was labeled officially as "non-political," GOP strategists privately counted on it giving their candidates a boost. Mr. Eisenhower will [illegible] Gov. John Davis Lodge of Connecticut who is up for reelection, today and former Rep. Clifford M. Case, GOP senatorial candidate in New Jersey.

Nixon announced his change of campaign tactics in a speech last night at Philadelphia. He said that never again should Mr. Truman or any of his Democratic "apologists" be "entrusted with the task of protecting America's security from the termites who are constantly gnawing at us from within."

The Vice President, who jumped off today on a new nine-state campaign swing, also attacked Adlai E. Stevenson, 1952 Democratic presidential candidate, and other spokesmen of the ADA left-wing of the Democratic party.

Hall labeled the Democratic party as left wing in a special [illegible] Indianapolis. His office here released a statement saying Mr. Eisenhower scored a 53 percent better batting average than did former President Truman in his relations with congress.

The statement cited a report by the Congressional Quarterly, a news service organization, which Hall said showed that from 1947 to 1952 Mr. Truman got 49.2 per cent of his legislative proposals through Congress. Mr. Eisenhower's average in the past two years, Hall said was 65.9 per cent.

Ives charge that Harriman headed a firm that paid a $250,000 bribe to a Brooklyn judge in the 1920's kicked off a political storm. Harriman angrily "completely and categorically" denied any knowledge of any such bribe and accused Ives of a "baseless attack on my personal honor and integrity."

Meanwhile, Ross Rizley, assistant secretary of Agriculture and former Republican House member, challenged a statement by Sen. Estes Kefauver (DTenn.) that the farmer has suffered under the Eisenhower administration.

Rizley, in a statement released by the GOP national committee, said the administration has t opped "the sharp decline in farm prices that started in the last two years of the Truman administration."

Show 6% Gain Department Stores

ST. LOUIS, (AP) Department store sales in the Eighth Federal Reserve District last week showed a [illegible] per cent gain over the corresponding week of 1953.

The Federal Reserve Bank of St. Louis attributed the increase to somewhat cooler weather and a difference in timing of seasonal promotions.

The Memphis, Tenn., area showed the largest gain, with 17 per cent. Sales were up 13 per cent in Little Rock Ark., 5 per cent in St. Louis, 3 per cent in the smaller district cities combined and 1 per cent in Louisville.

The district volume in the past [illegible] weeks was 1 per cent greater than in the same 1953 period. The only losses reported were in the smaller cities.

Madness In The Spring

By ELINORE DENNISTON

It was morning. Taxis swished through Central Park South, their windshield wipers moving like meteorological pendulums beating time for the rain. Water dripped down the nose of the statue in front of the Plaza and on William Shakespeare, standing on his ballet dancer legs in the Mall in Central Park.

Farther inside the park something momentous was happening. Anyone braving the wind and the rain would have seen the earth crack. And through the crack there emerged the first yellow crocus. It was spring.

Some five blocks to the east, on the right side of the city but the wrong part of the right side, a bel shrilled in the apartment and Greg awakened frowning, resentful at being wrested from his dream. The silent guardian inside his mind, which made him look up from his newspaper at the right subway station and aroused him a few seconds before the alarm went off on week days, reminded him that it was Sunday morning and there was no need to hurry. But Greg was hounded by a relentless conscience that stalked him like an FBI man pursuing a criminal. From morning to night it prodded at him, sneered at his accomplishments, questioned his motives, believed the worst of him.

As his sleepy lids half closed, his conscience shook him firmly by the shoulder, reminding him that after all, he had not checked on the time. He might be sleeping away half the morning and, as his stepfather had pointed out for the past dozen years, there was nothing more demoralizing for a healthy young man than Loafing In Bed. The Energetic Man Went Up-Up-Up. The Apathetic Man Went Down-Down-Down. Greg's stepfather might not express himself in headlines but he always talked in capitals!

Greg dutifully reached for his watch, holding it close to his eyes because the room was dusky. Twenty minutes of 9.

The bell rang again and Greg swung his feet off the studio couch and into his slippers, groping for his robe. While he punched the button in the kitchenette that released the bell in the downstairs hall, he ran his fingers through his hair and tied the robe around him. March 30. It was his birthday. Perhaps his mother had remembered. After all, she remembered quite often. And once she had even come to the apartment to see what sort of "atmosphere" he preferred to his stepfather's house in Montclair.

Gregg went back to the living room and took a quick inventory, regretting that it was too late to make up the studio couch. He make an effort to see the place as it looked to his mother,, although he knew from her silence on that visit that she resented the shabbiness, the secondhand furniture, the Venetian blinds that shut out the sight but not the sound of the Third Avenue Elevated. It reminded her of the old days, before she had become Mrs. Horace Crain when she had been Millicent Seaver, married to Greg's father.

Compared with the 20-room Queen Anne house in Montclair, it was nothing to boast of, but he liked it because he had found it himself, bought his own furniture, paid his own way.

Feet climbed the fifth flight of stairs at the plodding gait people always reached at that altitude, and someone knocked heavily. Greg opened the door. A panting messenger grunted, "Some climb! Are you Seaver" At Greg's nod he thrust into his arms a basket covered with cellophane and tied with a mammoth bow of red satin ribbon. "Watch it, Bud. The thing weighs a ton." He leered. "She must like you."

Greg, clutching the ornate basket with both hands, nudged over the sill the bulky Sunday paper that lay outside his door. He eased the basket onto the coffee table. Through the cellophane he could see the labels on the bottles: [illegible] champagne, Imperial Tokay. An envelope was tucked under the broad satin ribbon.

"Happy birthday, dearest boy. You'll find a little booklet in the basket telling you the proper temperatures for serving the wines. Don't throw it out. Little items like these are important for a man to master. They tell people so much about his background. Mother."

Greg slipped the note back into its envelope and, after a nudge from his conscience, pulled ouut the booklet on wine and laid it on top of the newspaper beside his easy chair. He told himself loyally that it was a lavish gift; probably cost as much as he earned in a week. The fact that he did not like wine was not important. After all, his mother was trying to give her son some social polish.

While he waited the coffee to perk he took a shower and shaved, squinting at his face in the mirror. With a face like that, he reflected, one could commute on the same train, month in and month out, and be practicaly invisible. In fact, that had happened to him during the years when, to please his mother, he had lived at his stepfather's house in Montclair. Now and then, he was introduced to men who were familiar to him because they took the 8:11 in the morning. There was never any recognition in their faces.

"Gregory Seaver" they would say. "Oh, Horace Crain's stepson."

No one ever needed to ask who Horace Crain was. Crain's Canned Cornbread was served up on the billboards of the nation as a tasty substitute for the scenery they concealed. It was the subject of a singing commercial on the radio which ingeniously introduced the voice of a can opener. The man who thought of that was now high in his agency and generally regarded as being wellon the way to a dazzling future. Horace Crain was only waiting for an equally worthy vehicle to present his product to the television audience, having discovered what a nuisance it is to turn off a commercial on the screen.

In the company of his vigorous, dogmatic stepfather and his absurdly young and decorative mother, Greg felt like a mongrel, vaguely apologetic for getting in the way. He supposed he must be like his father, who had not fitted in anywhere either, and who had not, in Horace Crain's capitals, Made the Most of His Opportunities.

Greg was afraid of the future. In fact, Greg was afraid of a great many things. Life itself was a wary business of walking a tightrope, exxpecting at every moment to lose one's precarious balance. The only safety lay in following the rules, in doing what was expected.

He set the basket of wine bottles on the floor to make room for his breakfast tray and reached for the first section of the Sunday paper. The booklet on serving wines tumbled into his lap. For a moment Greg flicked the pages; then he made the first rebellious gesture of his life. He tore the booklet in two.

"I don't like wine," he said aloud, defying his lurking conscience.

Bear Bryant Getting Team 'Up' for Porks

COLLEGE STATION, Tex. (AP) Texas A&M Coach Pau Bryant said today he was officially "taking over" the football team, was glad to have it and had faith that the boys would beat somebody.

It was a little on the facetious side, since Bryant obviously was taking a poke at those who ride only with the winners. But Arkansas might note and get the idea it could run into a peck of trouble Saturday night when the night-flying Razorbacks, leading the Southwest Conference race, play the Aggies on their home field.

Bryant observed that nobody else wanted the team so he would take it.

"It's always 'our' team when we're winning and going good, but nobody has asked me how 'our' team is doing. It's always 'How's your team going' this season" said the man whos in his first losing season of a 10-year coaching career. He always finished ahead in nine years at Maryland and Kentucky.

A&M has won only one out of six. At Kentucky, in 1951 his team had an 8-4 record and those four losses were the previous high for a Bryant-coached squad. But that outfit pretty well redeemed itself by beating Texas Christian in the Cotton Bowl.

The lone Aggie victory was over Georgia, and Georgia right now leads the Southeastern Conference race. So Arkansas leads the Southwest Conference. . . h-m-m.

"I still have confidence in these Aggies," growled Bryant. "They have plenty of determination, guts and character and I still think they'll beat somebody."

But in "taking over" the team, Bryant said he would not tolerate "giving up on the part of his varsity and issued this note of warning:

"It's past history that about this time of year some folks players begin to give up. If anyone on my teams shows signs of giving up the rest of this season they'll be disassociated with this outfit."

Lower Prices for Food Drops Cost of Living

WASHINGTON (UP) A drop in food prices lowered the nation's cost of living by three-tenths of one percent from mid-August to mid-September. the government reported today.

The bureau of labor statistics said it was the sharpest monthly drop since last November for both food prices and the overall cost of living. Food prices declined 1.3 percent during the month.

In a statement accompanying the price report, Secretary of Labor James P. Mitchell said the average American factory worker in September "could buy more goods and services with his take-home pay than in the same month of any previous post-war year."

He said the average factory worker earned $71.86 a week in September, an all time high for that month. His take-home pay, assuming three dependents to be counted as tax exemptions averaged $66.78, also a record-high for September.

Mitchell said the average worker with three dependents was able to buy two percent more goods and services and the single worker four percent more in mid-september than two years earlier rearmment boom was still under way.

"The rise in wage rates in the past year has offset the drop in the length of the work week," he said.

". . .In addition, the stability of consumer prices has made for confidence, a major ingredient of a strong and growing economy."

Woman Must Serve on Jury Despite Plea

By WILLIAM NEWKIR K

CLEVELAND (AP) A woman who burst into tears and pleaded to be excused was seated anyway today as a juror at the murder trial of Dr. Samuel H. Sheppard.

Answering questions from defense counsel Fred Garmone with seeming poise, Mrs. Genevieve A. Pelsay suddenly looked fixedly at the handsome osteopath for the first time.

Then the blond biscuit company employee lowered her head and, with tears brimming in her eyes, fumbled in her pocketbook for a handkerchief

"I would like to be excused," she said, her voice choking. "I would not like to be on this case."

Her sudden outburst followed this question:

"Is there any doubt in your mind that Sam Sheppard as he sits here in this courtroom is presumed to be innocent?"

She shifted her eyes from the ceiling to Sheppard, the the tears started to flow.

Mrs. Pelsay was a replacement for Gerald L. Liederbach, a mailman who delivered letters to the door of Defense Atty. Garmone. The state, using its second peremptory challenge, thumbed Liederbach out of the jury box.

Italy Formally Takes Over Trieste

By WEBB McKINLEY

TRIESTE (AP) Italy took over Trieste today in a rain-drenched but fervent celebration marking the end of nine years of British-American control over this long-disputed Adriatic city.

A bitter wind and slanting rain washed out a series of ceremonies scheduled for the formal change of command.

But a cheering throng of Trieste citizens broke through police barriers when Italian army, navy and air force units marched into the city for the first time since World War II.

Thousands pressed onto the waterfront to hail a five-ship Italian naval squadron as it steamed into the harbor. Their cheers nearly drowned out the roar of 24 Italian air force jets which swept across the city's grey skies.

The formal end of the Allied Military Government came at 10 a. m., with a proclamation signed by British Maj. Gen. Sir John Winterton, Allied military governor of th Trieste territory's Zone A. The proclamation was read over Trieste Radio.

It was the first day since May 8, 1945, that Allied soldiers had not been in the city in strength.

At noon, the red, white and green Italian national colors rose over Unity Square, the heart of the city. Five minutes later, Maj. Gen. Edmondo de Renzi, the new Italian military governor, issued an emotional greeting to the city's inhabitants on their return to Italy.

The American troopship W. G. Haan pulled out shortly afterwards with about 1,700 U. S. troops aboard. The people momentarily dropped their greetings to the Italians. With cheers, waving flags and honking of horns along the waterfront they bade farewell to the Americans.

Better Picture in Employment Painted by Ike

By RICHARD E. MOONEY

WASHINGTON (UP) President Eisenhower last night announced a 400,000-man drop in unemployment and predicted a record-shattering jump in national production in the next 10 years.

He revealed new government figures showing that the number of jobless fell to 2,700,000 this month 400,000 below September and the first time this year that the total has been less than 3,000,000.

He also declared he expects America's total annual output to climb 40 per cent "in less than a decade" to a record $500,000,000,000. Evenly distributed he said this would theoretically amount to an extra $3,000 "for every American family of today."

Mr. Eisenhoer spoke out in a week before the crucial congressional elections. The speech was labeled "non-political" but it amounted to a slashing counter-attack against Democratic claims of economic dangers and charges that the administration has failed to come with them.

"I believe that it is high time in this great, growing productive land of ours," the President said, "to put behind us the rash fears that for so long have haunted some among us fear of war, fear of unemployment, fear of ourselves, fear of the future. Certainly, we know now that one such fear, the fear of a ralyzing depression, can be safely laid away."

After 20 years of war somewhere in the world, he said the nation can look forward to peace and an "exciting" growth in the economy that will bring "a steady rise in the living standards of all of our people." To spur the progress, he urged a seven-point program calling for such things as eventual tax cuts, expanded trade, and more highway building.

Mr. Eisenhower conceded that "some unemployment" mars the economy this year, "our most prosperous peacetime year in history." But he said the number of jobless has been steadily declining and that the outlook is good.

12 Branches Open to New Enlistments

M-Sgt. Herman W. Smith of the local U. S. Army Recruiting Station in the Hope City Hall has announced that the Army is now offering twelve different branches of service to men enlisting or reenlisting.

These branches include the Military Police Corps, Ordnance Corps Airborne, Corps of Engineers, Signal Corps, Medical Corps and many others. Men choosing these branches are assured of going to the one of their choice upon completion of their basic training. There are also 87 different army technical schools open at the present time.

The Army is now giving enlistees 10 to 14 days leave to come home after the first eight weeks of basic training. Those enlisting in the near future will be able to be home during the Christmas and New Year Holidays.

Under the new reenlistment bonus bill recently passed by Congress, men reenlisting in the regular Army within 90 days from date of discharge may draw a bonus up to $1200.00, depending upon their grade held at discharge.

For full information on the above items, Sgt. Smith may be contacted at the U. S. Army Station, now located in the Hope City Hall.

Big City No Different From Smaller One, Every Group Has Favorite Meeting Place

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP) — Every occupation or hobby group in Manhattan has its favorite meeting places.

The college crowd holds re-unions "under the clock" in the Biltmore Hotel lobby. Actors hang out at the Algonquin, Ralph's an Sardi's.

Outdoor checker players cluster in Washington Square, horseshoe pitchers in Central Park, musicians and pickpockets in Time Square, dog walkers on Park Avenue, professional bums on the Bowery, Army men at the Astor, airmen at the Hotel Lexington, and politicians at the men's bar of the Waldorf.

Clergymen have a rendezvous place, too. They often meet at "Duffy's Tavern" as many refer to it—across the street from the New York Public Library's famous twin lions at 41st street and Fifth Avenue.

The "tavern" is the clerical department of Rogers Peet Co., a clothing firm. The department has been run for 30 years by Frank Duffy, who probably knows more clergymen than any other man in America. He travels 40,000 miles annually and outfits some 10,000 priests, ministers and rabbis.

"We've taken care of ministers from every corner of the world," said Duffy. Challenged as to whether he could outfit a Buddhist priest properly, he said:

"Certainly, although I don't know what would happen if he went out without trousers and tried to convice the nearest cop he was a priest."

Duffy said clergymen were relatively easy to please because they

Amendment 43, Is Change in Assessment Method or 'Full Value' Plan, Up to the Voters

(This is the first of a series of measures which will be on the general election ballot.

LITTLE ROCK — (AP) How are you going to find out what 20 per cent of anything is without knowing the value of the thing itself?

That simple question might well serve as the central idea behind the so called "100 per cent" or "full value" proposed constitutional amendment which will be voted on at the general election a week from today.

Nobody now gives the proposal formally proposed constitutional amendment No. 43 — a ghost of a chance of adoption. Gov. Francis Chery, the man most closely identified with it in the public mind, has been defeated for a second term nomination. Nobody has raised a voice in its behalf but plenty of opposition voices have been heard. Nevertheless, it will be on the ballot the 1953 Legislature put it there and there's no way to take it off.

The proposal, as everyone knows, is concerned with the assessment of real estate and personal property for tax purposes.

At present a person is supposed to list all his taxable real and personal property with the county assessor at 20 per cent of its actual value.

The 20 per cent figure is not fixed by statute. The law says the Public Service Commission shall set the percentage of value for assessment puproses. Twenty per cent is the ratio currently in use.

Eventually the taxpayer will get a tax bill based on his assessment. The total, besides fixed road and poll taxes, will represent so much to the county, so much to the school district and so much to the municipality im he believes in an incorporated area. All charges will be based on millage that is so many mills for each dollar of valuation as represented by the taxpayer's assessment, the rate depending on where he lives.

Everybody pretty generally agrees that a true 20 per cent valuation is as rare as — well, as rare as a 50 per cent one was when that rate was in effect.

In actual practice a citizen can assess just about what he wants to at what valuaton he wants to Assessment has been called, not inaptly, a "voluntary pledge."

Some citizens undoubtedly pay more than their fair share of property taxes, other pay less and still others perhaps pay none at all.

A committee appointed by Gov. Cherry to study the admittedly inequitable situation recommended that assessment be at "market value" the "100 per cent" or "full" designation was not used. This suggestion and others were embodied in the proposed constitutional amendment.

A state Board of Equalization would be set up to supervise work of the elected county tax assessors and see that all property was list ed on the tax books.

Until the state board had certified that property in a specific county was equalized at market value assessment procedures would continue as at present.

After the certification had been

New Hearing for Youth and Dog

MONROE, La. (AP) A new hearing will be held for Joe Cooper, the 11-year-old boy who liberated his dog at gunpoint after his school principal locked the animal in a closet.

Sheppard Case Has Already Cost $19,000

CLEVELAND (AP) The Sheppard murder case already has cost more than $19,000, not including the fees of Chief Defense Counsel William J Corrigan.

Corrigan said yesterday the family of Dr. Samuel H. Sheppard has paid about $4,000 for court reporters, special stenographer and other expenses.

Not included is the $1,000 paid for bail bond and fees to be paid for a private investigator and other attorneys.

Frank T. Cullitan, Cuyahoga County prosecutor, said expenses incurred by his office total about $1,500, including those of state witnesses and for trips by investigators and lawyers.

Still to be added are court costs such as jurors ($5 daily), witnesses ($3 daily and transcripts.

The biggest single bill was the one for $13,200 which Cleveland police handed suburban Ray Village for handling a large part of the investigation leading to the indictment of the osteopath.

Mr. McCarthy Says Two Were Prejudiced

By G. MILTON KELLY

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. McCarty (R-Wis.) today hurled a "prejudice" charge at Sen. Watkins (R-Utah and two other members of a special six-man committe which has recommended that McCarthy be censured for certain of his actions as a senator.

This was the first time McCarthy has leveled a bias accusation directly at members of the censure committee, although he has indicated he felt Chairman Watkins and Senators Edwin C. Johnson (D-Colo and Ervin (DNC) were against him. In his charge today, he mentioned only Watkins by name.

Watkins could not be reached immediately for comment.

Russian Talks After Germany Settled, Dulles

By MERRIMAN SMITH

WASHINGTON (UP) — Secretary of State John Foster Dulles made it clear to the world today that the United States may agree to new cold war talks with Russia after the new agreements on German rearmament have been ratified.

In an unprecedented televised meeting of the President's cabinet, Dulles said "there may be a new basis for discussion" with the Communists "when we create, as we hope we will, a position of solidity and strength for Western Europe."

"At least we can hope," he added, "that then there can be talks more satisfactory than those that exist when the only object of the Soviet Union, is, by trick or device, to try and break up the European unity."

The extraordinary cabinet meeting was called last night to dramatize the Paris agreement for enlisting West Germany in the European Defense System. With the congressional elections only a week away. Republican leaders hoped it would help win votes for the GOP.

For the first time in history, Americans across the nation were invited via television to pull up a chair at a business session in the green-carpeted cabinet room at the White House.

As soon as his top advisers had assembled around the coffin-shaped mahogany table shortly after 7 p. m., President Eisenhower briskly called the meeting to order and introduced Dulles.

Dulles, waving a pencil for emphasis and referring occasionally to notes, carefully traced the free world's uphill struffle to build a strong defense system in Europe. The agreement finally reached at Paris, he said, was an achievement that "history will not soon forget."

India Calls for Halt to Arms Making

By TOM HOGE

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (AP) — The long U. N. arms debate neared a close today with a call by India for a halt on weapons production until a worldwide disarmament pact can be reached.

India's V. K. Krishna Menon, last speaker listed in the debate sought the floor in the 60-nation Political Committee to present his appeal for a standstill agreement.

The Indian resolution called on the U. N. Disarmament Commission to study ways of setting up an "armament truce" pending agreement on a disarmament convention. Menon previously urged a halt in the production of atomic bombs until measures could be set up to eliminate them, but nothing ever came of it.

The resolution circulated among delegates last night also called on the General Assembly to recess in December instead of adjourning — so it could reconvene quickly if the Disarmament Commission issued a report requiring immediate action.

American to Recuperate in Poland

By ROBERT BRANSON

VIENNA, Austria, (UP) — Hermann Field, the Ohio architect released yesterday from a jail in Communist Poland, today advised his wife in London that he must recuperate in Poland for a short while before returning home.

Reports reaching Vienna from reliable sources said the contact with Field was made "after midnight and outside the American embassy."

But beyond that there was no word on the whereabouts of Field one of four members of the Field family who were swallowed up one by one behind the Iron Curtain in 1949 and 1950.

The fate of the other three missing members of the family still is shrouded in mystery and Communist silence.

"There was no explanation of why officials of the Warsaw embassy met Field "outside the embassy."

Paratroopers Dropped to Crashed Plane

WASHINGTON (AP) The husband of former "Miss Arkansas" Pamela Camp Warren has been listed by the Defense Department as one of two Arkansans aboard a missing C-47.

First Lt. John W. Warren, formerly of Little Rock, and T. Sgt. Sterling F. Fitzgerald of Paragould were aboard the plane, the Defense Department said. The plane, which was en route from Rome to Manston, England, has been missing since Sunday.

Mrs. Warren was chosen "Miss Arkansas" in 1947. She is the daughter of Dr. Dolph Camp, president of Southern State College at Magnolia. She has been living with her parents since Lt. Warren entered the Air Force in 1950.

Lt. and Mrs. Warren met while attending Little Rock High School, and were married in 1949. They have one daughter, three-year-old Lynne.

Mrs. Warren had planned to leave Magnolia soon to join her husband, a jet pilot, in England.

Lt. Warren was a graduate of the University of Arkansas.

Sgt. Fitzgerald's mother, Mrs. Elizabeth H Fitzgerald, lives at 61 7 Third St. in Paragould.

NICE, France (UP) U. S. Air Force officials conducting a search for a C-47 missing since Sunday with 21 airmen aboard today ordered paratroopers dropped on a mountain where wreckage has been spotted.

Six paratroopers were scheduled to descend on Mount L'Authion, 40 miles north of Nice, after a rescue plane radioed it spotted the wreckage high on the slopes of the Alpine peak.

About 31 American aircraft roamed above the snow-capped Alps along with French Navy and Air Force planes in a "maximum effort" search for the C-47, missing on a flight from Italy to England.

There were constant reports of wreckage sightings in France's "aircraft graveyard" which confused and hampered the search.

A U. S. helicopter pilot who took a look at the wreckage on Mount L'Authoin reported he believed it was not the missing American plane. But French and American rescue officials felt it would be necessary to make an on-the-ground investigation with paratroopers to be certain.

U. S. Navy planes from Italy and three Canadian destroyers searched the Mediterranean on the possibility that the C47 could have crashed into the sea.

An Air Force spokesman at Wiesbaden emphasized that both the pilot and co-pilot of the missing plane were fully qualified airmen although they had desk jobs at Manston Air Base, England, and made the flight to brush up on their flying technique.

Hospital, Med School Seek More Money

LITTLE ROCK (AP) The Arkansas State Hospital and the University's School of Medicine will seek more than six million dollars in additional funds from the 1955 Legislature.

Members of the Arkansas Legislative Council pre-session arm o fthe General Assembly were told by officials of the two institutions yesterday that the larger appropriations will be sought.

Dr. E. H Crawfis, superintendent of the state mental hospital, told the council members that he would ask appropriation of an additional five million dollars for the 1955-56 biennium.

He said most of the money would go to increase salaries of the hospital's staff and to repair buildings. Crawfis said salries must be increased if the hospital is to retain its staff of specialists.

At the Medical School the group was told that an increase of a million and a half dollars for the two-year period would be needed.

Dean Hayden Nichols said that if the money is not forthcoming the school's new 450-bed hospital, built at a cost of nine million dollars, will have to be operated at half its capacity.

He said the old hospital is being operated at $1,400,000 a year, and that the annual two million appropriation for construction of the new hospital will be needed in the future of operating funds.

After visiting the new hospital, Sen. Allen commented, "This is certainly nice I just hope we can afford it."

Another Fire in Missouri Prisoner

JEFFERSON CITY (AP) — The second fire in three days in the women's branch of Missouri's riot-torn state pepitentiary was put out quicqly by Jefferson City ifemen today.

There was no damage, except that done to materials stored in the room where the fires broke out, and no one was injured.

Hugh H. Waggoner, superintendent of the state highway patrol, aid five or six fires were set in the basement sewing room in an old administration building at the women's prison, which is about a half mile from the main pentientiary.

"We'r egoing to make an immediate investigation and arrest those we find did it," he said. "We'll charge them and put them in the Cole County Jail."

"We're going to fill up the Cole County jail."

The highway patrol head said one of two troopers on emergency duty at the woman's branch had checked the sewing room a few minutes before the fires were discovered and everything was in order. All the windows and doors were locked at that time.

But after the alarm was sounded by a trooper who smelled the smoke, a doorway to the first floor of the old building was found unlocked.

Crop Harvest Near Completion in State

LITTLE ROCK (AP) The harvesting of major Arkansas crops is nearing completion, and agricultural conditions throughout the state generally are good, the Federal-State Crop Reporting Service said today.

In its weekly report on farming, the service said the cotton harvest is three-fourths completed, and that most of the rice crop has been reaped.

The supply of agricultural labor generally is adequate, but there still is a strong demand for cotton pickers.

Additional rain is needed for these crops which are planted in the fall, the service said.

The livestock industry, hard-hit by the summer drought which dried up pasture lands, is staging a comeback. The report said recent rains have revitalized pastures, and that the heavy marketing of cattle has shown a slight decline.

Malaria kills about 750,000 people in India every year.

Afternoon Ceremony Unites Samuel Barnett and Margaret Sue Gilbert

The wedding of Miss Margaret Sue Gilbert and Samuel Dean Barnett was solemnized on Sunday afternoon, the twenty-fourth of October, at three o'clock in the First Methodist Church of Hope. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Fletcher Gilbert. Mr. Barnett's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Ray LaRue Barnett of Camden.

The ceremony was performed by the Reverend Virgil D. Keeley before a background of white stock and gladioli with jade foliage in pedestal baskets. On either side of the altar were seven branched candelabra entwined with plumosa fern.

Prior to the ceremony, Mrs. Benjamin Hyatt, organist, presented a program of nuptial music. During the exchange of vows, she played "Liebestraum" and Clair de Lune," and accompanied Homer Jones who sang 'Ah Sweet Mystery of Life," and as the couple knelt at the altar, "The Lord's Prayer."

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a waltz length gown of white antique taffeta fashioned with a princess bodice. The skirt was accented by deep folds, and the neckline was complimented by Chantilly lace re-embroidered with iridescent paillettes and seed pearls. The bodice was covered with a fitted lace jacket made with a high neckline and fastened with tiny lace covered buttons. Her fingertip veil of silk illusion fell in misty tiers from a satin hat trimmed with seed pearls. She wore pearl earrings and carried a cascade bouquet of stephanotis and centered with a white orchid. For the traditional "something old" she tucked a handkerchief, which is an heirloom of the groom's family, into her bouquet.

Maid of honor was Miss Carol Jo Justice of Camden, Ark. Miss Ann Barr and Mrs. Joy Crumpler, both of Hope, were bridesmaids. The attendants were gowned in identical waltz length dresses of autumn green taffeta, featuring flared skirts and fitted bodices with "V" shaped necklines and cap sleeves. They wore matching bandeaux and carried colonial bouquets of bronze chrysanthemums.

The candlelighters, Misses Nina and Wanda Thompson, cousins of the bride, were dressed in gowns of frosted blue and dust rose, fashioned on the lines of the other attendants. They wore wristlets of pink pom asters.

Robert Thomas Barnett of Memphis, Tennessee, served his brother as best man.

Ushers were Charles W. Gilbert brother of the bride, Jim Hogg of Camden, and Fritz Darouse of Hammond, Louisiana.

The bride's mother chose a rose platina Juliette original with which she wore a matching rose jeweled hat. Her gloves were white and her other accessories were navy blue. Pinned at her shoulder was a purple-throated orchid.

The bridegroom's mother wore a blue lace dress and matching hat sprinkled with rhinestones. Her accessories were black and she wore white gloves. A purple throated orchid was pinned at her shoulder.

Immediately following the ceremony, a reception was held in the church parlors. Mrs. Wade Gilbert greeted the guests at the door and introduced them to the receiving line which included the bridal couple, their mothers, and the bride's attendants. Arrangements of white stock were placed throughout the parlor.

The bride's table was covered with white net decorated with white flowers and greenery. The three tiered wedding cake, incircled with flowers and greenery, and topped with a wedding bell, was placed in the center of the table. The crystal punch bowl was also encircled by flowers and greenery. Punch and cake were served by Mrs. Robert Thomas Barnett of Memphis, Tenn., and Mrs. Emory Thompson. Other members of the party were Mrs. Laroy Cameron, Miss Linda Gilbert and Miss Brenda Hill. Presiding at the bride's book was Mrs. Charles W. Gilbert, sister-in-law of the bride. Members of the party wore corsages of white gardenias.

For travel Mrs. Barnett chose a charcoal grey winter suit which was accented by black buttons, and charcoal grey accessories. She wore white gloves, and pinned a white orchid at her shoulder.

After a wedding trip to Monterey, Mexico, and other points of interest in Mexico, the couple will be at home in Hammond, La., where Mr. Barnett is employed.

The bride is a graduate of Hope High School and attended Henderson State Teachers College. The groom, a graduate of Camden High School, attended Arkansas Polytechnic College and Southern State College.

Girl Meets Two Boys

Dear Miss Dix: I met Martin several months ago. He had just broken off with a girl he'd gone with for three years, He said he still loved her, but they broke up because neither would give in after an argument.

Before I met Martin. I had been going out with a boy I had to meet secretly since my parents didn't approve of him because our nationalities were different. We finally stopped dating because of a quarrel, which now seems to me to have been quite silly. Anyway, I began going steady with Martin, and led him to believe I was in love with him. My parents liked him, and when we progressed to the stage of discussing marriage, I just drifted along with his idea that we would marry. However, my heart still belongs to the other boy. What should I do? Go ahead and marry Martin to please him and my folks, or tell him I don't love him. Sometimes I feel the only reason I encourage Martin was to spite the other boy. T. R.

Spite Is Contemptible

Answer: Marrying one person to spite another is about the worst premise on which to found a marriage. Spite is contemptible at any time, on any occasion, but as a basis for marriage it is explosively dangerous. It would blind you to Martin's good points, and magnify his bad ones in time.

There are two things you must thrash out thoroughly in your own heart and mind; no one else can do this for you. Explore this theory that your intesrest in Martin is solely spiteful: if you come to the conclusion that is is, the only fair thing to do is dismiss him.

Second, examine carefully your feelings for the other boy. Are you really sure you still love him, or are you chasing a romatic will-o-the-wisp? Your friendship with him was based solely on secret meetings and it's quite probable that the clandestine feature of the association was what really made the romance thrilling Your parents' reason for objecting to him also comes into the picture. If his nationality was their only cause for frowning, they weren't being reasonable. But perhaps they saw ot her drawbacks they didn't acknowledge to you.

Marriage on the rebound is certainly not doomed to failure. In fact, I doubt if there are many married people who haven't at least a puppy love affair in the background, and many have survived heartbreaking disappointments. Of course, all former loves must be forever pigeon-holed in memory; never, must even a mention crop up. So, to sum up your dilemma, from the meager details that any one letter can give, I'd say if you truthfully examine your feelings for the former boy friend, you'll find they aren't as deep as you've been imagining. However Martin of your uncertainties, and ask his help in dissolving them.

Dear Miss Dix: I am a married man of 32, with three children and a very sweet wife. Last year I wrote a girl in Australia, who is 28 and single. We exchanged pictures, and have corresponded quite regularly. My wife has been very hurt about this, but I see no harm in it. I like to get letters from foreign countries. My wife thinks I shoud stop the correspondence. Do you agree? CHESTER C.

Answer: Most heartily, I do agree, especially since you admit you did not tell the girl you are married. You aren't being fair either to your wife or to the Australian lass. If you want foreign mail, why not write men in other countries? Followers of hobbies — stamp collecting and chess, for instance — carry on highly interesting correspondence with fellow enthusiasts. If you have a hobby, this is a way to further it. Writing to a single girl and pretending to be a single man is dangerous.

Dear Miss Dix: I am 22 and a widow with three small children My husband's people have never helped me with them, yet they expect me to bring the youngsters to see them. I don't particularly feel like visiting them, but I would like to do the right thing. MARY ELLEN know what they want they don't usually bring a wife along and their styles change slowly.

Answer: By taking the children to see their grandparents and other relatives, you might awaken in your in-laws a feeling of responsibility toward the tots. In all fairness, give them a chance to redeem themselves; if they continue to show indifference to the welfare of your family, it's easy enough to stay away from them.

"There have a wonderful sense of humor," he said. "They enjoy a good joke, and when they meet here they rarely talk about ecclesiastical or political matters.

"The younger clergymen today are taller and more muscular than those of 30 years ago. You run into more and more 6 footers. The average collar size now is 15 to 15½. the coat size from 40 to 42.

"Among Protestant clergymen there is a trend toward more informality. The double breasted suit has taken the place of the long coat for daily wear; and the three-button jacket with natural shoulders is even more popular. The old wide-brimmed hat has given way to the homburg.

"Most clergymen today want to find a sensible compromise somewhere between the broadway drape shape and the out-of-date 'where's the corpse?' look."

Orthodox rabbis provide a special problem, as they abide by the Biblical injunction "thou shalt not wear a mingled stuff, linen and wool together." So Duffy rips apart rabbinical suits, replacing the linen with silk thread, which like wool is an animal fiber.

Duffy estimates he has outfitted more than 30,000 clergymen, has yet to meet a dshonest one. Only death or a long disease has ever kept a clergyman from meeting his bills.

The only exceptions were six imposters, all of whom, Duffy remarked cheerfully, "went to jail."

The day I visited "Duffy's Tavern" one of his customers was the Most Rev. Paul Yupin, the 6-foot-1 Chinese archbishop of Nanking.

"The Communists have condemned me to death,' said Father Yupin, smiling. "Unlike the Japanese did, however, they put no price on my head. All the Communists want is my head — they don't want to pay for it."

Among Duffy's former customers is Pope Pius XII, who bought a topcoat during a trip to the United States when he was Cardinal Pacelli.

Duffy ceasures a note sent him by the late Rev. Ambrose Hyland, the famous chaplain who built "The Church of the Good Thief" inside the walls of Dannemora Prison.

"Will you please send me a couple of cassocks for my altar boys?" it read. "One is a 46 long and the other a 44 regular. Both are lifers."

made, specified maximums would be invoked for millage rates. They would supplant present maximums in counties and municipalities and would establish maximums in school districts, which presently are not limited in the amount of millage which may be voted.

For assessment at "market value," the proposed amendment provides that the state board "shall classify property according to type, use thereof and income therefrom and prepare and prescribe a method or formula for use. . . in determining the market value of property or classes of property."

The proposal also would require that budgets be aproved by voters for counties, municipalities and school districts before any property taxes are levied. The tax rate in eachuinstance would be necessary to finance the approved budget. If a projected budget should be rejected, the expenditures for the preceding year would constitute the budget.

Under the proposed amendment, the state would be prohibited from collecting a property tax For a number of years the General Assmebly has not levied a property tax, but it still has that authority.

New super-refined gasoline gives more power-with-protection than you've ever known!

Now—Gulf refines out the "dirty-burning tail-end" of gasoline—the No. 1 trouble-maker in high-compression engines. Result: a cleaner-burning super-fuel that gives you thousands of extra miles of full engine power . . . free from knock or pre-ignition.

2 See for yourself: The spark plug shown here is from one of the many sets of original equipment plugs used in Gulf test fleet cars.

Though spark plugs normally need cleaning or replacement after 5,000 to 10,000 miles, this plug and its mates did not need cleaning or replacement in over 15,000 miles of city and country driving.

What's more besides giving your engine more complete protection, new Super-Refined Gulf NO-NOX gives you extra gas mileage in the short-trip, stop-and-go driving motorists do most . . . no knock, no pre-ignition . . . instant starts and fast, fuel-saving warm-up.

Paratroopers Dropped to Crashed Plane

WASHINGTON (AP) The husband of former "Miss Arkansas" Pamela Camp Warren has been listed by the Defense Department as one of two Arkansans aboard a missing C-47.

First Lt. John W. Warren, formerly of Little Rock, and T. Sgt. Sterling F. Fitzgerald of Paragould were aboard the plane, the Defense Department said. The plane, which was en route from Rome to Manston, England, has been missing since Sunday.

Mrs. Warren was chosen "Miss Arkansas" in 1947. She is the daughter of Dr. Dolph Camp, president of Southern State College at Magnolia. She has been living with her parents since Lt. Warren entered the Air Force in 1950.

Lt. and Mrs. Warren met while attending Little Rock High School, and were married in 1949. They have one daughter, three-year-old Lynne.

Mrs. Warren had planned to leave Magnolia soon to join her husband, a jet pilot, in England.

Lt. Warren was a graduate of the University of Arkansas.

Sgt. Fitzgerald's mother, Mrs. Elizabeth H. Fitzgerald, lives at 61 7 Third St. in Paragould.

NICE, France (UP) U. S. Air Force officials conducting a search for a C-47 missing since Sunday with 21 airmen aboard today ordered paratroopers dropped on a mountain where wreckage has been spotted.

Six paratroopers were scheduled to descend on Mount L'Authion, 40 miles north of Nice, after a rescue plane radioed it spotted the wreckage high on the slopes of the Alpine peak.

About 31 American aircraft roamed above the snow-capped Alps along with French Navy and Air Force planes in a "maximum effort" search for the C-47, missing on a flight from Italy to England.

There were constant reports of wreckage sightings in France's "aircraft graveyard" which confused and hampered the search.

A U. S. helicopter pilot who took a look at the wreckage on Mount L'Authoin reported he believed it was not the missing American plane. But French and American rescue officials felt it would be necessary to make an on-the-ground investigation with paratroopers to be certain.

U. S. Navy planes from Italy and three Canadian destroyers searched the Mediterranean on the possibility that the C47 could have crashed into the sea.

An Air Force spokesman at Wiesbaden emphasized that both the pilot and co-pilot of the missing plane were fully qualified airmen although they had desk jobs at Manston Air Base, England, and made the flight to brush up on their flying technique.

Hospital, Med School Seek More Money

LITTLE ROCK (AP) The Arkansas State Hospital and the University's School of Medicine will seek more than six million dollars in additional funds from the 1955 Legislature.

Members of the Arkansas Legislative Council pre-session arm o fthe General Assembly were told by officials of the two institutions yesterday that the larger appropriations will be sought.

Dr. E. H Crawfis, superintendent of the state mental hospital, told the council members that he would ask appropriation of an additional five million dollars for the 1955-56 biennium.

He said most of the money would go to increase salaries of the hospital's staff and to repair buildings. Crawfis said salries must be increased if the hospital is to retain its staff of specialists.

At the Medical School the group was told that an increase of a million and a half dollars for the two-year period would be needed.

Dean Hayden Nichols said that if the money is not forthcoming the school's new 450-bed hospital, built at a cost of nine million dollars, will have to be operated at half its capacity.

He said the old hospital is being operated at $1,400,000 a year, and that the annual two million appropriation for construction of the new hospital will be needed in the future of operating funds.

After visiting the new hospital, Sen. Allen commented, "This is certainly nice I just hope we can afford it."

Another Fire in Missouri Prisoner

JEFFERSON CITY (AP) — The second fire in three days in the women's branch of Missouri's riot-torn state pepitentiary was put out quicqly by Jefferson City ifemen today.

There was no damage, except that done to materials stored in the room where the fires broke out, and no one was injured.

Hugh H. Waggoner, superintendent of the state highway patrol, aid five or six fires were set in the basement sewing room in an old administration building at the women's prison, which is about a half mile from the main pentientiary.

"We'r egoing to make an immediate investigation and arrest those we find did it," he said. "We'll charge them and put them in the Cole County Jail."

"We're going to fill up the Cole County jail."

The highway patrol head said one of two troopers on emergency duty at the woman's branch had checked the sewing room a few minutes before the fires were discovered and everything was in order. All the windows and doors were locked at that time.

But after the alarm was sounded by a trooper who smelled the smoke, a doorway to the first floor of the old building was found unlocked.

Crop Harvest Near Completion in State

LITTLE ROCK (AP) The harvesting of major Arkansas crops is nearing completion, and agricultural conditions throughout the state generally are good, the Federal-State Crop Reporting Service said today.

In its weekly report on farming, the service said the cotton harvest is three-fourths completed, and that most of the rice crop has been reaped.

The supply of agricultural labor generally is adequate, but there still is a strong demand for cotton pickers.

Additional rain is needed for these crops which are planted in the fall, the service said.

The livestock industry, hard-hit by the summer drought which dried up pasture lands, is staging a comeback. The report said recent rains have revitalized pastures, and that the heavy marketing of cattle has shown a slight decline.

Malaria kills about 750,000 people in India every year.

Afternoon Ceremony Unites Samuel Barnett and Margaret Sue Gilbert

The wedding of Miss Margaret Sue Gilbert and Samuel Dean Barnett was solemnized on Sunday afternoon, the twenty-fourth of October, at three o'clock in the First Methodist Church of Hope. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Fletcher Gilbert. Mr. Barnett's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Ray LaRue Barnett of Camden.

The ceremony was performed by the Reverend Virgil D. Keeley before a background of white stock and gladioli with jade foliage in pedestal baskets. On either side of the altar were seven branched candelabra entwined with plumosa fern.

Prior to the ceremony, Mrs. Benjamin Hyatt, organist, presented a program of nuptial music. During the exchange of vows, she played "Liebestraum" and Clair de Lune," and accompanied Homer Jones who sang 'Ah Sweet Mystery of Life," and as the couple knelt at the altar, "The Lord's Prayer."

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a waltz length gown of white antique taffeta fashioned with a princess bodice. The skirt was accented by deep folds, and the neckline was complimented by Chantilly lace re-embroidered with iridescent paillettes and seed pearls. The bodice was covered with a fitted lace jacket made with a high neckline and fastened with tiny lace covered buttons. Her fingertip veil of silk illusion fell in misty tiers from a satin hat trimmed with seed pearls. She wore pearl earrings and carried a cascade bouquet of stephanotis and centered with a white orchid. For the traditional "something old" she tucked a handkerchief, which is an heirloom of the groom's family, into her bouquet.

Maid of honor was Miss Carol Jo Justice of Camden, Ark. Miss Ann Barr and Mrs. Joy Crumpler, both of Hope, were bridesmaids. The attendants were gowned in identical waltz length dresses of autumn green taffeta, featuring flared skirts and fitted bodices with "V" shaped necklines and cap sleeves. They wore matching bandeaux and carried colonial bouquets of bronze chrysanthemums.

The candlelighters, Misses Nina and Wanda Thompson, cousins of the bride, were dressed in gowns of frosted blue and dust rose, fashioned on the lines of the other attendants. They wore wristlets of pink pom asters.

Robert Thomas Barnett of Memphis, Tennessee, served his brother as best man.

Ushers were Charles W. Gilbert brother of the bride, Jim Hogg of Camden, and Fritz Darouse of Hammond, Louisiana.

The bride's mother chose a rose platina Juliette original with which she wore a matching rose jeweled hat. Her gloves were white and her other accessories were navy blue. Pinned at her shoulder was a purple-throated orchid.

The bridegroom's mother wore a blue lace dress and matching hat sprinkled with rhinestones. Her accessories were black and she wore white gloves. A purple throated orchid was pinned at her shoulder.

Immediately following the ceremony, a reception was held in the church parlors. Mrs. Wade Gilbert greeted the guests at the door and introduced them to the receiving line which included the bridal couple, their mothers, and the bride's attendants. Arrangements of white stock were placed throughout the parlor.

The bride's table was covered with white net decorated with white flowers and greenery. The three tiered wedding cake, incircled with flowers and greenery, and topped with a wedding bell, was placed in the center of the table. The crystal punch bowl was also encircled by flowers and greenery. Punch and cake were served by Mrs. Robert Thomas Barnett of Memphis, Tenn., and Mrs. Emory Thompson. Other members of the party were Mrs. Laroy Cameron, Miss Linda Gilbert and Miss Brenda Hill. Presiding at the bride's book was Mrs. Charles W. Gilbert, sister-in-law of the bride. Members of the party wore corsages of white gardenias.

For travel Mrs. Barnett chose a charcoal grey winter suit which was accented by black buttons, and charcoal grey accessories. She wore white gloves, and pinned a white orchid at her shoulder.

After a wedding trip to Monterey, Mexico, and other points of interest in Mexico, the couple will be at home in Hammond, La., where Mr. Barnett is employed.

The bride is a graduate of Hope High School and attended Henderson State Teachers College. The groom, a graduate of Camden High School, attended Arkansas Polytechnic College and Southern State College.

Girl Meets Two Boys

Dear Miss Dix: I met Martin several months ago. He had just broken off with a girl he'd gone with for three years, He said he still loved her, but they broke up because neither would give in after an argument.

Before I met Martin. I had been going out with a boy I had to meet secretly since my parents didn't approve of him because our nationalities were different. We finally stopped dating because of a quarrel, which now seems to me to have been quite silly. Anyway, I began going steady with Martin, and led him to believe I was in love with him. My parents liked him, and when we progressed to the stage of discussing marriage, I just drifted along with his idea that we would marry. However, my heart still belongs to the other boy. What should I do? Go ahead and marry Martin to please him and my folks, or tell him I don't love him. Sometimes I feel the only reason I encourage Martin was to spite the other boy. T. R.

Spite Is Contemptible

Answer: Marrying one person to spite another is about the worst premise on which to found a marriage. Spite is contemptible at any time, on any occasion, but as a basis for marriage it is explosively dangerous. It would blind you to Martin's good points, and magnify his bad ones in time.

There are two things you must thrash out thoroughly in your own heart and mind; no one else can do this for you. Explore this theory that your intesrest in Martin is solely spiteful: if you come to the conclusion that is is, the only fair thing to do is dismiss him.

Second, examine carefully your feelings for the other boy. Are you really sure you still love him, or are you chasing a romatic will-o-the-wisp? Your friendship with him was based solely on secret meetings and it's quite probable that the clandestine feature of the association was what really made the romance thrilling Your parents' reason for objecting to him also comes into the picture. If his nationality was their only cause for frowning, they weren't being reasonable. But perhaps they saw ot her drawbacks they didn't acknowledge to you.

Marriage on the rebound is certainly not doomed to failure. In fact, I doubt if there are many married people who haven't at least a puppy love affair in the background, and many have survived heartbreaking disappointments. Of course, all former loves must be forever pigeon-holed in memory; never, must even a mention crop up. So, to sum up your dilemma, from the meager details that any one letter can give, I'd say if you truthfully examine your feelings for the former boy friend, you'll find they aren't as deep as you've been imagining. However Martin of your uncertainties, and ask his help in dissolving them.

Dear Miss Dix: I am a married man of 32, with three children and a very sweet wife. Last year I wrote a girl in Australia, who is 28 and single. We exchanged pictures, and have corresponded quite regularly. My wife has been very hurt about this, but I see no harm in it. I like to get letters from foreign countries. My wife thinks I shoud stop the correspondence. Do you agree? CHESTER C.

Answer: Most heartily, I do agree, especially since you admit you did not tell the girl you are married. You aren't being fair either to your wife or to the Australian lass. If you want foreign mail, why not write men in other countries? Followers of hobbies — stamp collecting and chess, for instance — carry on highly interesting correspondence with fellow enthusiasts. If you have a hobby, this is a way to further it. Writing to a single girl and pretending to be a single man is dangerous.

Dear Miss Dix: I am 22 and a widow with three small children My husband's people have never helped me with them, yet they expect me to bring the youngsters to see them. I don't particularly feel like visiting them, but I would like to do the right thing. MARY ELLEN know what they want they don't usually bring a wife along and their styles change slowly.

Answer: By taking the children to see their grandparents and other relatives, you might awaken in your in-laws a feeling of responsibility toward the tots. In all fairness, give them a chance to redeem themselves; if they continue to show indifference to the welfare of your family, it's easy enough to stay away from them.

"There have a wonderful sense of humor," he said. "They enjoy a good joke, and when they meet here they rarely talk about ecclesiastical or political matters.

"The younger clergymen today are taller and more muscular than those of 30 years ago. You run into more and more 6 footers. The average collar size now is 15 to 15½. the coat size from 40 to 42.

"Among Protestant clergymen there is a trend toward more informality. The double breasted suit has taken the place of the long coat for daily wear; and the three-button jacket with natural shoulders is even more popular. The old wide-brimmed hat has given way to the homburg.

"Most clergymen today want to find a sensible compromise somewhere between the broadway drape shape and the out-of-date 'where's the corpse?' look."

Orthodox rabbis provide a special problem, as they abide by the Biblical injunction "thou shalt not wear a mingled stuff, linen and wool together." So Duffy rips apart rabbinical suits, replacing the linen with silk thread, which like wool is an animal fiber.

Duffy estimates he has outfitted more than 30,000 clergymen, has yet to meet a dshonest one. Only death or a long disease has ever kept a clergyman from meeting his bills.

The only exceptions were six imposters, all of whom, Duffy remarked cheerfully, "went to jail."

The day I visited "Duffy's Tavern" one of his customers was the Most Rev. Paul Yupin, the 6-foot-1 Chinese archbishop of Nanking.

"The Communists have condemned me to death,' said Father Yupin, smiling. "Unlike the Japanese did, however, they put no price on my head. All the Communists want is my head — they don't want to pay for it."

Among Duffy's former customers is Pope Pius XII, who bought a topcoat during a trip to the United States when he was Cardinal Pacelli.

Duffy ceasures a note sent him by the late Rev. Ambrose Hyland, the famous chaplain who built "The Church of the Good Thief" inside the walls of Dannemora Prison.

made, specified maximums would be invoked for millage rates. They would supplant present maximums in counties and municipalities and would establish maximums in school districts, which presently are not limited in the amount of millage which may be voted.

For assessment at "market value,' the proposed amendment provides that the state board "shall classify property according to type, use thereof and income therefrom and prepare and prescribe a method or formula for use. . . in determining the market value of property or classes of property."

The proposal also would require that budgets be aproved by voters for counties, municipalities and school districts before any property taxes are levied. The tax rate in eachuinstance would be necessary to finance the approved budget. If a projected budget should be rejected, the expenditures for the preceding year would constitute the budget.

Under the proposed amendment, the state would be prohibited from collecting a property tax For a number of years the General Assembly has not levied a property tax, but it still has that authority.

A previous attempt to [illegible] state out of the property [illegible] by constitutional amendment [illegible] rejected.

The state Board of Equalization which would play an important [illegible]ly under the proposal would [illegible] composed of three members [illegible]ing staggered 12-year terms. They would be appointed by the governor, subject to confirmation by the Senate.

NEW YORK COTTON

NEW YORK (AP) Cotton futures were steady today, paced by aggressive trade buying. Mill covering operations in futures were attributed primarily to the fact that current futures levels were considered attractive rather than reflecting any improvement in sales of cotton textiles.

Late afternoon prices were 15 to 55 cents a bale higher than the previous close. Dec. 34.56, March 34.95 and May 35.19.

Paratroopers Dropped to Crashed Plane

WASHINGTON- (AP) The husband of former "Miss Arkansas" Pamela Camp Warren has been listed by the Defense Department as one of two Arkansans aboard a missing C-47.

First Lt. John W. Warren, formerly of Little Rock, and T. Sgt. Sterling F. Fitzgerald of Paragould were aboard the plane, the Defense Department said. The plane, which was en route from Rome to Manston, England, has been missing since Sunday.

Mrs. Warren was chosen "Miss Arkansas" in 1947. She is the daughter of Dr. Dolph Camp, president of Southern State College at Magnolia. She has been living with her parents since Lt. Warren entered the Air Force in 1950.

Lt. and Mrs. Warren met while attending Little Rock High School, and were married in 1949. They have one daughter, three-year-old Lynne.

Mrs. Warren had planned to leave Magnolia soon to join her husband, a jet pilot, in England.

Lt. Warren was a graduate of the University of Arkansas.

Sgt. Fitzgerald's mother, Mrs. Elizabeth H Fitzgerald, lives at 61 7 Third St. in Paragould.

NICE, France (UP) U. S. Air Force officials conducting a search for a C-47 missing since Sunday with 21 airmen aboard today ordered paratroopers dropped on a mountain where wreckage has been spotted.

Six paratroopers were scheduled to descend on Mount L'Authion, 40 miles north of Nice, after a rescue plane radioed it spotted the wreckage high on the slopes of the Alpine peak.

About 31 American aircraft roamed above the snow-capped Alps along with French Navy and Air Force planes in a "maximum effort" search for the C-47, missing on a flight from Italy to England.

There were constant reports of wreckage sightings in France's "aircraft graveyard" which confused and hampered the search.

A U. S. helicopter pilot who took a look at the wreckage on Mount L'Authoin reported he believed it was not the missing American plane. But French and American rescue officials felt it would be necessary to make an on-the-ground investigation with paratroopers to be certain.

U. S. Navy planes from Italy and three Canadian destroyers searched the Mediterranean on the possibility that the C47 could have crashed into the sea.

An Air Force spokesman at Wiesbaden emphasized that both the pilot and co-pilot of the missing plane were fully qualified airmen although they had desk jobs at Manston Air Base, England, and made the flight to brush up on their flying technique.

Hospital, Med School Seek More Money

LITTLE ROCK (AP) The Arkansas State Hospital and the University's School of Medicine will seek more than six million dollars in additional funds from the 1955 Legislature.

Members of the Arkansas Legislative Council pre-session arm o fthe General Assembly were told by officials of the two institutions yesterday that the larger appropriations will be sought.

Dr. E. H Crawfis, superintendent of the state mental hospital, told the council members that he would ask appropriation of an additional five million dollars for the 1955-56 biennium.

He said most of the money would go to increase salaries of the hospital's staff and to repair buildings. Crawfis said salries must be increased if the hospital is to retain its staff of specialists

At the Medical School the group was told that an increase of a million and a half dollars for the two-year period would be needed.

Dean Hayden Nichols said that if the money is not forthcoming the school's new 450-bed hospital, built at a cost of nine million dollars, will have to be operated at half its capacity.

He said the old hospital is being operatdd at $1,400,000 a year, and that the annual two million appropriation for construction of the new hospital will be needed in the future of operating funds.

After visiting the new hospital, Sen. Allen commented, "This is certainly nice I just hope we can afford it."

Another Fire in Missouri Prisoner

JEFFERSON CITY (AP) — The second fire in three days in the women's branch of Missouri's riot-torn state pepitentiary was put out quicqly by Jefferson City ifemen today.

There was no damage, except that done to materials stored in the room where the fires broke out, and no one was injured.

Hugh H. Waggoner, superintendent of the state highway patrol, aid five or six fires were set in the basement sewing room in an old administration building at the women's prison, which is about a half mile from the main pentientiary.

"We'r egoing to make an immediate investigation and arrest those we find did it," he said. "We'll charge them and put them in the Cole County Jail."

"We're going to fill up the Cole County jail."

The highway patrol head said one of two troopers on emergency duty at the woman's branch had checked the sewing room a few minutes before the fires were discovered and everything was in order. All the windows and doors were locked at that time.

But after the alarm was sounded by a trooper who smelled the smoke, a doorway to the first floor of the old building was found unlocked.

Crop Harvest Near Completion in State

LITTLE ROCK (AP) The harvesting of major Arkansas crops is nearing completion, and agricultural conditions throughout the state generally are good, the Federal-State Crop Reporting Service said today.

In its weekly report on farming, the service said the cotton harvest is three-fourths completed, and that most of the rice crop has been reaped.

The supply of agricultural labor generally is adequate, but there still is a strong demand for cotton pickers.

Additional rain is needed for these crops which are planted in the fall, the service said.

The livestock industry, hard-hit by the summer drought which dried up pasture lands, is staging a comeback. The report said recent rains have revitalized pastures, and that the heavy marketing of cattle has shown a slight decline.

Malaria kills about 750,000 people in India every year.

Afternoon Ceremony Unites Samuel Barnett and Margaret Sue Gilbert

The wedding of Miss Margaret Sue Gilbert and Samuel Dean Barnett was solemnized on Sunday afternoon, the twenty-fourth of October, at three o'clock in the First Methodist Church of Hope. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Fletcher Gilbert. Mr. Barnett's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Ray LaRue Barnett of Camden.

The ceremony was performed by the Reverend Virgil D. Keeley before a background of white stock and gladioli with jade foliage in pedestal baskets. On either side of the altar were seven branched candelabra entwined with plumosa fern.

Prior to the ceremony, Mrs. Benjamin Hyatt, organist, presented a program of nuptial music. During the exchange of vows, she played "Liebestraum" and Clair de Lune," and accompanied Homer Jones who sang 'Ah Sweet Mystery of Life," and as the couple knelt at the altar, "The Lord's Prayer."

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a waltz length gown of white antique taffeta fashioned with a princess bodice. The skirt was accented by deep folds, and the neckline was complimented by Chantilly lace re-embroidered with iridescent paillettes and seed pearls. The bodice was covered with a fitted lace jacket made with a high neckline and fastened with tiny lace covered buttons. Her fingertip veil of silk illusion fell in misty tiers from a satin hat trimmed with seed pearls. She wore pearl earrings and carried a cascade bouquet of stephanotis and centered with a white orchid. For the traditional "something old" she tucked a handkerchief, which is an heirloom of the groom's family, into her bouquet.

Maid of honor was Miss Carol Jo Justice of Camden, Ark. Miss Ann Barr and Mrs. Joy Crumpler, both of Hope, were bridesmaids. The attendants were gowned in identical waltz length dresses of autumn green taffeta, featuring flared skirts and fitted bodices with "V" shaped necklines and cap sleeves. They wore matching bandeaux and carried colonial bouquets of bronze chrysanthemums.

The candlelighters, Misses Nina and Wanda Thompson, cousins of the bride, were dressed in gowns of frosted blue and dust rose, fashioned on the lines of the other attendants. They wore wristlets of pink pom asters.

Robert Thomas Barnett of Memphis, Tennessee, served his brother as best man.

Ushers were Charles W. Gilbert brother of the bride, Jim Hogg of Camden, and Fritz Darouse of Hammond, Louisiana.

The bride's mother chose a rose platina Juliette original with which she wore a matching rose jeweled hat. Her gloves were white and her other accessories were navy blue. Pinned at her shoulder was a purple-throated orchid.

The bridegroom's mother wore a blue lace dress and matching hat sprinkled with rhinestones. Her accessories were black and she wore white gloves. A purple throated orchid was pinned at her shoulder.

Immediately following the ceremony, a reception was held in the church parlors. Mrs. Wade Gilbert greeted the guests at the door and introduced them to the receiving line which included the bridal couple, their mothers, and the bride's attendants. Arrangements of white stock were placed throughout the parlor.

The bride's table was covered with white net decorated with white flowers and greenery. The three tiered wedding cake, incircled with flowers and greenery, and topped with a wedding bell, was placed in the center of the table. The crystal punch bowl was also encircled by flowers and greenery. Punch and cake were served by Mrs. Robert Thomas Barnett of Memphis, Tenn., and Mrs. Emory Thompson. Other members of the party were Mrs. Laroy Cameron, Miss Linda Gilbert and Miss Brenda Hill. Presiding at the bride's book was Mrs. Charles W. Gilbert, sister-in-law of the bride. Members of the party wore corsages of white gardenias.

For travel Mrs. Barnett chose a charcoal grey winter suit which was accented by black buttons, and charcoal grey accessories. She wore white gloves, and pinned a white orchid at her shoulder.

After a wedding trip to Monterey, Mexico, and other points of interest in Mexico, the couple will be at home in Hammond, La., where Mr. Barnett is employed.

DOROTHY DIX

Girl Meets Two Boys

Dear Miss Dix: I met Martin several months ago. He had just broken off with a girl he'd gone with for three years, He said he still loved her, but they broke up because neither would give in after an argument.

Before I met Martin. I had been going out with a boy I had to meet secretly since my parents didn't approve of him because our nationalities were different. We finally stopped dating because of a quarrel, which now seems to me to have been quite silly. Anyway, I began going steady with Martin, and led him to believe I was in love with him. My parents liked him, and when we progressed to the stage of discussing marriage, I just drifted along with his idea that we would marry. However, my heart still belongs to the other boy. What should I do? Go ahead and marry Martin to please him and my folks, or tell him I don't love him. Sometimes I feel the only reason I encourage Martin was to spite the other boy. T. R.

Spite Is Contemptible

Answer: Marrying one person to spite another is about the worst premise on which to found a marriage. Spite is contemptible at any time, on any occasion, but as a basis for marriage it is explosively dangerous. It would blind you to Martin's good points, and magnify his bad ones in time.

There are two things you must thrash out thoroughly in your own heart and mind; no one else can do this for you. Explore this theory that your intesrest in Martin is solely spiteful: if you come to the conclusion that is is, the only fair thing to do is dismiss him.

Second, examine carefully your feelings for the other boy. Are you really sure you still love him, or are you chasing a romatic will-o-the-wisp? Your friendship with him was based solely on secret meetings and it's quite probable that the clandestine feature of the association was what really made the romance thrilling Your parents' reason for objecting to him also comes into the picture. If his nationality was their only cause for frowning, they weren't being reasonable. But perhaps they saw ot her drawbacks they didn't acknowledge to you.

Marriage on the rebound is certainly not doomed to failure. In fact, I doubt if there are many married people who haven't at least a puppy love affair in the background, and many have survived heartbreaking disappointments. Of course, all former loves must be forever pigeon-holed in memory; never, must even a mention crop up. So, to sum up your dilemma, from the meager details that any one letter can give, I'd say if you truthfully examine your feelings for the former boy friend, you'll find they aren't as deep as you've been imagining. However Martin of your uncertainties, and ask his help in dissolving them.

Dear Miss Dix: I am a married man of 32, with three children and a very swet wife, Last year I wrote a girl in Australia, who is 28 and single. We exchanged pictures, and have corresponded quite regularly. My wife has been very hurt about this, but I see no harm in it. I like to get letters from foreign countries. My wife thinks I shoud stop the correspondence. Do you agree? CHESTER C.

Answer: Most heartily, I do agree, especially since you admit you did not tell the girl you are married. You aren't being fair either to your wife or to the Australian lass. If you want foreign mail, why not write men in other coun tries? Followers of hobbies — stamp collecting and chess, for instance — carry on highly interesting correspondence with fellow enthusiasts. If you have a hobby, this is a way to further it. Writing to a single girl and pretending to be a single man is dangerous.

Dear Miss Dix: I am 22 and a widow with three small children My husband's people have never helped me with them, yet they expect me to bring the youngsters to see them. I don't particularly feel like visiting them, but I would like to do the right thing.

MARY ELLEN

Answer: By taking the children to see their grandparents and other relatives, you might awaken in your in-laws a feeling of responsibility toward the tots. In all fairness, give them a chance to redeem themselves; if they continue to show indifference to the welfare of your family, it's easy enough to stay away from them.

know what they want they don't usually bring a wife along and their styles change slowly.

"There have a wonderful sense of humor," he said. "They enjoy a good joke, and when they meet here they rarely talk about ecclesiastical or political matters.

"The younger clergymen today are taller and more muscular than those of 30 years ago. You run into more and more 6 footers. The average collar size now is 15 to 15½, the coat size from 40 to 42.

"Among Protestant clergymen there is a trend toward more informality. The double breasted suit has taken the place of the long coat for daily wear, and the three-button jacket with natural shoulders is even more popular. The old wide-brimmed hat has given way to the homburg.

"Most clergymen today want to find a sensible compromise somewhere between the broadway drape shape and the out-of-date 'where's the corpse?' look."

Orthodox rabbis provide a special problem, as they abide by the Biblical injunction "thou shalt not wear a mingled stuff, linen and wool together." So Duffy rips apart rabbinical suits, replacing the linen with silk thread, which like wool is an animal fiber.

Duffy estimates he has outfitted more than 30,000 clergymen, has yet to meet a dshonest one. Only death or a long disease has ever kept a clergyman from meeting his bills.

The only exceptions were six im posters, all of whom, Duffy remarked cheerfully, "went to jail."

The day I visited "Duffy's Tavern" one of his customers was the Most Rev. Paul Yupin, the 6-foot-1 Chinese archbishop of Nanking.

"The Communists have condemned me to death,' said Father Yupin, smiling. "Unlike the Japanese did, however, they put no price on my head. All the Communists want is my head — they don't want to pay for it."

Among Duffy's former customers is Pope Pius XII, who bought a topcoat during a trip to the United States when he was Cardinal Pacelli.

Duffy ceasures a note sent him by the late Rev. Ambrose Hyland the famous chaplain who built "The Church of the Good Thief" inside the walls of Dannermora Prison.

"Will you please send me a couple of cassocks for my altar boys?" it read. "One is a 46 long and the other a 44 regular. Both are lifers."

made, specified maximums would be invoked for millage rates. They would supplant present maximums in counties and municipalities and would establish maximums in school districts, which presently are not limited in the amount of millage which may be voted.

For assessment at "market value," the proposed amendment provides that the state board "shall classify property according to type, use thereof and income therefrom and prepare and prescribe a method or formula for use . . . in determining the market value of property or classes of property."

The proposal also would require that budgets be aproved by voters for counties, municipalities and school districts before any property taxes are levied. The tax rate in eachuinstance would be necessary to finance the approved budget. If a projected budget should be rejected, the expenditures for the preceding year would constitute the budget.

Under the proposed amendment, the state would be prohibited from collecting a property tax For a number of years the General Assembly has not levied a property tax, but it still has that authority.

2 See for yourself: The spark plug shown here is from one of the many sets of original equipment plugs used in Gulf test fleet cars.

Though spark plugs normally need cleaning or replacement after 5,000 to 10,000 miles, this plug and its mates did not need cleaning or replacement in over 15,000 miles of city and country driving.

What's more besides giving your engine more complete protection, new Super-Refined Gulf NO-NOX gives you extra gas mileage in the short-trip, stop-and-go driving motorists do most . . . no knock, no pre-ignition . . . instant starts and fast, fuel-saving warm-up.

Paratroopers Dropped to Crashed Plane

WASHINGTON (AP) The husband of former "Miss Arkansas" Pamela Camp Warren has been listed by the Defense Department as one of two Arkansans aboard a missing C-47.

First Lt. John W. Warren, formerly of Little Rock, and T. Sgt. Sterling F. Fitzgerald of Paragould were aboard the plane, the Defense Department said. The plane, which was en route from Rome to Manston, England, has been missing since Sunday.

Mrs. Warren was chosen "Miss Arkansas" in 1947. She is the daughter of Dr. Dolph Camp, president of Southern State College at Magnolia. She has been living with her parents since Lt. Warren entered the Air Force in 1950.

Lt. and Mrs. Warren met while attending Little Rock High School, and were married in 1949. They have one daughter, three-year-old Lynne.

Mrs. Warren had planned to leave Magnolia soon to join her husband, a jet pilot, in England.

Lt. Warren was a graduate of the University of Arkansas.

Sgt. Fitzgerald's mother, Mrs. Elizabeth H Fitzgerald, lives at 61 7 Third St. in Paragould.

NICE, France (UP) U. S. Air Force officials conducting a search for a C-47 missing since Sunday with 21 airmen aboard today ordered paratroopers dropped on a mountain where wreckage has been spotted.

Six paratroopers were schedulded to descend on Mount L'Authion, 40 miles north of Nice, after a rescue plane radioed it spotted the wreckage high on the slopes of the Alpine peak.

About 81 American aircraft roamed above the snow-capped Alps along with French Navy and Air Force planes in a "maximum effort" search for the C-47, missing on a flight from Italy to England.

There were constant reports of wreckage sightings in France's "aircraft graveyard" which confused and hampered the search.

A U. S. helicopter pilot who took a look at the wreckage on Mount L'Authoin reported he believed it was not the missing American plane. But French and American rescue officials felt it would be necessary to make an on-the-ground investigation with paratroopers to be certain.

U. S. Navy planes from Italy and three Canadian destroyers searched the Mediterranean on the possibility that the C47 could have crashed into the sea.

An Air Force spokesman at Wiesbaden emphasized that both the pilot and co-pilot of the missing plane were fully qualified airmen although they had desk jobs at Manston Air Base, England, and made the flight to brush up on their flying technique.

Hospital, Med School Seek More Money

LITTLE ROCK (AP) The Arkansas State Hospital and the University's School of Medicine will seek more than six million dollars in additional funds from the 1955 Legislature.

Members of the Arkansas Legislative Council pre-session arm o fthe General Assembly were told by officials of the two institutions yesterday that the larger appropriations will be sought.

Dr. E H Crawfis, superintendent of the state mental hospital, told the council members that he would ask appropriation of an additional five million dollars for the 1955-56 biennium.

He said most of the money would go to increase salaries of the hospital's staff and to repair buildings. Crawfis said salries must be increased if the hospital is to retain its staff of specialists

At the Medical School the group was told that an increase of a million and a half dollars for the two-year period would be needed.

Dean Hayden Nichols said that if the money is not forthcoming the school's new 450-bed hospital, built at a cost of nine million dollars, will have to be operated at half its capacity.

He said the old hospital is being operated at $1,400,000 a year, and that the annual two million appropriation for construction of the new hospital will be needed in the future of operating funds.

After visiting the new hospital, Sen. Allen commented, "This is certainly nice I just hope we can afford it."

Another Fire in Missouri Prisoner

JEFFERSON CITY (AP) — The second fire in three days in the women's branch of Missouri's riot-torn state penitentiary was put out quicqly by Jefferson City firemen today.

There was no damage, except that done to materials stored in the room where the fires broke out, and no one was injured.

Hugh H. Waggoner, superintendent of the state highway patrol, aid five or six fires were set in the basement sewing room in an old administration building at the women's prison, which is about a half mile from the main penitentiary.

"We'r egoing to make an immediate investigation and arrest those we find did it," he said. "We'll charge them and put them in the Cole County Jail."

"We're going to fill up the Cole County jail."

The highway patrol head said one of two troopers on emergency duty at the woman's branch had checked the sewing room a few minutes before the fires were discovered and everything was in order. All the windows and doors were locked at that time.

But after the alarm was sounded by a trooper who smelled the smoke, a doorway to the first floor of the old building was found unlocked.

Crop Harvest Near Completion in State

LITTLE ROCK (AP) The harvesting of major Arkansas crops is nearing completion, and agricultural conditions throughout the state generally are good, the Federal-State Crop Reporting Service said today.

In its weekly report on farming, the service said the cotton harvest is three-fourths completed, and that most of the rice crop has been reaped.

The supply of agricultural labor generally is adequate, but there still is a strong demand for cotton pickers.

Additional rain is needed for these crops which are planted in the fall, the service said.

The livestock industry, hard-hit by the summer drought which dried up pasture lands, is staging a comeback. The report said recent rains have revitalized pastures, and that the heavy marketing of cattle has shown a slight decline.

Malaria kills about 750,000 people in India every year.

Afternoon Ceremony Unites Samuel Barnett and Margaret Sue Gilbert

The wedding of Miss Margaret Sue Gilbert and Samuel Dean Barnett was solemnized on Sunday afternoon, the twenty-fourth of October, at three o'clock in the First Methodist Church of Hope. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Fletcher Gilbert. Mr. Barnett's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Ray LaRue Barnett of Camden.

The ceremony was performed by the Reverend Virgil D. Keeley before a background of white stock and gladioli with jade foliage in pedestal baskets. On either side of the altar were seven branched candelabra entwined with plumosa fern.

Prior to the ceremony, Mrs. Benjamin Hyatt, organist, presented a program of nuptial music. During the exchange of vows, she played "Liebestraum" and Clair de Lune," and accompanied Homer Jones who sang 'Ah Sweet Mystery of Life," and as the couple knelt at the altar, "The Lord's Prayer."

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a waltz length gown of white antique taffeta fashioned with a princess bodice. The skirt was accented by deep folds, and the neckline was complimented by Chantilly lace re-embroidered with iridescent paillettes and seed pearls. The bodice was covered with a fitted lace jacket made with a high neckline and fastened with tiny lace covered buttons. Her fingertip veil of silk illusion fell in misty tiers from a satin hat trimmed with seed pearls. She wore pearl earrings and carried a cascade bouquet of stephanotis and centered with a white orchid. For the traditional "something old" she tucked a handkerchief, which is an heirloom of the groom's family, into her bouquet.

Maid of honor was Miss Carol Jo Justice of Camden, Ark. Miss Ann Barr and Mrs. Joy Crumpler, both of Hope, were bridesmaids. The attendants were gowned in identical waltz length dresses of autumn green taffeta, featuring flared skirts and fitted bodices with "V" shaped necklines and cap sleeves. They wore matching bandeaux and carried colonial bouquets of bronze chrysanthemums.

The candlelighters, Misses Nina and Wanda Thompson, cousins of the bride, were dressed in gowns of frosted blue and dust rose, fashioned on the lines of the other attendants. They wore wristlets of pink pom asters.

Robert Thomas Barnett of Memphis, Tennessee, served his brother as best man.

Ushers were Charles W. Gilbert brother of the bride, Jim Hogg of Camden, and Fritz Darouse of Hammond, Louisiana.

The bride's mother chose a rose platina Juliette original with which she wore a matching rose jeweled hat. Her gloves were white and her other accessories were navy blue. Pinned at her shoulder was a purple-throated orchid.

The bridegroom's mother wore a blue lace dress and matching hat sprinkled with rhinestones. Her accessories were black and she wore white gloves. A purple throated orchid was pinned at her shoulder.

Immediately following the ceremony, a reception was held in the church parlors. Mrs. Wade Gilbert greeted the guests at the door and introduced them to the receiving line which included the bridal couple, their mothers, and the bride's attendants. Arrangements of white stock were placed throughout the parlor.

The bride's table was covered with white net decorated with white flowers and greenery. The three tiered wedding cake, incircled with flowers and greenery, and topped with a wedding bell, was placed in the center of the table. The crystal punch bowl was also encircled by flowers and greenery. Punch and cake were served by Mrs. Robert Thomas Barnett of Memphis, Tenn., and Mrs. Emory Thompson. Other members of the party were Mrs. Laroy Cameron, Miss Linda Gilbert and Miss Brenda Hill. Presiding at the bride's book was Mrs. Charles W. Gilbert, sister-in-law of the bride. Members of the party wore corsages of white gardenias.

For travel Mrs. Barnett chose a charcoal grey winter suit which was accented by black buttons, and charcoal grey accessories. She wore white gloves, and pinned a white orchid at her shoulder.

After a wedding trip to Monterey, Mexico, and other points of interest in Mexico, the couple will be at home in Hammond, La., where Mr. Barnett is employed.

The bride is a graduate of Hope High School and attended Henderson State Teachers College. The groom, a graduate of Camden High School, attended Arkansas Polytechnic College and Southern State College.

DOROTHY DIX

Girl Meets Two Boys

Dear Miss Dix: I met Martin several months ago. He had just broken off with a girl he'd gone with for three years, He said he still loved her, but they broke up because neither would give in after an argument.

Before I met Martin. I had been going out with a boy I had to meet secretly since my parents didn't approve of him because our nationalities were different. We finally stopped dating because of a quarrel, which now seems to me to have been quite silly. Anyway, I began going steady with Martin, and led him to believe I was in love with him. My parents liked him, and when we progressed to the stage of discussing marriage, I just drifted along with his idea that we would marry. However, my heart still belongs to the other boy. What should I do? Go ahead and marry Martin to please him and my folks, or tell him I don't love him. Sometimes I feel the only reason I encourage Martin was to spite the other boy. T. R.

Spite Is Contemptible

Answer: Marrying one person to spite another is about the worst premise on which to found a marriage. Spite is contemptible at any time, on any occasion, but as a basis for marriage it is explosively dangerous. It would blind you to Martin's good points, and magnify his bad ones in time.

There are two things you must thrash out thoroughly in your own heart and mind; no one else can do this for you. Explore this theory that your intesrest in Martin is solely spiteful: if you come to the conclusion that is is, the only fair thing to do is dismiss him.

Second, examine carefully your feelings for the other boy. Are you really sure you still love him, or are you chasing a romatic will-o-the-wisp? Your friendship with him was based solely on secret meetings and it's quite probable that the clandestine feature of the association was what really made the romance thrilling Your parents' reason for objecting to him also comes into the picture. If his nationality was their only cause for frowning, they weren't being reasonable. But perhaps they saw ot her drawbacks they didn't acknowledge to you.

Marriage on the rebound is certainly not doomed to failure. In fact, I doubt if there are many married people who haven't at least a puppy love affair in the background, and many have survived heartbreaking disappointments. Of course, all former loves must be forever pigeon-holed in memory; never, must even a mention crop up. So, to sum up your dilemma, from the meager details that any one letter can give, I'd say if you truthfully examine your feelings for the former boy friend, you'll find they aren't as deep as you've been imagining. However Martin of your uncertainties, and ask his help in dissolving them.

Dear Miss Dix: I am a married man of 32, with three children and a very sweet wife, Last year I wrote a girl in Australia, who is 28 and single. We exchanged pictures, and have corresponded quite regularly. My wife has been very hurt about this, but I see no harm in it. I like to get letters from foreign countries. My wife thinks I shoud stop the correspondence. Do you agree? CHESTER C.

Answer: Most heartily, I do agree, especially since you admit you did not tell the girl you are married. You aren't being fair either to your wife or to the Australian lass. If you want foreign mail, why not write men in other countries? Followers of hobbies — stamp collecting and chess, for instance — carry on highly interesting correspondence with fellow enthusiasts. If you have a hobby, this is a way to further it. Writing to a single girl and pretending to be a single man is dangerous.

Dear Miss Dix: I am 22 and a widow with three small children My husband's people have never helped me with them, yet they expect me to bring the youngsters to see them. I don't particularly feel like visiting them, but I would like to do the right thing. MARY ELLEN know what they want they don't usually bring a wife along and their styles change slowly.

Answer: By taking the children to see their grandparents and other relatives, you might awaken in your in-laws a feeling of responsibility toward the tots. In all fairness, give them a chance to redeem themselves; if they continue to show indifference to the welfare of your family, it's easy enough to stay away from them.

"There have a wonderful sense of humor," he said. "They enjoy a good joke, and when they meet here they rarely talk about ecclesiastical or political matters.

"The younger clergymen today are taller and more muscular than those of 30 years ago. You run into more and more 6 footers. The average collar size now is 15 to 15½, the coat size from 40 to 42.

"Among Protestant clergymen there is a trend toward more informality. The double breasted suit has taken the place of the long coat for daily wear, and the three-button jacket with natural shoulders is even more popular. The old wide-brimmed hat has given way to the homburg.

"Most clergymen today want to find a sensible compromise somewhere between the broadway drape shape and the out-of-date 'where's the corpse?' look."

Orthodox rabbis provide a special problem, as they abide by the Biblical injunction "thou shalt not wear a mingled stuff, linen and wool together." So Duffy rips apart rabbinical suits, replacing the linen with silk thread, which like wool is an animal fiber.

Duffy estimates he has outfitted more than 30,000 clergymen, has yet to meet a dshonest one. Only death or a long disease has ever kept a clergyman from meeting his bills.

The only exceptions were six in posters, all of whom, Duffy remarked cheerfully, "went to jail."

The day I visited "Duffy's, Tavern" one of his customers was the Most Rev. Paul Yupin, the 6-foot-1 Chinese archbishop of Nanking.

"The Communists have condemned me to death,' said Father Yupin, smiling. "Unlike the Japanese did, however, they put no price on my head. All the Communists want is my head — they don't want to pay for it."

Among Duffy's former customers is Pope Pius XII, who bought a topcoat during a trip to the United States when he was Cardinal Pacelli.

Duffy ceasures a note sent him by the late Rev. Ambrose Hyland, the famous chaplain who built "The Church of the Good Thief" inside the walls of Dannemora Prison.

"Will you please send me a couple of cassocks for my altar boys?" it read. "One is a 46 long and the other a 44 regular. Both are lifers."

made, specified maximums would be invoked for millage rates. They would supplant present maximums in counties and municipalities and would establish maximums in school districts, which presently are not limited in the amount of millage which may be voted.

For assessment at "market value," the proposed amendment provides that the state board "shall classify property according to type, use thereof and income therefrom and prepare and prescribe a meth od or formula for use . . . in determining the market value of property or classes of property."

The proposal also would require that budgets be aproved by voters for counties, municipalities and school districts before any property taxes are levied. The tax rate in eachuinstance would be necessary to finance the approved budget. If a projected budget should be rejected, the expenditures for the preceding year would constitute the budget.

Under the proposed amendment, the state would be prohibited from collecting a property tax For a number of years the General Asssmebly has not levied a property tax, but it still has that authority.

The state Board of Equalization which would play an important [illegible] under the proposal would [illegible] composed of three members [illegible] ing staggered 12-year terms. They would be appointed by the governor, subject to confirmation by the Senate.

New super-refined gasoline gives more power-with-protection than you've ever known!

▶ Now—Gulf refines out the "dirty-burning tail-end" of gasoline—the No. 1 trouble-maker in high-compression engines. Result: a cleaner-burning super-fuel that gives you thousands of extra miles of full engine power . . . free from knock or pre-ignition.

This lamp is burning the "DIRTY-BURNING TAIL-END" of gasoline which GULF refines out
This lamp is burning NEW SUPER-REFINED GULF NO-NOX, the cleaner-burning super-fuel

2 See for yourself: The spark plug shown here is from one of the many sets of original equipment plugs used in Gulf test fleet cars.

Though spark plugs normally need cleaning or replacement after 5,000 to 10,000 miles, this plug and its mates did not need cleaning or replacement in over 15,000 miles of city and country driving.

What's more besides giving your engine more complete protection, new Super-Refined Gulf NO-NOX gives you extra gas mileage in the short-trip, stop-and-go driving motorists do most . . . no knock, no pre-ignition . . . instant starts and fast, fuel-saving warm-up.

Paratroopers Dropped to Crashed Plane

WASHINGTON (AP) — The husband of former "Miss Arkansas" Pamela Camp Warren has been listed by the Defense Department as one of two Arkansans aboard a missing C-47.

First Lt. John W. Warren, formerly of Little Rock, and T. Sgt. Sterling F. Fitzgerald of Paragould were aboard the plane, the Defense Department said. The plane, which was en route from Rome to Manston, England, has been missing since Sunday.

Mrs. Warren was chosen "Miss Arkansas" in 1947. She is the daughter of Dr. Dolph Camp, president of Southern State College at Magnolia. She has been living with her parents since Lt. Warren entered the Air Force in 1950.

Lt. and Mrs. Warren met while attending Little Rock High School, and were married in 1949. They have one daughter, three-year-old Lynne.

Mrs. Warren had planned to leave Magnolia soon to join her husband, a jet pilot, in England.

Lt. Warren was a graduate of the University of Arkansas.

Sgt. Fitzgerald's mother, Mrs. Elizabeth H Fitzgerald, lives at 61 7 Third St. in Paragould.

NICE, France (UP) — U. S. Air Force officials conducting a search for a C-47 missing since Sunday with 21 airmen aboard today ordered paratroopers dropped on a mountain where wreckage has been spotted.

Six paratroopers were scheduled to descend on Mount L'Authion, 40 miles north of Nice, after a rescue plane radioed it spotted the wreckage high on the slopes of the Alpine peak.

About 31 American aircraft roamed above the snow-capped Alps along with French Navy and Air Force planes in a "maximum effort" search for the C-47, missing on a flight from Italy to England.

There were constant reports of wreckage sightings in France's "aircraft graveyard" which confused and hampered the search.

A U. S. helicopter pilot who took a look at the wreckage on Mount L'Authoin reported he believed it was not the missing American plane. But French and American rescue officials felt it would be necessary to make an on-the-ground investigation with paratroopers to be certain.

U. S. Navy planes from Italy and three Canadian destroyers searched the Mediterranean on the possibility that the C47 could have crashed into the sea.

An Air Force spokesman at Wiesbaden emphasized that both the pilot and co-pilot of the missing plane were fully qualified airmen although they had desk jobs at Manston Air Base, England, and made the flight to brush up on their flying technique.

Hospital, Med School Seek More Money

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The Arkansas State Hospital and the University's School of Medicine will seek more than six million dollars in additional funds from the 1955 Legislature.

Members of the Arkansas Legislative Council pre-session arm of the General Assembly were told by officials of the two institutions yesterday that the larger appropriations will be sought.

Dr. E. H Crawfis, superintendent of the state mental hospital, told the council members that he would ask appropriation of an additional five million dollars for the 1955-56 biennium.

He said most of the money would go to increase salaries of the hospital's staff and to repair buildings. Crawfis said salries must be increased if the hospital is to retain its staff of specialists.

At the Medical School the group was told that an increase of a million and a half dollars for the two-year period would be needed.

Dean Hayden Nichols said that if the money is not forthcoming the school's new 450-bed hospital, built at a cost of nine million dollars, will have to be operated at half its capacity.

He said the old hospital is being operated at $1,400,000 a year, and that the annual two million appropriation for construction of the new hospital will be needed in the future of operating funds.

After visiting the new hospital, Sen. Allen commented, "This is certainly nice I just hope we can afford it."

Another Fire in Missouri Prisoner

JEFFERSON CITY (AP) — The second fire in three days in the women's branch of Missouri's riot-torn state pepitentiary was put out quicqly by Jefferson City ifemen today.

There was no damage, except that done to materials stored in the room where the fires broke out, and no one was injured.

Hugh H. Waggoner, superintendent of the state highway patrol, aid five or six fires were set in the basement sewing room in an old administration building at the women's prison, which is about a half mile from the main pentientiary.

"We'r egoing to make an immediate investigation and arrest those we find did it," he said. "We'll charge them and put them in the Cole County Jail."

"We're going to fill up the Cole County jail."

The highway patrol head said one of two troopers on emergency duty at the woman's branch had checked the sewing room a few minutes before the fires were discovered and everything was in order. All the windows and doors were locked at that time.

But after the alarm was sounded by a trooper who smelled the smoke, a doorway to the first floor of the old building was found unlocked.

Two Arkansans on Crashed Plane

The plane was en route to Manston, England from Rome.

Listed as missing are:

Crop Harvest Near Completion in State

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The harvesting of major Arkansas crops is nearing completion, and agricultural conditions throughout the state generally are good, the Federal-State Crop Reporting Service said today.

In its weekly report on farming, the service said the cotton harvest is three-fourths completed, and that most of the rice crop has been reaped.

The supply of agricultural labor generally is adequate, but there still is a strong demand for cotton pickers.

Additional rain is needed for these crops which are planted in the fall, the service said.

The livestock industry, hard-hit by the summer drought which dried up pasture lands, is staging a comeback. The report said recent rains have revitalized pastures, and that the heavy marketing of cattle has shown a slight decline.

Malaria kills about 750,000 people in India every year.

Afternoon Ceremony Unites Samuel Barnett and Margaret Sue Gilbert

The wedding of Miss Margaret Sue Gilbert and Samuel Dean Barnett was solemnized on Sunday afternoon, the twenty-fourth of October, at three o'clock in the First Methodist Church of Hope. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Fletcher Gilbert. Mr. Barnett's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Ray LaRue Barnett of Camden.

The ceremony was performed by the Reverend Virgil D. Keeley before a background of white stock and gladioli with jade foliage in pedestal baskets. On either side of the altar were seven branched candelabra entwined with plumosa fern.

Prior to the ceremony, Mrs. Benjamin Hyatt, organist, presented a program of nuptial music. During the exchange of vows, she played "Liebestraum" and Clair de Lune," and accompanied Homer Jones who sang 'Ah Sweet Mystery of Life," and as the couple knelt at the altar, "The Lord's Prayer."

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a waltz length gown of white antique taffeta fashioned with a princess bodice. The skirt was accented by deep folds, and the neckline was complimented by Chantilly lace re-embroidered with iridescent paillettes and seed pearls. The bodice was covered with a fitted lace jacket made with a high neckline and fastened with tiny lace covered buttons. Her fingertip veil of silk illusion fell in misty tiers from a satin hat trimmed with seed pearls. She wore pearl earrings and carried a cascade bouquet of stephanotis and centered with a white orchid. For the traditional "something old" she tucked a handkerchief, which is an heirloom of the groom's family, into her bouquet.

Maid of honor was Miss Carol Jo Justice of Camden, Ark. Miss Ann Barr and Mrs. Joy Crumpler, both of Hope, were bridesmaids. The attendants were gowned in identical waltz length dresses of autumn green taffeta, featuring flared skirts and fitted bodices with "V" shaped necklines and cap sleeves. They wore matching bandeaux and carried colonial bouquets of bronze chrysanthemums.

The candlelighters, Misses Nina and Wanda Thompson, cousins of the bride, were dressed in gowns of frosted blue and dust rose, fashioned on the lines of the other attendants. They wore wristlets of pink pom asters.

Robert Thomas Barnett of Memphis, Tennessee, served his brother as best man.

Ushers were Charles W. Gilbert brother of the bride, Jim Hogg of Camden, and Fritz Darouse of Hammond, Louisiana.

The bride's mother chose a rose platina Juliette original with which she wore a matching rose jeweled hat. Her gloves were white and her other accessories were navy blue. Pinned at her shoulder was a purple-throated orchid.

The bridegroom's mother wore a blue lace dress and matching hat sprinkled with rhinestones. Her accessories were black and she wore white gloves. A purple throated orchid was pinned at her shoulder.

Immediately following the ceremony, a reception was held in the church parlors. Mrs. Wade Gilbert greeted the guests at the door and introduced them to the receiving line which included the bridal couple, their mothers, and the bride's attendants. Arrangements of white stock were placed throughout the parlor.

The bride's table was covered with white net decorated with white flowers and greenery. The three tiered wedding cake, incircled with flowers and greenery, and topped with a wedding bell, was placed in the center of the table. The crystal punch bowl was also encircled by flowers and greenery. Punch and cake were served by Mrs. Robert Thomas Barnett of Memphis, Tenn., and Mrs. Emory Thompson. Other members of the party were Mrs. Laroy Cameron, Miss Linda Gilbert and Miss Brenda Hill. Presiding at the bride's book was Mrs. Charles W. Gilbert, sister-in-law of the bride. Members of the party wore corsages of white gardenias.

For travel Mrs. Barnett chose a charcoal grey winter suit which was accented by black buttons, and charcoal grey accessories. She wore white gloves, and pinned a white orchid at her shoulder.

After a wedding trip to Monterey, Mexico, and other points of interest in Mexico, the couple will be at home in Hammond, La., where Mr. Barnett is employed.

Girl Meets Two Boys

Dear Miss Dix: I met Martin several months ago. He had just broken off with a girl he'd gone with for three years. He said he still loved her, but they broke up because neither would give in after an argument.

Before I met Martin. I had been going out with a boy I had to meet secretly since my parents didn't approve of him because our nationalities were different. We finally stopped dating because of a quarrel, which now seems to me to have been quite silly. Anyway, I began going steady with Martin, and led him to believe I was in love with him. My parents liked him, and when we progressed to the stage of discussing marriage, I just drifted along with his idea that we would marry. However, my heart still belongs to the other boy. What should I do? Go ahead and marry Martin to please him and my folks, or tell him I don't love him. Sometimes I feel the only reason I encourage Martin was to spite the other boy. T. R.

Spite Is Contemptible

Answer: Marrying one person to spite another is about the worst premise on which to found a marriage. Spite is contemptible at any time, on any occasion, but as a basis for marriage it is explosively dangerous. It would blind you to Martin's good points, and magnify his bad ones in time.

There are two things you must thrash out thoroughly in your own heart and mind; no one else can do this for you. Explore this theory that your intesrest in Martin is solely spiteful: if you come to the conclusion that is is, the only fair thing to do is dismiss him.

Second, examine carefully your feelings for the other boy. Are you really sure you still love him, or are you chasing a romatic will-o-the-wisp? Your friendship with him was based solely on secret meetings and it's quite probable that the clandestine feature of the association was what really made the romance thrilling Your parents' reason for objecting to him also comes into the picture. If his nationality was their only cause for frowning, they weren't being reasonable. But perhaps they saw ot her drawbacks they didn't acknowledge to you.

Marriage on the rebound is certainly not doomed to failure. In fact, I doubt if there are many married people who haven't at least a puppy love affair in the background, and many have survived heartbreaking disappointments. Of course, all former loves must be forever pigeon-holed in memory; never, must even a mention crop up. So, to sum up your dilemma, from the meager details that any one letter can give, I'd say if you truthfully examine your feelings for the former boy friend, you'll find they aren't as deep as you've been imagining. However Martin of your uncertainties, and ask his help in dissolving them.

Dear Miss Dix: I am a married man of 32, with three children and a very sweet wife. Last year I wrote a girl in Australia, who is 28 and single. We exchanged pictures, and have corresponded quite regularly. My wife has been very hurt about this, but I see no harm in it. I like to get letters from foreign countries. My wife thinks I should stop the correspondence. Do you agree? CHESTER C.

Answer: Most heartily, I do agree, especially since you admit you did not tell the girl you are married. You aren't being fair either to your wife or to the Australian lass. If you want foreign mail, why not write men in other countries? Followers of hobbies — stamp collecting and chess, for instance — carry on highly interesting correspondence with fellow enthusiasts. If you have a hobby, this is a way to further it. Writing to a single girl and pretending to be a single man is dangerous.

Dear Miss Dix: I am 22 and a widow with three small children My husband's people have never helped me with them, yet they expect me to bring the youngsters to see them. I don't particularly feel like visiting them, but I would like to do the right thing. MARY ELLEN know what they want they don't usually bring a wife along and their styles change slowly.

Answer: By taking the children to see their grandparents and other relatives, you might awaken in your in-laws a feeling of responsibility toward the tots. In all fairness, give them a chance to redeem themselves; if they continue to show indifference to the welfare of your family, it's easy enough to stay away from them.

"There have a wonderful sense of humor," he said. "They enjoy a good joke, and when they meet here they rarely talk about ecclesiastical or political matters.

"The younger clergymen today are taller and more muscular than those of 30 years ago. You run into more and more 6 footers. The average collar size now is 15 to 15½. the coat size from 40 to 42.

"Among Protestant clergymen there is a trend toward more informality. The double breasted suit has taken the place of the long coat for daily wear; and the three-button jacket with natural shoulders is even more popular. The old wide-brimmed hat has given way to the homburg.

"Most clergymen today want to find a sensible compromise somewhere between the broadway drape shape and the out-of-date 'where's the corpse?' look."

Orthodox rabbis provide a special problem, as they abide by the Biblical injunction "thou shalt not wear a mingled stuff, linen and wool together." So Duffy rips apart rabbinical suits, replacing the linen with silk thread, which like wool is an animal fiber.

Duffy estimates he has outfitted more than 30,000 clergymen, has yet to meet a dshonest one. Only death or a long disease has ever kept a clergyman from meeting his bills.

The only exceptions were six im posters, all of whom, Duffy remarked cheerfully, "went to jail."

The day I visited "Duffy's Tavern" one of his customers was the Most Rev. Paul Yupin, the 6-foot-1 Chinese archbishop of Nanking.

"The Communists have condemned me to death,' said Father Yupin, smiling. "Unlike the Japanese did, however, they put no price on my head. All the Communists want is my head — they don't want to pay for it."

Among Duffy's former customers is Pope Pius XII, who bought a topcoat during a trip to the United States when he was Cardinal Pacelli.

Duffy ceasures a note sent him by the late Rev. Ambrose Hyland, the famous chaplain who built "The Church of the Good Thief" inside the walls of Dannermora Prison.

Will you please send me a couple of cassocks for my altar boys?" it read. "One is a 46 long and the other a 44 regular. Both are lifers."

made, specified maximums would be invoked for millage rates. They would supplant present maximums in counties and municipalities and would establish maximums in school districts, which presently are not limited in the amount of millage which may be voted.

For assessment at "market value," the proposed amendment provides that the state board "shall classify property according to type, use thereof and income therefrom and prepare and prescribe a method or formula for use. . . in determining the market value of property or classes of property."

The proposal also would require that budgets be aproved by voters for counties, municipalities and school districts before any property taxes are levied. The tax rate in eachuinstance would be necessary to finance the approved budget. If a projected budget should be rejected, the expenditures for the preceding year would constitute the budget.

Under the proposed amendment, the state would be prohibited from collecting a property tax For a number of years the General Assmebly has not levied a property tax, but it still has that authority.

New super-refined gasoline gives more power-with-protection than you've ever known!

Now — Gulf refines out the "dirty-burning tail-end" of gasoline — the No. 1 trouble-maker in high-compression engines. Result: a cleaner-burning super-fuel that gives you thousands of extra miles of full engine power . . . free from knock or pre-ignition.

This lamp is burning NEW SUPER-REFINED GULF NO-NOX, the cleaner-burning super-fuel

2 See for yourself: The spark plug shown here is from one of the many sets of original equipment plugs used in Gulf test fleet cars.

Though spark plugs normally need cleaning or replacement after 5,000 to 10,000 miles, this plug and its mates did not need cleaning or replacement in over 15,000 miles of city and country driving.

What's more besides giving your engine more complete protection, new Super-Refined Gulf NO-NOX gives you extra gas mileage in the short-trip, stop-and-go driving motorists do most . . . no knock, no pre-ignition . . . instant starts and fast, fuel-saving warm-up.

Paratroopers Dropped to Crashed Plane

WASHINGTON (AP) — The husband of former "Miss Arkansas" Pamela Camp Warren has been listed by the Defense Department as one of two Arkansans aboard a missing C-47.

First Lt. John W. Warren, formerly of Little Rock, and T. Sgt. Sterling F. Fitzgerald of Paragould were aboard the plane, the Defense Department said. The plane, which was en route from Rome to Manston, England, has been missing since Sunday.

Mrs. Warren was chosen "Miss Arkansas" in 1947. She is the daughter of Dr. Dolph Camp, president of Southern State College at Magnolia. She has been living with her parents since Lt. Warren entered the Air Force in 1950.

Lt. and Mrs. Warren met while attending Little Rock High School, and were married in 1949. They have one daughter, three-year-old Lynne.

Mrs. Warren had planned to leave Magnolia soon to join her husband, a jet pilot, in England.

Lt. Warren was a graduate of the University of Arkansas.

Sgt. Fitzgerald's mother, Mrs. Elizabeth H Fitzgerald, lives at 61 7 Third St. in Paragould.

NICE, France (UP) — U. S. Air Force officials conducting a search for a C-47 missing since Sunday with 21 airmen aboard today ordered paratroopers dropped on a mountain where wreckage has been spotted.

Six paratroopers were scheduled to descend on Mount L'Authion, 40 miles north of Nice, after a rescue plane radioed it spotted the wreckage high on the slopes of the Alpine peak.

About 31 American aircraft roamed above the snow-capped Alps along with French Navy and Air Force planes in a "maximum effort" search for the C-47, missing on a flight from Italy to England.

There were constant reports of wreckage sightings in France's "aircraft graveyard" which confused and hampered the search.

A U. S. helicopter pilot who took a look at the wreckage on Mount L'Authoin reported he believed it was not the missing American plane. But French and American rescue officials felt it would be necessary to make an on-the-ground investigation with paratroopers to be certain.

U. S. Navy planes from Italy and three Canadian destroyers searched the Mediterranean on the possibility that the C47 could have crashed into the sea.

An Air Force spokesman at Wiesbaden emphasized that both the pilot and co-pilot of the missing plane were fully qualified airmen although they had desk jobs at Manston Air Base, England, and made the flight to brush up on their flying technique.

Hospital, Med School Seek More Money

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The Arkansas State Hospital and the University's School of Medicine will seek more than six million dollars in additional funds from the 1955 Legislature.

Members of the Arkansas Legislative Council pre-session arm o fthe General Assembly were told by officials of the two institutions yesterday that the larger appropriations will be sought.

Dr. E. H Crawfis, superintendent of the state mental hospital, told the council members that he would ask appropriation of an additional five million dollars for the 1955-56 biennium.

He said most of the money would go to increase salaries of the hospital's staff and to repair buildings. Crawfis said salries must be increased if the hocpital is to retain its staff of specialists

At the Medical School the group was told that an increase of a million and a half dollars for the two-year period would be needed.

Dean Hayden Nichols said that if the money is not forthcoming the school's new 450-bed hospital, built at a cost of nine million dollars, will have to be operated at half its capacity.

He said the old hospital is being operatdd at $1,400,000 a year, and that the annual two million appropriation for construction of the new hospital will be needed in the future of operating funds.

After visiting the new hospital, Sen. Allen commented, "This is certainly nice I just hope we can afford it."

Another Fire in Missouri Prisoner

JEFFERSON CITY (AP) — The second fire in three days in the women's branch of Missouri's riot-torn state pepitentiary was put out quicqly by Jefferson City ifemen today.

There was no damage, except that done to materials stored in the room where the fires broke out, and no one was injured.

Hugh H. Waggoner, superintendent of the state highway patrol, aid five or six fires were set in the basement sewing room in an old administration building at the women's prison, which is about a half mile from the main pentientiary.

"We'r egoing to make an immediate investigation and arrest those we find did it," he said. "We'll charge them and put them in the Cole County Jail."

"We're going to fill up the Cole County jail."

The highway patrol head said one of two troopers on emergency duty at the woman's branch had checked the sewing room a few minutes before the fires were discovered and everything was in order. All the windows and doors were locked at that time.

But after the alarm was sounded by a trooper who smelled the smoke, a doorway to the first floor of the old building was found unlocked.

Crop Harvest Near Completion in State

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The harvesting of major Arkansas crops is nearing completion, and agricultural conditions throughout the state generally are good, the Federal-State Crop Reporting Service said today.

In its weekly report on farming, the service said the cotton harvest is three-fourths completed, and that most of the rice crop has been reaped.

The supply of agricultural labor generally is adequate, but there still is a strong demand for cotton pickers.

Additional rain is needed for these crops which are planted in the fall, the service said.

The livestock industry, hard-hit by the summer drought which dried up pasture lands, is staging a comeback. The report said recent rains have revitalized pastures, and that the heavy marketing of cattle has shown a slight decline.

Malaria kills about 750,000 people in India every year.

Afternoon Ceremony Unites Samuel Barnett and Margaret Sue Gilbert

The wedding of Miss Margaret Sue Gilbert and Samuel Dean Barnett was solemnized on Sunday afternoon, the twenty-fourth of October, at three o'clock in the First Methodist Church of Hope. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Fletcher Gilbert. Mr. Barnett's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Ray LaRue Barnett of Camden.

The ceremony was performed by the Reverend Virgil D. Keeley before a background of white stock and gladioli with jade foliage in pedestal baskets. On either side of the altar were seven branched candelabra entwined with plumosa fern.

Prior to the ceremony, Mrs. Benjamin Hyatt, organist, presented a program of nuptial music. During the exchange of vows, she played "Liebestraum" and Clair de Lune," and accompanied Homer Jones who sang 'Ah Sweet Mystery of Life," and as the couple knelt at the altar, "The Lord's Prayer."

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a waltz length gown of white antique taffeta fashioned with a princess bodice. The skirt was accented by deep folds, and the neckline was complimented by Chantilly lace re-embroidered with iridescent paillettes and seed pearls. The bodice was covered with a fitted lace jacket made with a high neckline and fastened with tiny lace covered buttons. Her fingertip veil of silk illusion fell in misty tiers from a satin hat trimmed with seed pearls. She wore pearl earrings and carried a cascade bouquet of stephanotis and centered with a white orchid. For the traditional "something old" she tucked a handkerchief, which is an heirloom of the groom's family, into her bouquet.

Maid of honor was Miss Carol Jo Justice of Camden, Ark. Miss Ann Barr and Mrs. Joy Crumpler, both of Hope, were bridesmaids. The attendants were gowned in identical waltz length dresses of autumn green taffeta, featuring flared skirts and fitted bodices with "V" shaped necklines and cap sleeves. Ushers were Charles W. Gilbert brother of the bride, Jim Hogg of Camden, and Fritz Darouse of Hammond, Louisiana.

The bride's mother chose a rose platina Juliette original with which she wore a matching rose jeweled hat. Her gloves were white and her other accessories were navy blue. Pinned at her shoulder was a purple-throated orchid.

The bridegroom's mother wore a blue lace dress and matching hat sprinkled with rhinestones. Her accessories were black and she wore white gloves. A purple throated orchid was pinned at her shoulder.

Immediately following the ceremony, a reception was held in the church parlors. Mrs. Wade Gilbert greeted the guests at the door and introduced them to the receiving line which included the bridal couple, their mothers, and the bride's attendants. Arrangements of white stock were placed throughout the parlor.

The bride's table was covered with white net decorated with white flowers and greenery. The three tiered wedding cake, incircled with flowers and greenery, and topped with a wedding bell, was placed in the center of the table. The crystal punch bowl was also encircled by flowers and greenery. Punch and cake were served by Mrs. Robert Thomas Barnett of Memphis, Tenn., and Mrs. Emory Thompson. Other members of the party were Mrs. Laroy Cameron, Miss Linda Gilbert and Miss Brenda Hill. Presiding at the bride's book was Mrs. Charles W. Gilbert, sister-in-law of the bride. Members of the party wore corsages of white gardenias.

For travel Mrs. Barnett chose a charcoal grey winter suit which was accented by black buttons, and charcoal grey accessories. She wore white gloves, and pinned a white orchid at her shoulder.

After a wedding trip to Monterey, Mexico, and other points of interest in Mexico, the couple will be at home in Hammond, La., where Mr. Barnett is employed.

Girl Meets Two Boys

Dear Miss Dix: I met Martin several months ago. He had just broken off with a girl he'd gone with for three years, He said he still loved her, but they broke up because neither would give in after an argument.

Before I met Martin. I had been going out with a boy I had to meet secretly since my parents didn't approve of him because our nationalities were different. We finally stopped dating because of a quarrel, which now seems to me to have been quite silly. Anyway, I began going steady with Martin, and led him to believe I was in love with him. My parents liked him, and when we progressed to the stage of discussing marriage, I just drifted along with his idea that we would marry. However, my heart still belongs to the other boy. What should I do? Go ahead and marry Martin to please him and my folks, or tell him I don't love him. Sometimes I feel the only reason I encourage Martin was to spite the other boy. T. R.

Spite Is Contemptible

Answer: Marrying one person to spite another is about the worst premise on which to found a marriage. Spite is contemptible at any time, on any occasion, but as a basis for marriage it is explosively dangerous. It would blind you to Martin's good points, and magnify his bad ones in time.

There are two things you must thrash out thoroughly in your own heart and mind; no one else can do this for you. Explore this theory that your intesrest in Martin is solely spiteful: if you come to the conclusion that is is, the only fair thing to do is dismiss him.

Second, examine carefully your feelings for the other boy. Are you really sure you still love him, or are you chasing a romatic will-o-the-wisp? Your friendship with him was based solely on secret meetings and it's quite probable that the clandestine feature of the association was what really made the romance thrilling Your parents' reason for objecting to him also comes into the picture. If his nationality was their only cause for frowning, they weren't being reasonable. But perhaps they saw ot her drawbacks they didn't acknowledge to you.

Marriage on the rebound is certainly not doomed to failure. In fact, I doubt if there are many married people who haven't at least a puppy love affair in the background, and many have survived heartbreaking disappointments. Of course, all former loves must be forever pigeon-holed in memory; never, must even a mention crop up. So, to sum up your dilemma, from the meager details that any one letter can give, I'd say if you truthfully examine your feelings for the former boy friend, you'll find they aren't as deep as you've been imagining. However Martin of your uncertainties, and ask his help in dissolving them.

Dear Miss Dix: I am a married man of 32, with three children and a very sweet wife. Last year I wrote a girl in Australia, who is 28 and single. We exchanged pictures, and have corresponded quite regularly. My wife has been very hurt about this. but I see no harm in it. I like to get letters from foreign countries. My wife thinks I shoud stop the correspondence. Do you agree? CHESTER C.

Answer: Most heartily, I do agree, especially since you admit you did not tell the girl you are married. You aren't being fair either to your wife or to the Australian lass. If you want foreign mail, why not write men in other countries? Followers of hobbies — stamp collecting and chess, for instance — carry on highly interesting correspondence with fellow enthusiasts. If you have a hobby, this is a way to further it. Writing to a single girl and pretending to be a single man is dangerous.

Dear Miss Dix: I am 22 and a widow with three small children My husband's people have never helped me with them, yet they expect me to bring the youngsters to see them. I don't particularly feel like visiting them, but I would like to do the right thing. MARY ELLEN know what they want they don't usually bring a wife along and their styles change slowly.

Answer: By taking the children to see their grandparents and other relatives, you might awaken in your in-laws a feeling of responsibility toward the tots. In all fairness, give them a chance to redeem themselves; if they continue to show indifference to the welfare of your family, it's easy enough to stay away from them.

"There have a wonderful sense of humor," he said. "They enjoy a good joke, and when they meet here they rarely talk about ecclesiastical or political matters.

"The younger clergymen today are taller and more muscular than those of 30 years ago. You run into more and more 6 footers. The average collar size now is 15 to 15½. the coat size from 40 to 42.

"Among Protestant clergymen there is a trend toward more informality. The double breasted suit has taken the place of the long coat for daily wear; and the three-button jacket with natural shoulders is even more popular. The old wide-brimmed hat has given way to the homburg.

"Most clergymen today want to find a sensible compromise somewhere between the broadway drape shape and the out-of-date 'where's the corpse?' look."

Orthodox rabbis provide a special problem, as they abide by the Biblical injunction "thou shalt not wear a mingled stuff, linen and wool together." So Duffy rips apart rabbinical suits, replacing the linen with silk thread, which like wool is an animal fiber.

Duffy estimates he has outfitted more than 30,000 clergymen, has yet to meet a dshonest one. Only death or a long disease has ever kept a clergyman from meeting his bills.

The only exceptions were six im posters, all of whom, Duffy remarked cheerfully, "went to jail."

The day I visited "Duffy's Tavern" one of his customers was the Most Rev. Paul Yupin, the 6-foot-1 Chinese archbishop of Nanking.

"The Communists have condemned me to death,' said Father Yupin, smiling. "Unlike the Japanese did, however, they put no price on my head. All the Communists want is my head — they don't want to pay for it."

Among Duffy's former customers is Pope Pius XII, who bought a topcoat during a trip to the United States when he was Cardinal Pacelli.

Duffy ceasures a note sent him by the late Rev. Ambrose Hyland, the famous chaplain who built "The Church of the Good Thief" inside the walls of Dannemora Prison.

Will you please send me a couple of cassocks for my altar boys?" it read. "One is a 46 long and the other a 44 regular. Both are lifers."

made, specified maximums would be invoked for millage rates. They would supplant present maximums in counties and municipalities and would establish maximums in school districts, which presently are not limited in the amount of millage which may be voted.

For assessment at "market value,' the proposed amendment provides that the state board "shall classify property according to type, use thereof and income therefrom and prepare and prescribe a method or formula for use . . . in determining the market value of property or classes of property."

The proposal also would require that budgets be aproved by voters for counties, municipalities and school districts before any property taxes are levied. The tax rate in eachuinstance would be necessary to finance the approved budget. If a projected budget should be rejected, the expenditures for the preceding year would constitute the budget.

Under the proposed amendment, the state would be prohibited from collecting a property tax For a number of years the General Assembly has not levied a property tax, but it still has that authority.

Was Offered $100,000 for One Afternoon

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD (P) — How would you like to earn $100.00 for an afternoon's work?

Impossible, you say? Yet Mario Lanza claims he was offered such a deal.

"When I was in Palm Springs last year," said the bulky tenor, "my agent came to me with an offer from the Metropolitan Opera House. Rudolf Bing offered me $100,000 to sing one opera on one of their shows, to be sent to various theaters throughout the country via theater television."

In New York, Bing denied making the offer and added: "Who is he? Oh, that film tenor. I heard a few of his records the other day I hardly know the man and I'm not altogether sure I would want to. I do know that none of our singers would sing for such chicken feed as $100,000."

Actually, Metropolitan's reported top for a single performance is about $1,500, averaging perhaps less than $1,000.

Lanza said he turned down the offer. He said he'll accept when the money is $150,000, but he added:

"Money, it is nothing. Absolutely nothing to me. But unfortunately, money is the standard by which you are judged in this business."

Concern over money is one of the principal causes of Lanza's two year retirement after being on top of the show business world. He had been earning a million a year, yet the United States slapped a lien on his earnings for back income taxes. The blow added to his emotional upset.

"The government claimed I owed a quarter of a million dollars," he reported. "In the past year, I have paid them over a quarter-million, but I am still behind, according to them. I still must pay income tax on the money I earned to pay them."

His entire $40,000 check for his TV debut the celebrated "record session" — went to Uncle Sam.

"But I am very fortunate," Lanza said. "I n six or eight months of work, I can wipe out everything I owe."

Judging from his offers, that is no idle boast. His agents report that he has received deals of "much more than $50,000 a week from Las Vegas casinos. Lanza will not consider them. He is opposed to singing in night clubs.

How is he going to recover his financial stability?

He is starting with the TV appearances. He does one Thursday and another Nov. 18. He plans to make personal appearances in a few weeks. He will start off with dates with symphony orchestras in the East, singing a few songs on the program. A full-scale concert tour will follow after he makes a movie.

His agents say a movie deal will be announced any day.

"Whatever I make will be for 50 per cent of the profits,' Lanza said. "Several studios have been perfectly willing to go for such deals. They said I could write my own ticket.'

Lanza said that his fans have remained loyal throughout his layoff. The mail reaction to his TV appearance was mountainous, he said.

"That's one thing I didn't neglect while I wasn't working the fans, he said. "I insisted that the government allow me the expense of several secretaries to answer the fan mail.'

37 Senators to Be Elected Next Week

WASHINGTON (UP—) Thirty-seven senators and 432 members of the House of Representatives will be elected one week from today to complete the membership of the 84th Congress.

Sen. Margaret Chase Smith, Republican, and three Republican House members were elected in Maine last September. Maine also elected a Democratic governor, Edmund S. Muskie.

Republicans have acknowledged a Democratic trend in some areas and various polls reflect such a condition. The poll consensus seems to be that the Democrats are likely to win control of both the House and Senate.

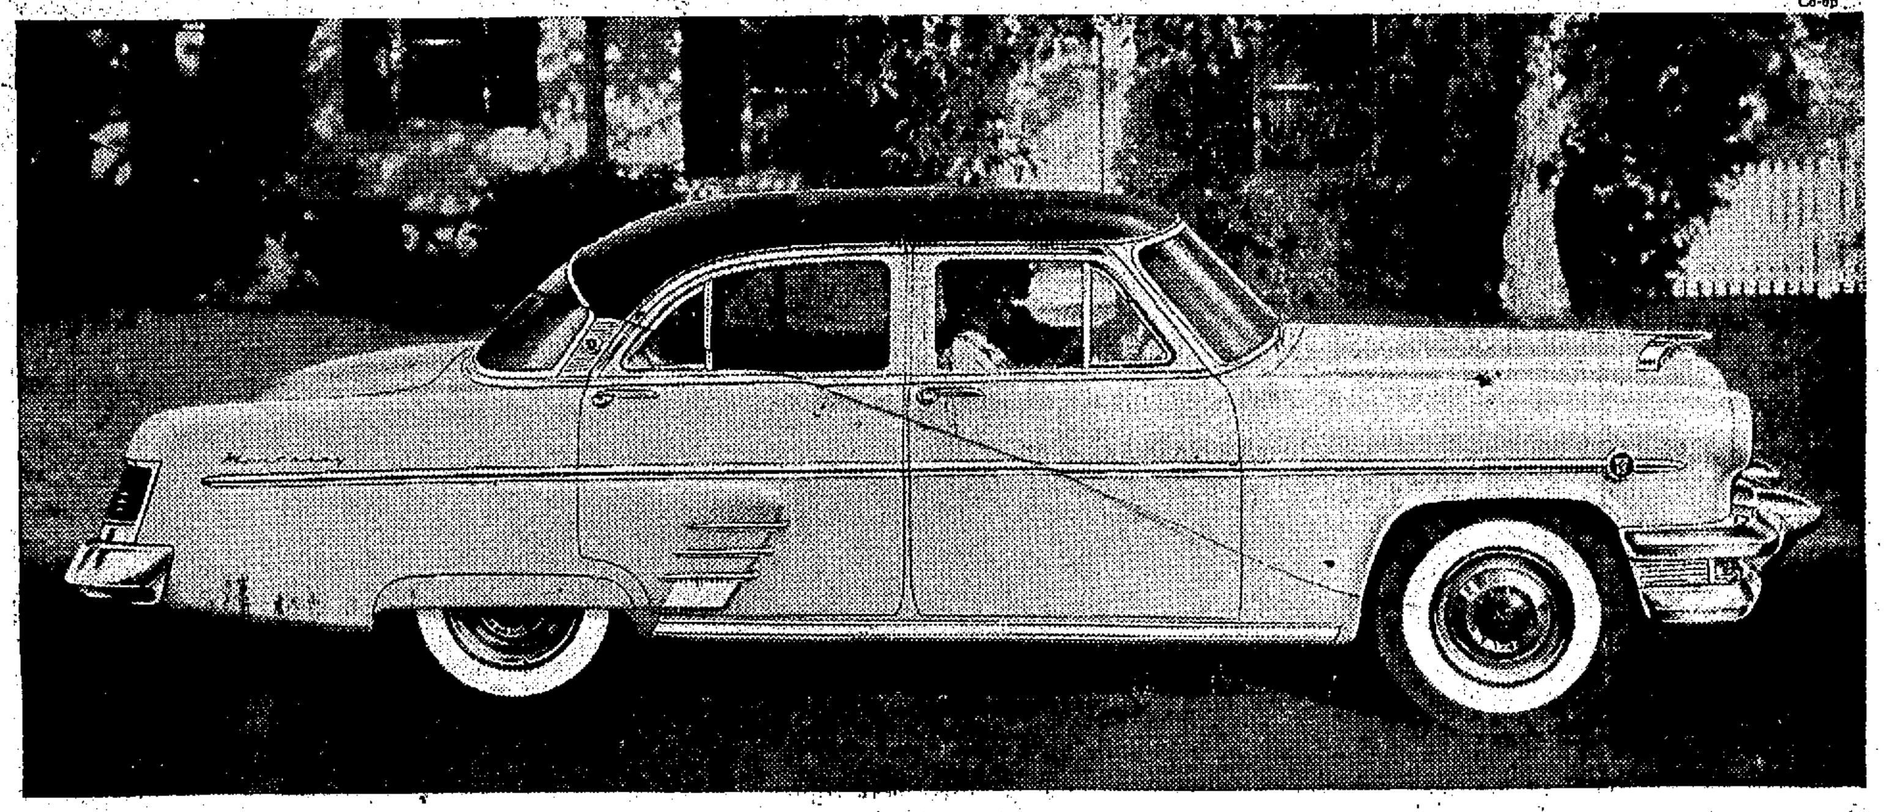
Motor Trend magazine shows Mercury is

LOWEST COST CAR IN ITS CLASS TO OWN



13-car test by leading automotive magazine covers all costs of owning and operating a car—shows Mercury has lowest cost per mile in its class!

What does it really cost to own and operate various 1954 cars? Motor Trend magazine decided to find out—in probably the most detailed study of true car cost ever made.

All the costs that go into car ownership were covered, including depreciation. Thirteen cars in all price classes were compared on a 10,000-mile basis. It was a survey that duplicated—as Motor Trend points out—"an average experience of a car owner in the first year's operation and ownership of a car." The results as reported in the July issue:

Mercury beat all cars tested in its class for low ownership cost per mile—beat all cars in the test in every class except for one in the so-called "low-price" field.

And, remember, for all its economy, Mercury has a new 161-hp overhead valve V-8 engine. You enjoy the easy handling advantages of the only ball-joint front wheel suspension in its field. And you get a car that holds the "class championship" for resale value.

Best of all, you couldn't pick a better time to buy a Mercury. We are now offering special year-end deals that top any we have ever made. Come in and see!

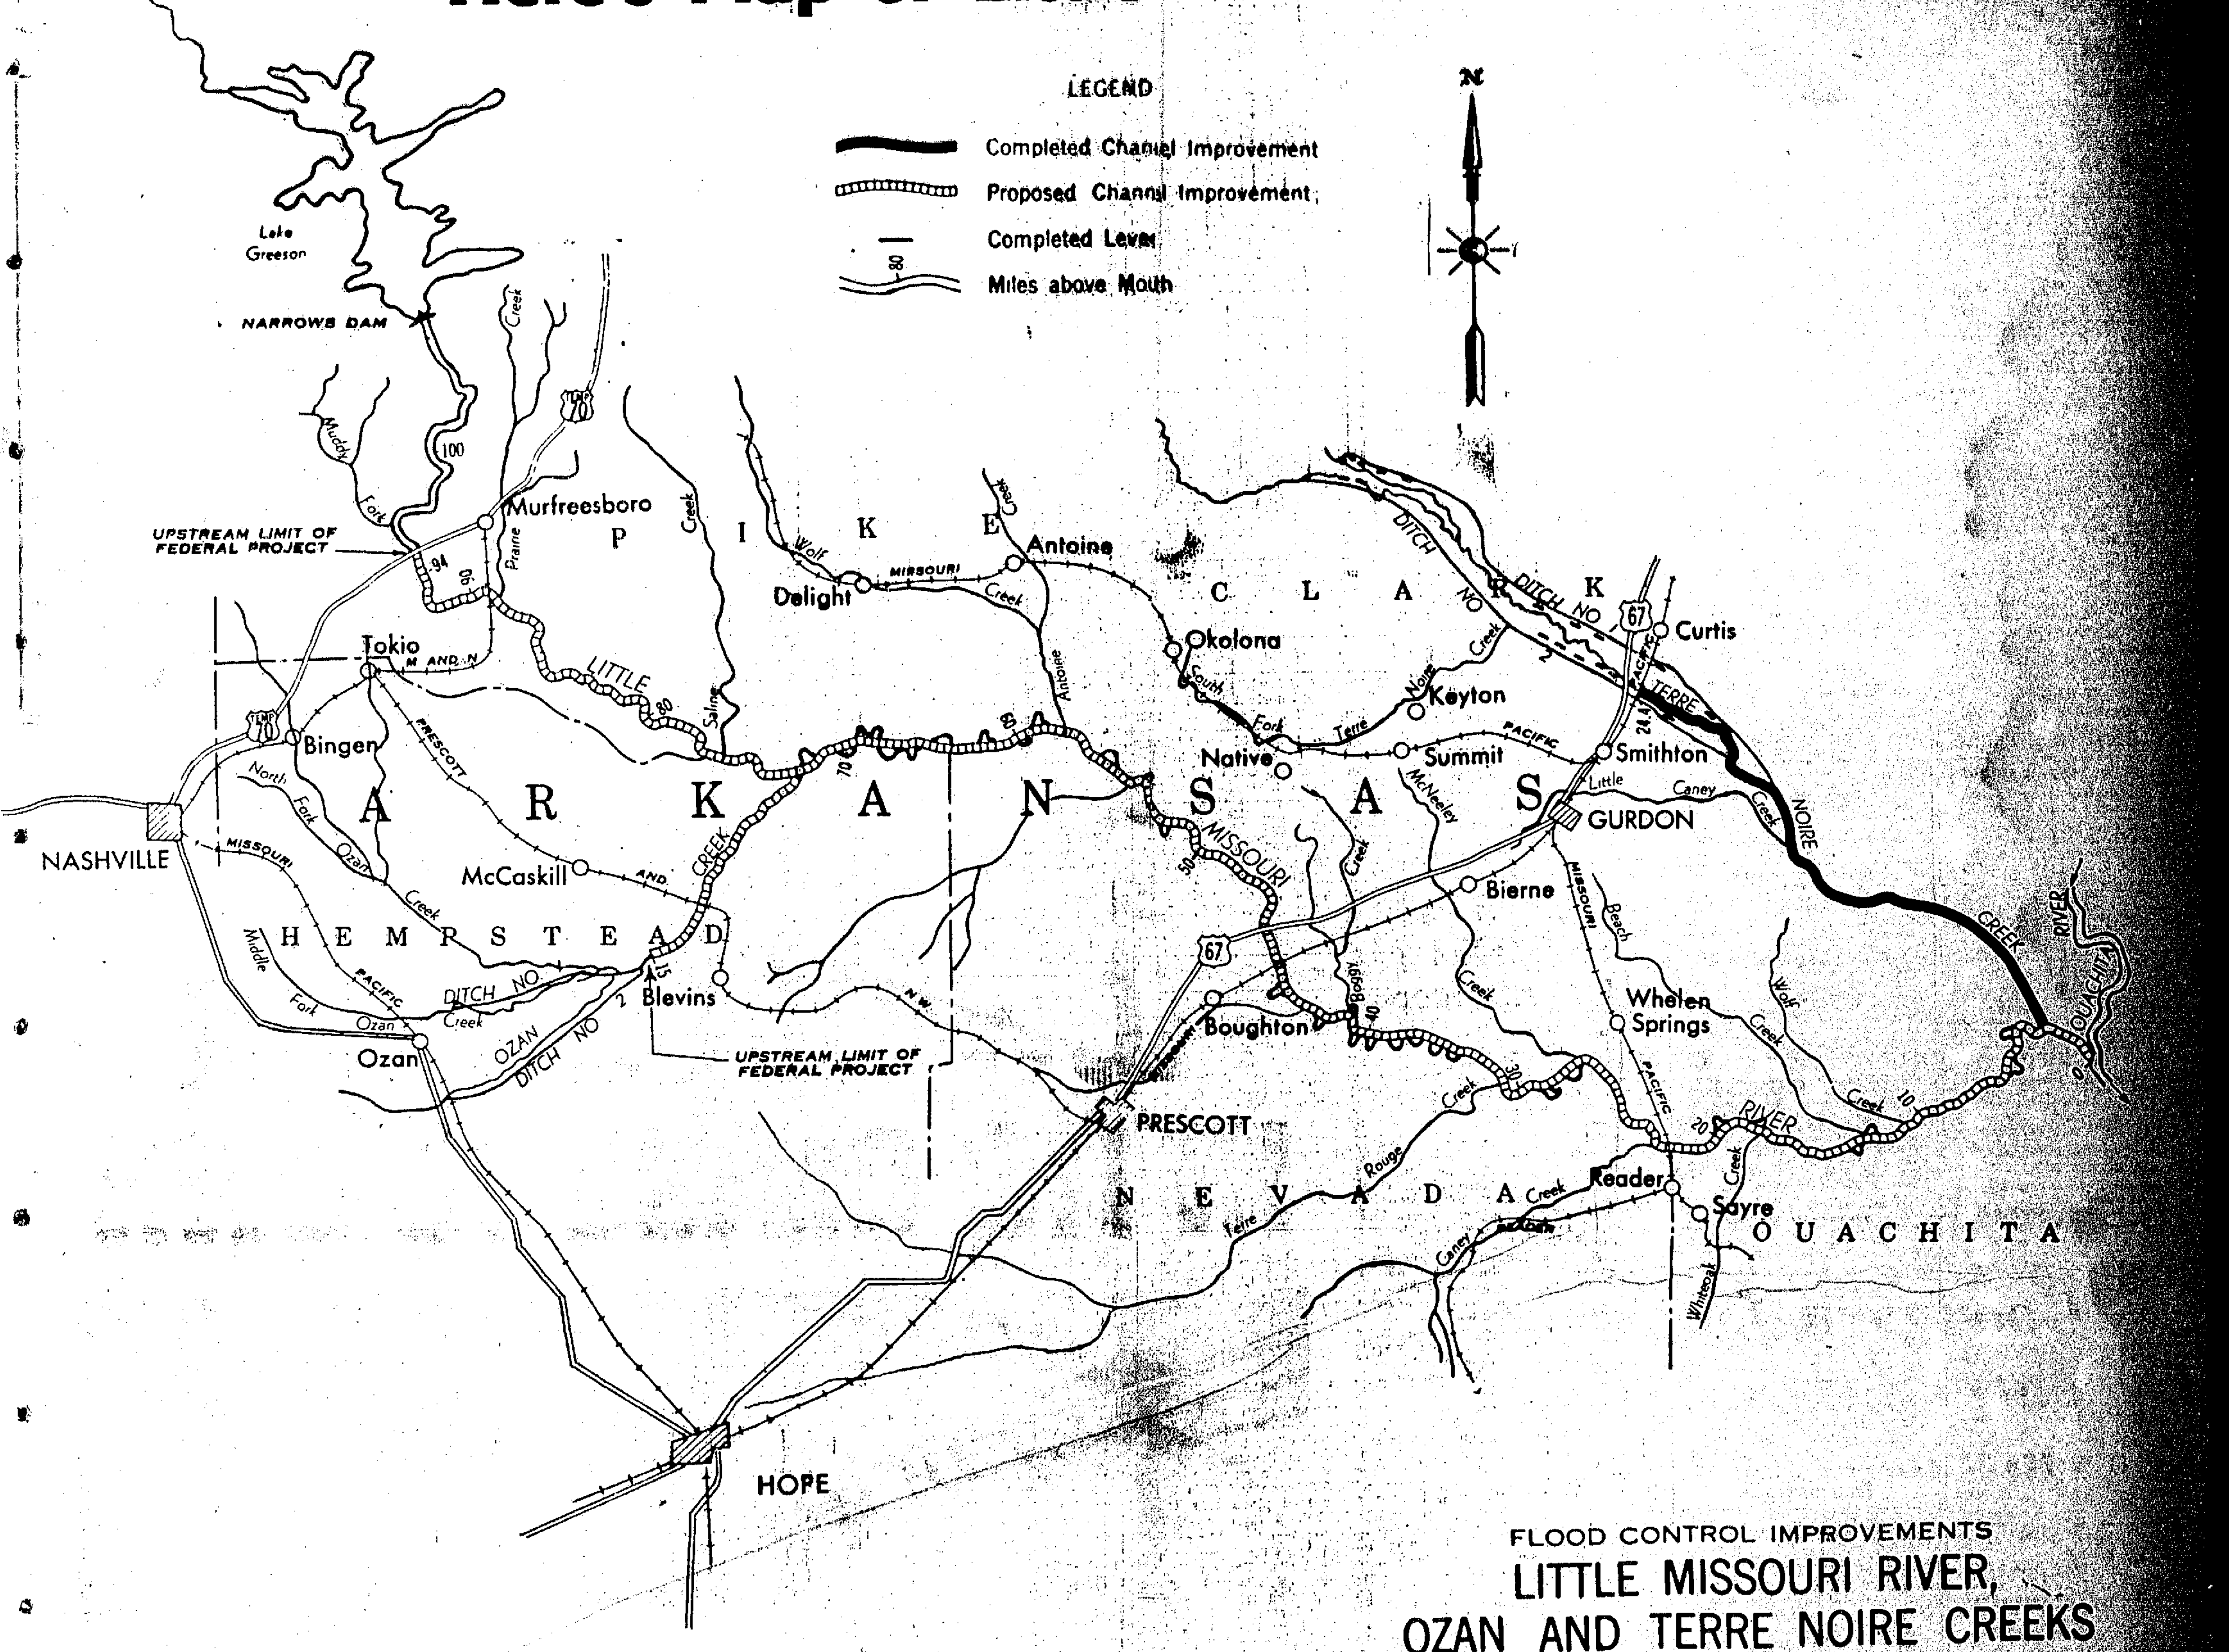
Here's Map of Little Missouri-Ozan Creek Project



$535,000 Job to Be Launched Soon By Corps Of Engineers

(Map and text released by Corps of Engineers, Vicksburg Dist)

The construction of the flood-control project for the Little Missouri River Basin was authorized by the Flood Control Act of 18 August 1941.

The project includes:

The multiple-purpose Narrows Dam and Reservoir, completed in June 1951

Channel improvement and levee repairs on Terre Noire Creek, which was completed in April 1948.

Channel improvement on the Little Missopri River below Murfreesboro, Arkansas, and on the lower 15 miles of Ozan Creek.

Funds for the construction of the cannel improvement work on Little Missouri River and Ozan Creek were included in the fiscal year 1955 appropriations, and the Vicksburg District, Corps of Engineers, is now engaged in the preparation of plans and specifications for the work. It is expected that a contract will be let for the improvement within the next few months.

The work on Little Missouri River will consist of the excavation of a total of 31 channel cut-offs between the mouth of the river and the mouth of Ozan Creek, and for clearing and snagging of the channel upstream from the mouth of Ozan Creek to the vicinity of Murfreesboro.

The improvement on Ozan Creek consists of the excavation of 20 cut-offs located between its mouth and mile 15.

These two projects will complete the comprehensive flood-control improvements for the Little Missouri River Basin, and will provide essentially complete protection against flooding to approximately 20,000 acres in the flood plain downstream from the Narrows Reservoir and partial protection against flooding to approximately 73,000 acres.

The total estimated cost of the Little Missouri River and Ozan Creek projects is $535,000.

Strong Tea Brought Change in Will

LONDON (P) — Mrs. Ada Biggs liked her tea "so strong that a mouse could dance on it," her son told a probate judge yesterday.

The son, George R. Dodd, said his mother cut him out of her will because during the postwar rationing days the tea at his house was not quite that sturdy.

Mrs. Biggs died in 1951, at 70, after making a new will which left most of her money to charity.

The court voided the new will on the ground that she was unsound mind at the time. It accepted a previous will made in 1944 which divided the 18,500-pound ($51,800 estate between Dodd and his sister.

Both Parties Given Some Good Advise

By ED CRAGH
For James Marlow

WASHINGTON (P) Advice to the Democrats: Keep plugging. Advice to the Republicans: Quit groaning.

These words of counsel have gone out in the closing days of the congressional election campaign from two men pretty high up in their parties President Eisenhower for the GOP and National Chairman Stephen A. Mitchell for the Democrats.

If the Eisenhower and Mitchell statements told the whole story, there would be no doubt the Republicans are in trouble and the Democrats riding high, with the election only 11 days away.

Party leaders, even presidents, don't always gauge the situation correctly, however. Besides, their campaign statements are designed for a specific purpose in this case, to build a fire under party workers. Such statements don't necessarily reveal the speaker's private opinion of who's ahead.

The President spoke at a GOP rally in New York yesterday a day that saw him wade much further into the thick of the campaign than he had done before. He even made a face for the politicoes and the photographers, pulling down the corners of his mouth in a grimace of dejection.

And he declared the Republicans are never going to win if their leaders "are going around pulling their faces this way."

What the GOP needs, said Eisenhower, is a "fighting heart" the kind Jack Dempsey had when, after being belted out of the ring by Louis Firpo in 1933, he came back and knocked Firpo halfway home to his native Argentina in the second round.

The President wasn't saying the Republicans are on the ropes, much less out of the ring entirely.

But his picture of a glum GOP in need of more back bone was in sharp contrast to the picture Steve Mitchell was painting of the Democrats in Washington.

Mitchell said victory is "within our grasp." But the Democrats can still boot the election, he said, by relaxing too soon.

"I am deeply disturbed," he went on, "by reports of voter apathy and Democratic complacency. The two together could spell victory for the Republicans."

This is something new for the Democrats. They haven't been troubled by overconfidence since the first two Franklin D. Roosevelt terms. The Republicans seemed to have established a monopoly in overconfidence in 1948 to their bitter regret, since the Democrats beat them.

It wasn't just happenstance, by the way, that Eisenhower picked New York as the place to start campaigning in earnest. That's a state both parties are determined to capture not only for its stake in this election, but because of 1956 presidential politics too.

On the face of it, the Democrats have more to gain a governorship. They'd like to put their candidate, Averell Harriman, in the seat long held by the GOP's Thomas E. Dewey. If they do, Harriman will be a big man and quite possibly a presidential [illegible] in the next Democratic [illegible] Convention.

On the other hand the GOP candidate for governor, Sen. [illegible] M. Ives, can keep his Sen[illegible] if he loses. If he wins he [illegible] undoubtedly would name [illegible] Eisenhower Republican [illegible] him in the Senate.

Was Offered $100,000 for One Afternoon

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — How would you like to earn $100,00 for an afternoon's work?

Impossible, you say? Yet Mario Lanza claims he was offered such a deal.

"When I was in Palm Springs last year," said the bulky tenor, "my agent came to me with an offer from the Metropolitan Opera House. Rudolf Bing offered me $100,000 to sing one opera on one of their shows, to be sent to various theaters throughout the country via theater television."

In New York, Bing denied making the offer and added: "Who is he? Oh, that film tenor. I heard a few of his records the other day I hardly know the man and I'm not altogether sure I would want to. I do know that none of our singers would sing for such chicken feed as $100,000."

Actually, Metropolitan's reported top for a single performance is about $1,500, averaging perhaps less than $1,000.

Lanza said he turned down the offer. He said he'll accept when the money is $150,000. but he added:

"Money, it is nothing. Absolutely nothing to me. But unfortunately, money is the standard by which you are judged in this business."

Concern over money is one of the principal causes of Lanza's two year retirement after being on top of the show business world. He had been earning a million a year, yet the United States slapped a lien on his earnings for back income taxes. The blow added to his emotional upset.

"The government claimed I owed a quarter of a million dollars," he reported. "In the past year, I have paid them over a quarter-million, but I am still behind, according to them. I still must pay income tax on the money I earned to pay them."

His entire $40,000 check for his TV debut the celebrated "record session" — went to Uncle Sam.

"But I am very fortunate," Lanza said. "I n six or eight months of work. I can wipe out everything I owe."

Judging from his offers, that is no idle boast. His agents report that he has received deals of "much more than $50,000 a week from Las Vegas casinos. Lanza will not consider them. He is opposed to singing in night clubs.

How is he going to recover his financial stability?

He is starting with the TV appearances. He does one Thursday and another Nov. 18. He plans to make personal appearances in a few weeks. He will start off with dates with symphony orchestras in the East, singing a few songs on the program. A full-scale concert tour will follow after he makes a movie.

His agents say a movie deal will be announced any day.

"Whatever I make will be for 50 per cent of the profits,' Lanza said. "Several studios have been perfectly willing to go for such deals. They said I could write my own ticket.'

Lanza said that his fans have remained loyal throughout his layoff. The mail reaction to his TV appearance was mountainous, he said.

"That's one thing I didn't neglect while I wasn't working the fans, he said. "I insisted that the government allow me the expense of several secretaries to answer the fan mail.'

Strong Tea Brought Change in Will

LONDON (AP) — Mrs. Ada Biggs liked her tea "so strong that a mouse could dance on it," her son told a probate judge yesterday.

The son, George R. Dodd, said his mother cut him out of her will because during the postwar rationing days the tea at his house was not quite that sturdy.

Mrs. Biggs died in 1951, at 70, after making a new will which left most of her money to charity.

The court voided the new will on the ground that she was unsound mind at the time. It accepted a previous will made in 1944 which divided the 18,500-pound ($51,800 estate between Dodd and his sister.

$535,000 Job to Be Launched Soon By Corps Of Engineers

(Map and text released by Corps of Engineers, Vicksburg Dist)

The construction of the flood-control project for the Little Missouri River Basin was authorized by the Flood Control Act of 18 August 1941.

The project includes:

The multiple-purpose Narrows Dam and Reservoir, completed in June 1951

Channel improvement and levee repairs on Terre Noire Creek, which was completed in April 1948.

Channel improvement on the Little Missopri River below Murfreesboro, Arkansas, and on the lower 15 miles of Ozan Creek.

Funds for the construction of the cannel improvement work on Little Missouri River and Ozan Creek were included in the fiscal year 1955 appropriations, and the Vicksburg District, Corps of Engineers, is now engaged in the preparation of plans and specifications for the work. It is expected that a contract will be let for the improvement within the next few months.

The work on Little Missouri River will consist of the excavation of a total of 31 channel cut-offs between the mouth of the river and the mouth of Ozan Creek, and for clearing and snagging of the channel upstream from the mouth of Ozan Creek to the vicinity of Murfreesboro.

The improvement on Ozan Creek consists of the excavation of 20 cut-offs located between its mouth and mile 15.

These two projects will complete the comprehensive flood-control improvements for the Little Missouri River Basin, and will provide essentially complete protection against flooding to approximately 20,000 acres in the flood plain downstream from the Narrows Reservoir and partial protection against flooding to approximately 73,000 acres.

The total estimated cost of the Little Missouri River and Ozan Creek projects is $535,000.

WASHINGTON (AP) Advice to the Democrats: Keep plugging. Advice to the Republicans: Quit groaning.

These words of counsel have gone out in the closing days of the congressional election campaign from two men pretty high up in their parties President Eisenhower for the GOP and National Chairman Stephen A. Mitchell for the Democrats.

If the Eisenhower and Mitchell statements told the whole story, there would be no doubt the Republicans are in trouble and the Democrats riding high, with the election only 11 days away.

Party leaders, even presidents, don't always gauge the situation correctly, however. Besides, their campaign statements are designed for a specific purpose in this case, to build a fire under party workers. Such statements don't necessarily reveal the speaker's private opinion of who's ahead.

The President spoke at a GOP rally in New York yesterday a day that saw him wade much further into the thick of the campaign than he had done before. He even made a face for the politicoes and the photographers, pulling down the corners of his mouth in a grimace of dejection.

And he declared the Republicans are never going to win if their leaders "are going around pulling their faces this way."

What the GOP needs, said Eisenhower, is a "fighting heart" the kind Jack Dempsey had when, after being belted out of the ring by Louis Firpo in 1933, he came back and knocked Firpo halfway home to his native Argentina in the second round.

The President wasn't saying the Republicans are on the ropes, much less out of the ring entirely.

But his picture of a glum GOP in need of more back bone was in sharp contrast to the picture Steve Mitchell was painting of the Democrats in Washington.

Mitchell said victory is "within our grasp." But the Democrats can still boot the election, he said, by relaxing too soon.

"I am deeply disturbed,' he went on, "by reports of voter apathy and Democratic complacency. The two together could spell victory for the Republicans."

This is something new for the Democrats. They haven't been troubled by overconfidence since the first two Franklin D. Roosevelt terms. The Republicans seemed to have established a monopoly in overconfidence in 1948 to their bitter regret, since the Democrats beat them.

It wasn't just happenstance, by the way, that Eisenhower picked New York as the place to start campaigning in earnest. That's a state both parties are determined to capture not only for its stake in this election, but because of 1956 presidential politics too.

On the face of it, the Democrats have more to gain a governorship. They'd like to put their candidate, Averell Harriman, in the seat long held by the GOP's Thomas E. Dewey. If they do, Harriman will be a big man and quite possibly a presidential con in the next Democratic Na Convention.

On the other hand the GOP didate for governor, Sen M. Ives, can keep his Sen if he loses. If he wins he undoubtedly would name Eisenhower Republican him in the Senate.

But here is a Republic What happens to its New York state Dewey, who has has in effect turned to Ives. What happen drops them? Could might keep control

Was Offered $100,000 for One Afternoon

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — How would you like to earn $100.00 for an afternoon's work?

Impossible, you say? Yet Mario Lanza claims he was offered such a deal.

"When I was in Palm Springs last year," said the bulky tenor, "my agent came to me with an offer from the Metropolitan Opera House. Rudolf Bing offered me $100,000 to sing one opera on one of their shows, to be sent to various theaters throughout the country via theater television."

In New York, Bing denied making the offer and added: "Who is he? Oh, that film tenor. I heard a few of his records the other day I hardly know the man and I'm not altogether sure I would want to. I do know that none of our singers would sing for such chicken feed as $100,000."

Actually, Metropolitan's reported top for a single performance is about $1,500, averaging perhaps less than $1,000.

Lanza said he turned down the offer. He said he'll accept when the money is $150,000. but he added:

"Money, it is nothing. Absolutely nothing to me. But unfortunately, money is the standard by which you are judged in this business."

Concern over money is one of the principal causes of Lanza's two year retirement after being on top of the show business world. He had been earning a million a year, yet the United States slapped a lien on his earnings for back income taxes. The blow added to his emotional upset.

"The government claimed I owed a quarter of a million dollars," he reported. "In the past year, I have paid them over a quarter-million, but I am still behind, according to them. I still must pay income tax on the money I earned to pay them."

His entire $40,000 check for his TV debut the celebrated "record session" — went to Uncle Sam.

"But I am very fortunate," Lanza said. "I n six or eight months of work. I can wipe out everything I owe."

Judging from his offers, that is no idle boast. His agents report that he has received deals of "much more than $50,000 a week from Las Vegas casinos. Lanza will not consider them. He is opposed to singing in night clubs.

How is he going to recover his financial stability?

He is starting with the TV appearances. He does one Thursday and another Nov. 18. He plans to make personal appearances in a few weeks. He will start off with dates with symphony orchestras in the East, singing a few songs on the program. A full-scale concert tour will follow after he makes a movie.

His agents say a movie deal will be announced any day.

"Whatever I make will be for 50 per cent of the profits,' Lanza said. "Several studios have been perfectly willing to go for such deals. They said I could write my own ticket.'

Lanza said that his fans have remained loyal throughout his layoff. The mail reaction to his TV appearance was mountainous, he said.

"That's one thing I didn't neglect while I wasn't working the fans, he said. "I insisted that the government allow me the expense of several secretaries to answer the fan mail.'

37 Senators to Be Elected Next Week

By LYL C. WILSON

WASHINGTON (UP) — Thirty-seven senators and 432 members of the House of Representatives will be elected one week from today to complete the membership of the 84th Congress.

Sen. Margaret Chase Smith, Republican, and three Republican House members were elected in Maine last September. Maine also elected a Democratic governor, Edmund S. Muskie.

Republicans have acknowledged a Democratic trend in some areas and various polls reflect such a condition. The poll consensus seems to be that the Democrats are likely to win control of both the House and Senate.

The expiring 83rd Congress was elected with President Eisenhower who ran far ahead of his congressional ticket. At the opening of the 83rd Congress in January, 1953, Republicans had merely courtesy control in the Senate and a small actual margin in the House. The division was:

Senate: Republicans 48, Democrats 47, Independent 1.

House: Republicans 221, Democrats 212, Independent 1, vacant 1.

The division in the 83rd Congress as it ends:

Senate: Republicans 49, Democrats 46, Independent 1.

House: Republicans 218, Democrats 212, Independent 1, Cacant 4.

Independent Senator Wayne Morse of Oregon did not vote against Republican organization of the Senate in January, 1953, but he has announced that he will vote next January with the Democrats on organization of the Senate of the 84th Congress. Democrats, therefore, need pick up only two Senate seats to obtain an organizational majority of 49. They need six more House seats for an organizatinal majority in the 84th Congress.

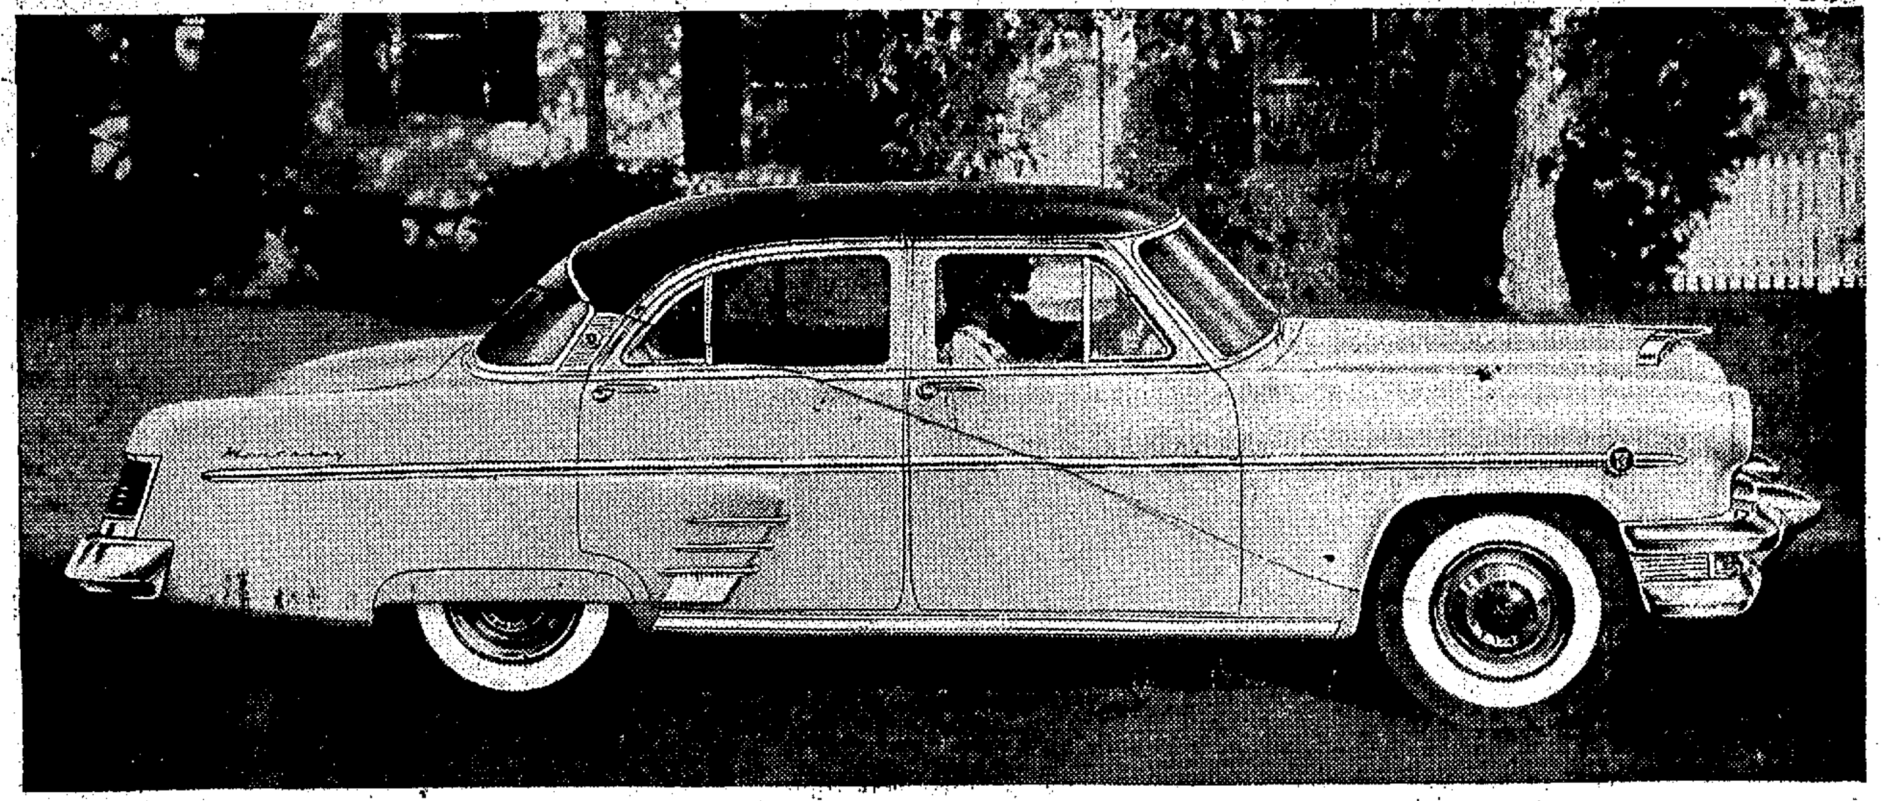
Motor Trend magazine shows Mercury is

LOWEST COST CAR IN ITS CLASS TO OWN



13-car test by leading automotive magazine covers all costs of owning and operating a car—shows Mercury has lowest cost per mile in its class!

What does it really cost to own and operate various 1954 cars? Motor Trend magazine decided to find out—in probably the most detailed study of true car cost ever made.

All the costs that go into car ownership were covered, including depreciation. Thirteen cars in all price classes were compared on a 10,000-mile basis. It was a survey that duplicated—as Motor Trend points out—"an average experience of a car owner in the first year's operation and ownership of a car." The results as reported in the July issue:

Mercury beat all cars tested in its class for low ownership cost per mile—beat all cars in the test in every class except for one in the so-called "low-price" field.

And, remember, for all its economy, Mercury has a new 161-hp overhead valve V-8 engine. You enjoy the easy handling advantages of the only ball-joint front wheel suspension in its field. And you get a car that holds the "class championship" for resale value.

Best of all, you couldn't pick a better time to buy a Mercury. We are now offering special year-end deals that top any we have ever made. Come in and see!

Was Offered $100,000 for One Afternoon

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — How would you like to earn $100.00 for an afternoon's work?

Impossible, you say? Yet Mario Lanza claims he was offered such a deal.

"When I was in Palm Springs last year," said the bulky tenor, "my agent came to me with an offer from the Metropolitan Opera House. Rudolf Bing offered me $100,000 to sing one opera on one of their shows, to be sent to various theaters throughout the country via theater television."

In New York, Bing denied making the offer and added: "Who is he? Oh, that film tenor. I heard a few of his records the other day I hardly know the man and I'm not altogether sure I would want to. I do know that none of our singers would sing for such chicken feed as $100,000."

Actually, Metropolitan's reported top for a single performance is about $1,500, averaging perhaps less than $1,000.

Lanza said he turned down the offer. He said he'll accept when the money is $150,000. but he added:

"Money, it is nothing. Absolutely nothing to me. But unfortunately, money is the standard by which you are judged in this business."

Concern over money is one of the principal causes of Lanza's two year retirement after being on top of the show business world. He had been earning a million a year, yet the United States slapped a lien on his earnings for back income taxes. The blow added to his emotional upset.

"The government claimed I owed a quarter of a million dollars," he reported. "In the past year, I have paid them over a quarter-million, but I am still behind, according to them. I still must pay income tax on the money I earned to pay them."

His entire $40,000 check for his TV debut the celebrated "record session" — went to Uncle Sam.

"But I am very fortunate," Lanza said. "I n six or eight months of work. I can wipe out everything I owe."

Judging from his offers, that is no idle boast. His agents report that he has received deals of "much more than $50,000 a week from Las Vegas casinos. Lanza will not consider them. He is opposed to singing in night clubs.

How is he going to recover his financial stability?

He is starting with the TV appearances. He does one Thursday and another Nov. 18. He plans to make personal appearances in a few weeks. He will start off with dates with symphony orchestras in the East, singing a few songs on the program. A full-scale concert tour will follow after he makes a movie.

His agents say a movie deal will be announced any day.

"Whatever I make will be for 50 per cent of the profits,' Lanza said. "Several studios have been perfectly willing to go for such deals. They said I could write my own ticket.'

Lanza said that his fans have remained loyal throughout his layoff. The mail reaction to his TV appearance was mountainous, he said.

"That's one thing I didn't neglect while I wasn't working the fans, he said. "I insisted that the government allow me the expense of several secretaries to answer the fan mail.'

37 Senators to Be Elected Next Week

By LYL C. WILSON

WASHINGTON (UP) — Thirty-seven senators and 432 members of the House of Representatives will be elected one week from today to complete the membership of the 84th Congress.

Sen. Margaret Chase Smith, Republican, and three Republican House members were elected in Maine last September. Maine also elected a Democratic governor, Edmund S. Muskie.

Republicans have acknowledged a Democratic trend in some areas and various polls reflect such a condition. The poll consensus seems to be that the Democrats are likely to win control of both the House and Senate.

The expiring 83rd Congress was elected with President Eisenhower who ran far ahead of his congressional ticket. At the opening of the 83rd Congress in January, 1953, Republicans had merely courtesy control in the Senate and a small actual margin in the House. The division was:

Senate: Republicans 48, Democrats 47, Independent 1.

House: Republicans 221, Democrats 212, Independent 1, vacant 1.

The division in the 83rd Congress as it ends:

Senate: Republicans 49, Democrats 46, Independent 1.

House: Republicans 218, Democrats 212, Independent 1, Cacant 4.

Independent Senator Wayne Morse of Oregon did not vote against Republican organization of the Senate in January, 1953, but he has announced that he will vote next January with the Democrats on organization of the Senate of the 84th Congress. Democrats, therefore, need pick up only two Senate seats to obtain an organizational majority of 49. They need six more House seats for an organizatinal majority in the 84th Congress.

Motor Trend magazine shows Mercury is

LOWEST COST CAR IN ITS CLASS TO OWN

13-car test by leading automotive magazine covers all costs of owning and operating a car—shows Mercury has lowest cost per mile in its class!

What does it really cost to own and operate various 1954 cars? Motor Trend magazine decided to find out—in probably the most detailed study of true car cost ever made.

All the costs that go into car ownership were covered, including depreciation. Thirteen cars in all price classes were compared on a 10,000-mile basis. It was a survey that duplicated—as Motor Trend points out—"an average experience of a car owner in the first year's operation and ownership of a car." The results as reported in the July issue:

Mercury beat all cars tested in its class for low ownership cost per mile—beat all cars in the test in every class except for one in the so-called "low-price" field.

And, remember, for all its economy, Mercury has a new 161-hp overhead valve V-8 engine. You enjoy the easy handling advantages of the only ball-joint front wheel suspension in its field. And you get a car that holds the "class championship" for resale value.

Best of all, you couldn't pick a better time to buy a Mercury. We are now offering special year-end deals that top any we have ever made. Come in and see!

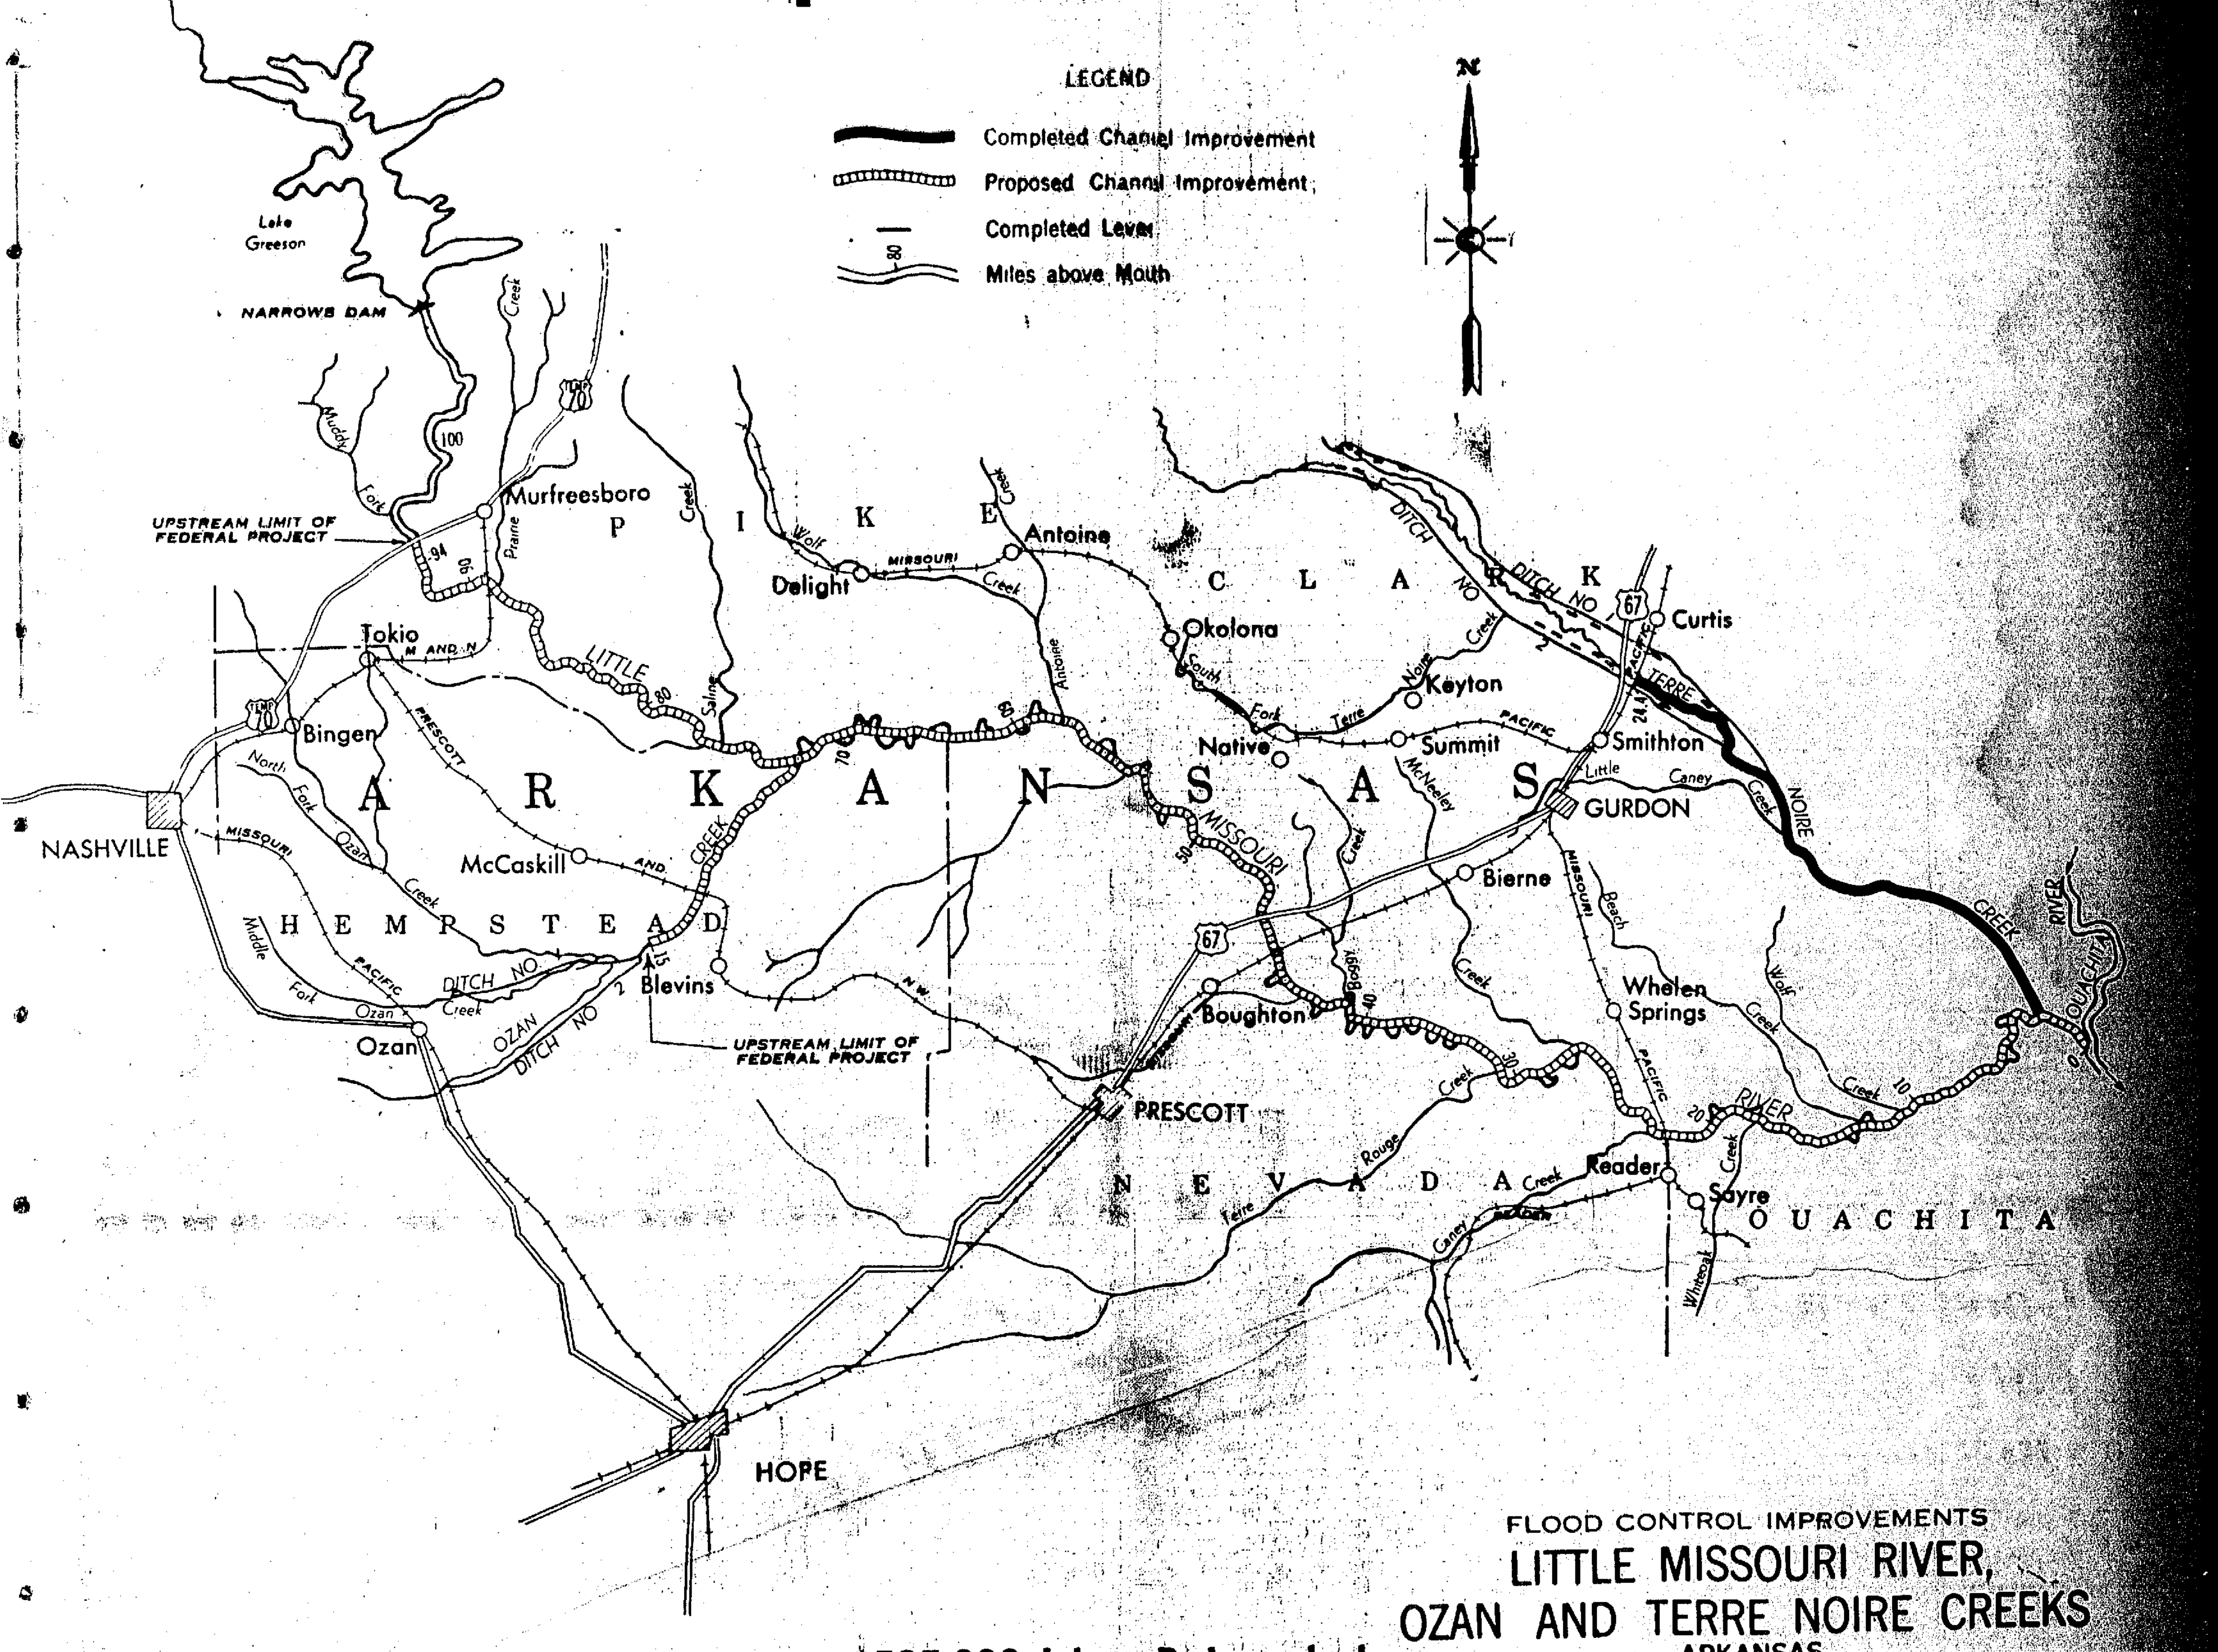
Here's Map of Little Missouri-Ozan Creek Proje



$535,000 Job to Be Launched Soon By Corps Of Engineers

(Map and text released by Corps of Engineers, Vicksburg Dist)

The construction of the flood-control project for the Little Missouri River Basin was authorized by the Flood Control Act of 18 August 1941.

The project includes:

The multiple-purpose Narrows Dam and Reservoir, completed in June 1951

Channel improvement and levee repairs on Terre Noire Creek, which was completed in April 1948.

Channel improvement on the Little Missopri River below Murfreesboro, Arkansas, and on the lower 15 miles of Ozan Creek.

Funds for the construction of the cannel improvement work on Little Missouri River and Ozan Creek were included in the fiscal year 1955 appropriations, and the Vicksburg District, Corps of Engineers, is now engaged in the preparation of plans and specifications for the work. It is expected that a contract will be let for the improvement within the next few months.

The work on Little Missouri River will consist of the excavation of a total of 31 channel cut-offs between the mouth of the river and the mouth of Ozan Creek, and for clearing and snagging of the channel upstream from the mouth of Ozan Creek to the vicinity of Murfreesboro.

The improvement on Ozan Creek consists of the excavation of 20 cut-offs located between its mouth and mile 15.

These two projects will complete the comprehensive flood-control improvements for the Little Missouri River Basin, and will provide essentially complete protection against flooding to approximately 20,000 acres in the flood plain downstream from the Narrows Reservoir and partial protection against flooding to approximately 73,000 acres.

The total estimated cost of the Little Missouri River and Ozan Creek projects is $535,000.

Strong Tea Brought Change in Will

LONDON (AP) — Mrs. Ada Biggs liked her tea "so strong that a mouse could dance on it," her son told a probate judge yesterday.

The son, George R. Dodd, said his mother cut him out of her will because during the postwar rationing days the tea at his house was not quite that sturdy.

Mrs. Biggs died in 1951, at 70, after making a new will which left most of her money to charity.

The court voided the new will on the ground that she was unsound mind at the time. It accepted a previous will made in 1944 which divided the 18,500-pound ($51,800 estate between Dodd and his sister.

Both Parties Given Some Good Advise

By ED CRAGH
For James Marlow

WASHINGTON (AP) Advice to the Democrats: Keep plugging. Advice to the Republicans: Quit groaning.

These words of counsel have gone out in the closing days of the congressional election campaign from two men pretty high up in their parties President Eisenhower for the GOP and National Chairman Stephen A. Mitchell for the Democrats.

If the Eisenhower and Mitchell statements told the whole story, there would be no doubt the Republicans are in trouble and the Democrats riding high, with the election only 11 days away.

Party leaders, even presidents, don't always gauge the situation correctly, however. Besides, their campaign statements are designed for a specific purpose in this case, to build a fire under party workers. Such statements don't necessarily reveal the speaker's private opinion of who's ahead.

The President spoke at a GOP rally in New York yesterday a day that saw him wade much further into the thick of the campaign than he had done before. He even made a face for the politicoes and the photographers, pulling down the corners of his mouth in a grimace of dejection.

And he declared the Republicans are never going to win if their leaders "are going around pulling their faces this way."

What the GOP needs, said Eisenhower, is a "fighting heart" the kind Jack Dempsey had when, after being belted out of the ring by Louis Firpo in 1933, he came back and knocked Firpo halfway home to his native Argentina in the second round.

The President wasn't saying the Republicans are on the ropes, much less out of the ring entirely.

But his picture of a glum GOP in need of more back bone was in sharp contrast to the picture Steve Mitchell was painting of the Democrats in Washington.

Mitchell said victory is "within our grasp." But the Democrats can still boot the election, he said, by relaxing too soon.

"I am deeply disturbed,' he went on, "by reports of voter apathy and Democratic complacency. The two together could spell victory for the Republicans."

This is something new for the Democrats. They haven't been troubled by overconfidence since the first two Franklin D. Roosevelt terms. The Republicans seemed to have established a monopoly in overconfidence in 1948 to their bitter regret, since the Democrats beat them.

It wasn't just happenstance, by the way, that Eisenhower picked New York as the place to start campaigning in earnest. That's a state both parties are determined to capture not only for its stake in this election, but because of 1956 presidential politics too.

On the face of it, the Democrats have more to gain a governorship. They'd like to put their candidate, Averell Harriman, in the seat long held by the GOP's Thomas E. Dewey. If they do, Harriman will be a big man and quite possibly a presidential [illegible] in the next Democratic N[illegible] Convention.

37 Senators to Be Elected Next Week

By LYL C. WILSON

WASHINGTON (UP) — Thirty-seven senators and 432 members of the House of Representatives will be elected one week from today to complete the membership of the 84th Congress.

Sen. Margaret Chase Smith, Republican, and three Republican House members were elected in Maine last September. Maine also elected a Democratic governor, Edmund S. Muskie.

Republicans have acknowledged a Democratic trend in some areas and various polls reflect such a condition. The poll consensus seems to be that the Democrats are likely to win control of both the House and Senate.

The expiring 83rd Congress was elected with President Eisenhower who ran far ahead of his congressional ticket. At the opening of the 83rd Congress in January, 1953, Republicans had merely courtesy control in the Senate and a small actual margin in the House. The division was:

Senate: Republicans 49, Democrats 46, Independent 1.

House: Republicans 218, Democrats 212, Independent 1, Cacant 4.

Independent Senator Wayne Morse of Oregon did not vote against Republican organization of the Senate in January, 1953, but he has announced that he will vote next January with the Democrats on organization of the Senate of the 84th Congress. Democrats, therefore, need pick up only two Senate seats to obtain an organizational majority of 49. They need six more House seats for an organizatinal majority in the 84th Congress.

LOWEST COST CAR IN ITS CLASS TO OWN

13-car test by leading automotive magazine covers all costs of owning and operating a car—shows Mercury has lowest cost per mile in its class!

What does it really cost to own and operate various 1954 cars? Motor Trend magazine decided to find out—in probably the most detailed study of true car cost ever made.

All the costs that go into car ownership were covered, including depreciation. Thirteen cars in all price classes were compared on a 10,000-mile basis. It was a survey that duplicated—as Motor Trend points out—"an average experience of a car owner in the first year's operation and ownership of a car." The results as reported in the July issue:

Mercury beat all cars tested in its class for low ownership cost per mile—beat all cars in the test in every class except for one in the so-called "low-price" field.

And, remember, for all its economy, Mercury has a new 161-hp overhead valve V-8 engine. You enjoy the easy handling advantages of the only ball-joint front wheel suspension in its field. And you get a car that holds the "class championship" for resale value.

Best of all, you couldn't pick a better time to buy a Mercury. We are now offering special year-end deals that top any we have ever made. Come in and see!

$535,000 Job to Be Launched Soon By Corps Of Engineers

(Map and text released by Corps of Engineers, Vicksburg Dist)

The construction of the flood-control project for the Little Missouri River Basin was authorized by the Flood Control Act of 18 August 1941.

The project includes:

The multiple-purpose Narrows Dam and Reservoir, completed in June 1951

Channel improvement and levee repairs on Terre Noire Creek, which was completed in April 1948.

Channel improvement on the Little Missopri River below Murfreesboro, Arkansas, and on the lower 15 miles of Ozan Creek.

Funds for the construction of the cannel improvement work on Little Missouri River and Ozan Creek were included in the fiscal year 1955 appropriations, and the Vicksburg District, Corps of Engineers, is now engaged in the preparation of plans and specifications for the work. It is expected that a contract will be let for the improvement within the next few months.

The work on Little Missouri River will consist of the excavation of a total of 31 channel cut-offs between the mouth of the river and the mouth of Ozan Creek, and for clearing and snagging of the channel upstream from the mouth of Ozan Creek to the vicinity of Murfreesboro.

The improvement on Ozan Creek consists of the excavation of 20 cut-offs located between its mouth and mile 15.

These two projects will complete the comprehensive flood-control improvements for the Little Missouri River Basin, and will provide essentially complete protection against flooding to approximately 20,000 acres in the flood plain downstream from the Narrows Reservoir and partial protection against flooding to approximately 73,000 acres.

The total estimated cost of the Little Missouri River and Ozan Creek projects is $535,000.

Strong Tea Brought Change in Will

LONDON (AP) — Mrs. Ada Biggs liked her tea "so strong that a mouse could dance on it," her son told a probate judge yesterday.

The son, George R. Dodd, said his mother cut him out of her will because during the postwar rationing days the tea at his house was not quite that sturdy.

Mrs. Biggs died in 1951, at 70, after making a new will which left most of her money to charity.

The court voided the new will on the ground that she was unsound mind at the time. It accepted a previous will made in 1944 which divided the 18,500-pound ($51,800 estate between Dodd and his sister.

Both Parties Given Some Good Advise

By ED CRAGH
For James Marlow

WASHINGTON (AP) Advice to the Democrats: Keep plugging. Advice to the Republicans: Quit groaning.

These words of counsel have gone out in the closing days of the congressional election campaign from two men pretty high up in their parties President Eisenhower for the GOP and National Chairman Stephen A. Mitchell for the Democrats.

If the Eisenhower and Mitchell statements told the whole story, there would be no doubt the Republicans are in trouble and the Democrats riding high, with the election only 11 days away.

Party leaders, even presidents, don't always gauge the situation correctly, however. Besides, their campaign statements are designed for a specific purpose in this case, to build a fire under party workers. Such statements don't necessarily reveal the speaker's private opinion of who's ahead.

The President spoke at a GOP rally in New York yesterday a day that saw him wade much further into the thick of the campaign than he had done before. He even made a face for the politicoes and the photographers, "pulling down the corners of his mouth in a grimace of dejection.

And he declared the Republicans are never going to win if their leaders "are going around pulling their faces this way."

What the GOP needs, said Eisenhower, is a "fighting heart" the kind Jack Dempsey had when, after being belted out of the ring by Louis Firpo in 1933, he came back and knocked Firpo halfway home to his native Argentina in the second round.

The President wasn't saying the Republicans are on the ropes, much less out of the ring entirely.

But his picture of a glum GOP in need of more back bone was in sharp contrast to the picture Steve Mitchell was painting of the Democrats in Washington.

Mitchell said victory is "within our grasp." But the Democrats can still boot the election, he said, by relaxing too soon.

"I am deeply disturbed,' he went on, "by reports of voter apathy and Democratic complacency. The two together could spell victory for the Republicans."

This is something new for the Democrats. They haven't been troubled by overconfidence since the first two Franklin D. Roosevelt terms. The Republicans seemed to have established a monopoly in overconfidence in 1948 to their bitter regret, since the Democrats beat them.

It wasn't just happenstance, by the way, that Eisenhower picked New York as the place to start campaigning in earnest. That's a state both parties are determined to capture not only for its stake in this election, but because of 1956 presidential politics too.

On the face of it, the Democrats have more to gain a governorship. They'd like to put their candidate, Averell Harriman, in the seat long held by the GOP's Thomas E. Dewey. If they do, Harriman will be a big [illegible] quite possibly a presidential con[illegible] in the next Democratic Na[illegible] Convention.

Was Offered $100,000 for One Afternoon

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — How would you like to earn $100.00 for an afternoon's work?

Impossible, you say? Yet Mario Lanza claims he was offered such a deal.

"When I was in Palm Springs last year," said the bulky tenor, "my agent came to me with an offer from the Metropolitan Opera House. Rudolf Bing offered me $100,000 to sing one opera on one of their shows, to be sent to various theaters throughout the country via theater television."

In New York, Bing denied making the offer and added: "Who is he? Oh, that film tenor. I heard a few of his records the other day I hardly know the man and I'm not altogether sure I would want to. I do know that none of our singers would sing for such chicken feed as $100,000."

Actually, Metropolitan's reported top for a single performance is about $1,500, averaging perhaps less than $1,000.

Lanza said he turned down the offer. He said he'll accept when the money is $150,000. but he added:

"Money, it is nothing. Absolutely nothing to me. But unfortunately, money is the standard by which you are judged in this business."

Concern over money is one of the principal causes of Lanza's two year retirement after being on top of the show business world. He had been earning a million a year, yet the United States slapped a lien on his earnings for back income taxes. The blow added to his emotional upset.

"The government claimed I owed a quarter of a million dollars," he reported. "In the past year, I have paid them over a quarter-million, but I am still behind, according to them. I still must pay income tax on the money I earned to pay them."

His entire $40,000 check for his TV debut the celebrated "record session" — went to Uncle Sam.

"But I am very fortunate," Lanza said. "I n six or eight months of work. I can wipe out everything I owe."

Judging from his offers, that is no idle boast. His agents report that he has received deals of "much more than $50,000 a week from Las Vegas casinos. Lanza will not consider them. He is opposed to singing in night clubs.

How is he going to recover his financial stability?

He is starting with the TV appearances. He does one Thursday and another Nov. 18. He plans to make personal appearances in a few weeks. He will start off with dates with symphony orchestras in the East, singing a few songs on the program. A full-scale concert tour will follow after he makes a movie.

His agents say a movie deal will be announced any day.

"Whatever I make will be for 50 per cent of the profits,' Lanza said. "Several studios have been perfectly willing to go for such deals. They said I could write my own ticket.'

Lanza said that his fans have remained loyal throughout his layoff. The mail reaction to his TV appearance was mountainous, he said.

"That's one thing I didn't neglect while I wasn't working the fans, he said. "I insisted that the government allow me the expense of several secretaries to answer the fan mail.'

N. H. A. Meet

Representing Yerger's N. H. A. Chapter at the District IV meeting last week, in Camden, were twelve girls, advisor, and club mother.

The theme for the meeting was "Developing Better Leadership Through N. H. A." Ozie Marie Williams, vice-president of the district and member of Yerger's Chapter presided over the morning session which was quite interesting and very timely. Alma Keys, State Advisor, gave remarks in the morning session.

Lunch was served in the Lincoln Elementary gymnasium at noon.

The afternoon session opened at 1:30 with Shirley Robinson, district parmilitarian, presiding. This session consisted of a style show, short film on family living, and remarks and announcements by Miss Keys, installation of officers by the President, Teretha Williams, Texarkana. The closing ceremonies "Now The Day Is Over," lead by Eunice Monroe was given by Yerger's Chapter.

Yerger will be host to the District IV meeting next year and the National Convention will be held at A. M. & N. College, Pine Bluff, Ark., in June 1955.

There were 21 chapters present, total in attendance 486.

Those attending the all day trip were: Eunice Monroe, Shirley Robinson, Ozie Williams, Orene Dennis, Mary Nelson, Dollie Greene, Lorene Straughter, Lois Thomas, Rosie Briggs, Vivian Lloyd, Joanna Lowe, Juanita English, Advisor Miss Estelle Mitchell, and Mrs. M. L. Rutherford.

Strong Tea Brought Change in Will

LONDON (AP) — Mrs. Ada Biggs liked her tea "so strong that a mouse could dance on it," her son told a probate judge yesterday.

The son, George R. Dodd, said his mother cut him out of her will because during the postwar rationing days the tea at his house was not quite that sturdy.

Mrs. Biggs died in 1951, at 70, after making a new will which left most of her money to charity.

The court voided the new will on the ground that she was unsound mind at the time. It accepted a previous will made in 1944 which divided the 18,500-pound ($51,800 estate between Dodd and his sister.

$535,000 Job to Be Launched Soon By Corps Of Engineers

(Map and text released by Corps of Engineers, Vicksburg Dist)

The construction of the flood-control project for the Little Missouri River Basin was authorized by the Flood Control Act of 18 August 1941.

The project includes:

The multiple-purpose Narrows Dam and Reservoir, completed in June 1951

Channel improvement and levee repairs on Terre Noire Creek, which was completed in April 1948.

Channel improvement on the Little Missopri River below Murfreesboro, Arkansas, and on the lower 15 miles of Ozan Creek.

Funds for the construction of the cannel improvement work on Little Missouri River and Ozan Creek were included in the fiscal year 1955 appropriations, and the Vicksburg District, Corps of Engineers, is now engaged in the preparation of plans and specifications for the work. It is expected that a contract will be let for the improvement within the next few months.

The work on Little Missouri River will consist of the excavation of a total of 31 channel cut-offs between the mouth of the river and the mouth of Ozan Creek, and for clearing and snagging of the channel upstream from the mouth of Ozan Creek to the vicinity of Murfreesboro.

The improvement on Ozan Creek consists of the excavation of 20 cut-offs located between its mouth and mile 15.

These two projects will complete the comprehensive flood-control improvements for the Little Missouri River Basin, and will provide essentially complete protection against flooding to approximately 20,000 acres in the flood plain downstream from the Narrows Reservoir and partial protection against flooding to approximately 73,000 acres.

The total estimated cost of the Little Missouri River and Ozan Creek projects is $535,000.

Both Parties Given Some Good Advise

By ED CRAGH
For James Marlow

WASHINGTON (AP) Advice to the Democrats: Keep plugging. Advice to the Republicans: Quit groaning.

These words of counsel have gone out in the closing days of the congressional election campaign from two men pretty high up in their parties President Eisenhower for the GOP and National Chairman Stephen A. Mitchell for the Democrats.

If the Eisenhower and Mitchell statements told the whole story, there would be no doubt the Republicans are in trouble and the Democrats riding high, with the election only 11 days away.

Party leaders, even presidents, don't always gauge the situation correctly, however. Besides, their campaign statements are designed for a specific purpose in this case, to build a fire under party workers. Such statements don't necessarily reveal the speaker's private opinion of who's ahead.

The President spoke at a GOP rally in New York yesterday a day that saw him wade much further into the thick of the campaign than he had done before. He even made a face for the politicos and the photographers, pulling down the corners of his mouth in a grimace of dejection.

And he declared the Republicans are never going to win if their leaders "are going around pulling their faces this way."

What the GOP needs, said Eisenhower, is a "fighting heart" the kind Jack Dempsey had when, after being belted out of the ring by Louis Firpo in 1933, he came back and knocked Firpo halfway home to his native Argentina in the second round.

The President wasn't saying the Republicans are on the ropes, much less out of the ring entirely.

But his picture of a glum GOP in need of more back bone was in sharp contrast to the picture Steve Mitchell was painting of the Democrats in Washington.

Mitchell said victory is "within our grasp." But the Democrats can still boot the election, he said, by relaxing too soon.

"I am deeply disturbed," he went on, "by reports of voter apathy and Democratic complacency. The two together could spell victory for the Republicans."

This is something new for the Democrats. They haven't been troubled by overconfidence since the first two Franklin D. Roosevelt terms. The Republicans seemed to have established a monopoly in overconfidence in 1948 to their bitter regret, since the Democrats beat them.

It wasn't just happenstance, by the way, that Eisenhower picked New York as the place to start campaigning in earnest. That's a state both parties are determined to capture not only for its stake in this election, but because of 1956 presidential politics too.

On the face of it, the Democrats have more to gain a governorship. They'd like to put their candidate, Averell Harriman, in the seat long held by the GOP's Thomas E. Dewey. If they do, Harriman will be a big mananna quite possibly a presidential

Arkansas Also Fourth on UP Poll

By NORMAN MILER

NEW YORK, (UP) UCLA, the highest scoring college football team in the nation, took over the No. 1 sport in the United Press ratings today in a surprise shake up, with Oklahoma and Ohio State tied for second place only three points behind.

It was the closest weekly contest for first place in the five-year history of the United Press ratings.

Oklahoma, which topped the ratings for the three previous weeks, received the largest total of first-place votes from the 35 leading coaches who make up the rating board. The sooners attracted 17 compared to 10 for Ohio state and eight for U. C. L. A.

But Coach Harold (Red Sanders' Bruins, who have averaged nearly 44 points per game in achieving six straight victories, recieved a greater total of second and third place votes than their revals. As a result, UCLA had 304 out of a possible 350 points while Okladoma and Ohio State each had 301.

UCLA, which crushed Oregon State, 61-09 last Saturday had 16 votes for second place, nine for third, and one each for fourth and 10th places. The Bruins ranked third for the two previous weeks aftes being fourth and second for the first two weeks of the season.

UCLA, rated an excellent bet to retain the Pacific Coast Conference championship although not eligible for the Rose Bowl because it went last year, plays California next Saturday. Oklahoma faces the biggest obstacle in its path t oanother Big Seven conferenie title when it plays Colorado while Ohio State meets Northwestern in the Big Ten.

Oklahoma beat a weak Kansas State team only 21-0 last Saturday Ohio State scored an impressive 31-14 triumph over Wisconsin.

Arkansas and Army moved up to fourth and fifth places, respectively, to fill the spots occupied previously by last Satruday's upset victims; Notre Dame, idle last weekend held sixth; Wisconsin dropped from second to seventh place, while Purdue, Southern California and West Virginia advanced to take over the last three berths among the top 10 in that order.

PLEASING SOMEBODY

BOSTON, Mass., (UP) — Coach Lloyd Jordan, whose Harvard football team has won only one game this season, said yesterday, "I'm having a terrible time pleasing anybody except the opposing team's alumni."

SPORTS ROUNDUP

By GAYLE TALBOT

NEW YORK (AP) — The men who must be coming down with the galloping jitters as the nation's gridiron Goliaths continue to fall on their faces week after week are those individuals who see the day coming closer when they woll have to invite a team, or twoto play in the major bowl games on Jan. 1.

The pickings from among the "name" powers promise to be perhaps the thinnest ever.

There is at least a possibility tha not one of the four major bowl contests, Rose, Corton Sugar and Orange will be played this New Year's Day between two undefeated teams. The bowl chairman who presents even one all-conquering eleven will count himself lucky unless he wishes to dip down among teams of less than major standing. He would rather die first.

The only chance the granddaddy of the bowls, the Rose, has of showing an unbeaten team rests on Ohio State's ability to knock off its three remaining Big Ten rivals plus Pittsburgh. That is a tough hand to fill UCLA the only undefeated member of the Coast Conference with the season only just past the halfway point, is not eligible for the Pasadena classic this year.

Similarly, the Cotton Bowl at Dallas cannot offer an unbeaten host team unless the remarkable Arkansas Razorbacks continue to outscramble five more muscular opponents, including three Southwest Conference members.

Only one other team whose claim to greatness is undisputed, Oklahoma, appears certain now to sail through unbeaten. One might guess that the Sooners would show up again in the Orange Bowl at Miami, except that they are not eligible. That would leave five vacancies to be filled among the Orange, Sugar and Cotton classics.

With Maryland already twice beaten and once tied, and Colorado which apparently had bowl aspirations, knocked off by Nebraska, the bowl selectors will have to do some tall looking. What the flock of lesser bowls, led by the Gator at Jacksonville, will wind up with this time is fringe benefits.

Ike Hopes to Make Final Vote Drive

By JOHN L. CUTTER

WASHINGTON (UP The White House said today President Eisenhower hopes to make a final campaign tour before election day but it not sure yet whether his work schedule will permit it.

The chief executive was reported to be considering a flying trip on Friday and Saturday that would take him from New England into the south as far as Louisville, Ky and into the upper Middle West.

The White House would give no details of the trip under consideration except to say that a top in Michigan, where Sen. Homer Ferguson (R-Mich) is running for reelection, is part of the itinerary being discussed.

The United Press learned from other sources that Secret Service agents already had made preliminary plans for the President to visit Boston Saturday, stopping for an hour and a half at Logan Airport to address a GOP rally.

In Minneapolis, Minnesota Republican National Committeeman George Eztell told reporters the White House had adviced him that a visit to his state is also "under consideration."

White House Press Secretary James C. Hagerty told reporters that Mr. Eisenhower would like to make a final pre-election tour to encourage a heavy vote in the congressional elections next Tuesday, if his work will permit.

Hagerty had told reporters last night that plans for the last-minute tour had not been discussed with the President.

Today he reported that the proposed trip was put up to Mr. Eisenhower this morning by members of his staff.

He said Mr. Eisenhower indicated he would like to speak to the people and the workers or the Republican party to see that everybody gets out and votes on election day.

"Any determination on whether he makes any such proposed swing will have to wait a day or two days," Hagerty said.

Mr. Eisenhower could not leave before sometime Friday, because he has a lunch here Thursday for Dr. Konrad Adenauer, head of the West German government, and makes a major political speech Thursday night from Washington.

$50,000 Suit Against Hotel

MEMPHIS (AP) C. A. Vines of Little Rock has filed a $50,000 damage suit against a hotel here.

Vines, associate director of the Arkansas Agriculture Extension Service, claimed his back was injured and his shoulders strained when a Hotel King Cotton elevator last DDec. 17 fell 10 floors before being checked by a safety device at the bottom of the shaft.

Vines' federal court suit contends that the hotel was at fault in loading the elevator with more than 14 passengers.

Coach Shakes Up Lineup of Sagging Texas

By JOE BENHAM
Of The Associated Press

Spring cleaning came to the University of Texas six months early.

A reform movement started Monday by Coach Ed Price already had two new faces in the Longhorse' starting lineup, with the promise of more to come during the week's workouts.

Right Guard Ben Woodson and right tackle Herb Gray were the first two of what Price said might be a long line of Longhorns sent to the second team for failure to give their all for the Texas cause this year.

Price said he "anticipated" further changes in the starting eleven. That, however, was just one story about the sudden switches.

The Austin, Tex., American, in an article by Mark Batterson, said only five members of the first string all - linemen were reasonable sure of keping their posts. The Daily Texan, campus newspaper, reported that nine players had been ordered to move from Hill Hall, the athletic dormitory, as a disciplinary measure. The paper emphasized that Gray and Woodson were not among the nine.

The demotion of Gray and Woodson drew this comment from Price, "Gray was not in satisfactory physical condition and Woodson's performance was not as good as we thought he could do." Price's statement was a turnabout from pre-season ratings which listed Gray as a probably All-America selection and Woodson as the conference's most brilliant sophomore lineman.

Bob Flinn a 205-piund junior was moved into Gray's spot and Langford Sneed, a 200pound junior took over Woodson's spot in Tuesday's preparations for the Saturday meeting between Texas and Southern Methodist at Austin. Scrimmages were scheduled following light drills Monday.

Other training camps reported everything from indoor skull sessions at Arkansas to a heavy two hour workout at SMU.

Arkansas stayed indoors due to heavy rains and spent the time studying defensive patterns for use against Texas A&M Saturday at College Station. The unbeaten Porkers were reported in good physical shape following their rib cracking victory over Mississippi.

SMU had only one doubtful starter — guard Jimmy Smith as the Mustangs opened the week with their longest drill of the year, a two-hour session on running plays.

Halfback L. G. Dupre was rated a possible starter for the first time in three weeks as Baylor got ready for TCU. The running star, out with a leg injury, and the other Bears heard scouts say Texas Christian is stronger at every position than last year.

Reserves worked against ineligibles and freshmen using Arkansas style plays in a 30-minute scrimmage at Texas A&M. Coach Paul (Bear) Bryant told the starters their loss to Baylor last week was their best game of the year.

Coach Jess Neely scheduled lengthy scrimmages Tuesday and Wednesday after a light workout Monday in which he told the Rice Owls they looked "spotty," in their victors over Texas last week. Neely said running plays will be emphasized as the Owls prepare to play Vanderbilt here Saturday night.

TUC will start Harold Pillard, 190-pound sophomore against Baylor Saturday at Fort Worth, Coach Abe Martin announced at Rorned Frog practice Saturday. The extra point specialist will replace Bobby Dike, the top ground-gainer among conference fullbacks.

Fans Gobble Up Hog-Rice Tickets

LITTLE ROCK (AP) Arkansas Razorback fans yesterday stormed two sales stations in greater Little Rock to clear the board of nearly 8,000 reserve seat tickets for the Arkansas-Rice contest still two weeks away.

The last ticket was sold by 2:15 p. m.

Allan Berry, manager of War Memorial Stadium here, said 3,000 general admission tickets (end zone) would go on sale Saturday.

Berry said Saturday's sale was not an attempt to "deprive out-of-towners" but an effort to dispense with the confusion "we experienced in conducting a day-of-the-game sale for the Arkansas-Ole Miss game last Saturday."

All indications point to another sellout for the game scheduled for Nov. 6, Berry said.

Stadium and University school officials were host to a full house last Saturday, for the first time since the stadium was completed in 1948.

Romping Porks Move to 4th in National Poll

By HUGH FULLERTON JR.
Of The Associated Press

Ohio State's Buckeyes, a collection of football players with roses in their eyes and mayhem in their hearts, have replaced Oklahoma as the No. 1 college team in the opinion of the nation's sports writers and broadcasters.

They earned the honor crushing Wisconsin 31-14 last Saturday while Oklahoma was sliding listlessly through a 21-0 decison over Kansas State, Oklahoma had been on top of The Associated Press poll for three weeks.

Oklahoma collected 10 more firstplace votes than Ohio State 74-64 but the Bucks edged ahead on the second-place ballots, of which 60 went to Ohio State and only 49 to the Sooners.

The final count, on the usual 10-9-8 etc., basis gave Ohio State 1,858 points and Oklahoma 1,834. UCLA, with 45 firsts, was right behind with 1,800 points, and the surprising Arkansas team fourth with 1,351.

Ohio State was fourth last week, while Wisconsin was second to Oklahoma.

UCLA which walloped Oregon State 61-0 polled a much higher vote than it did a week ago in retaining third place.

Arkansas, a "team o destiny" which came from nowhere to take the Southwest Conference lead and then knocked Mississippi from the ranks of the unbeaten, jumped from seventh to fourth. Army rose from ninth to fifth and West Virginia from 10th to seventh.

The new order, after the first four, is Army, Notre Dame, West Virginia, Wisconsin, Purdue and Miami (Fla.

The leading teams with first-place votes innparentheses:

1. Ohio State (64	1858

DOGS

by Farley Manning

Wrong Ideas

It's remarkable how many misconceptions about dogs used to exist but encouraging to note how many have given way to a saner viewpoint within a comparatively few years.

There are many of us who can remember makng it a practice to have a bulky block of sulphur in our dog's drinking pan at all times. The sulphur "kept his food pure" and had other miraculous effects Then we were told by those who should know that the dust-catching block did notihng of the sort. Sulphur we learned, isn't even soluble in water And so we threw the sulphur away and our dogs were left with nothing but pure, cool water to drink, which is just what they wanted anyway.

Then there was the one about meat having the inevitable effect of making a dog "vicious" Some people wouldn't feed meat at all, or in such small quantities that their poor pets were on the verge of malnutrition and couldn't have run after the mailman if they had tried!

"Feed puppies milk. Heavens above, don't you know that milk causes worms." That was a mikly-held belief, and it persists today in some quarters To understand the fallacy of that theory, just imagine the millions of babies, who were brought up on milk The millions of puppies, too Many of the pups had worms, it's true but let's not blame their good, healthful milk

And let's not listen to every passing stranger who wants to advise us on our dog's card Listen to reputable, experienced breeders, yes Best of all, heed the advice of your veterinarian, who is devoting a lifetime to keping animal s healthy.

SPORTS ROUNDUP

By GAYLE TALBOT

NEW YORK (AP) — The men who must be coming down with the galloping jitters as the nation's gridiron Goliaths continue to fall on their faces week after week are those individuals who see the day coming closer when they woll have to invite a team or twoto play in the major bowl games on Jan. 1.

The pickings from among the "name" powers promise to be perhaps the thinnest ever.

There is at least a possibility that not one of the four major bowl contests, Rose, Corton Sugar and Orange- will be played this New Year's Day between two undefeated teams. The bowl chairman who presents even one all-conquering eleven will count himself lucky unless he wishes to dip down among teams of less than major standing. He would rather die first.

The only chance the granddaddy of the bowls, the Rose, has of showing an unbeaten team rests on Ohio State's ability to knock off its three remaining Big Ten rivals plus Pittsburgh. That is a tough hand to fill UCLA the only undefeated member of the Coast Conference with the season only just past the halfway point, is not eligible for the Pasadena classic this year.

Similarly, the Cotton Bowl at Dallas cannot offer an unbeaten host team unless the remarkable Arkansas Razorbacks continue to outscramble five more muscular opponents, including three Southwest Conference members.

Only one other team whose claim to greatness is undisputed, Oklahoma, appears certain now to sail through unbeaten. One might guess that the Sooners would show up again in the Orange Bowl at Miami, except that they are not eligible. That would leave five vacancies to be filled among the Orange, Sugar and Cotton classics.

With Maryland already twice beaten and once tied, and Colorado which apparently had bowl aspirations, knocked off by Nebraska, the bowl selectors will have to do some tall looking. What the flock of lesser bowls, led by the Gator at Jacksonville, will wind up with this time is fringe benefits.

Coach Shakes Up Lineup of Sagging Texas

By JOE BENHAM
Of The Associated Press

Spring cleaning came to the University of Texas six months early. A reform movement started Monday by Coach Ed Price already had two new faces in the Longhorse' starting lineup, with the promise of more to come during the week's workouts.

Right Guard Ben Woodson and right tackle Herb Gray were the first two of what Price said might be a long line of Longhorns sent to the second team for failure to give their all for the Texas cause this year.

Price said he "anticipated" further changes in the starting eleven. That, however, was just one story about the sudden switches.

The Austin, Tex., American, in an article by Mark Batteson, said only five members of the first string all - linemen were reasonable sure of keping their posts. The Daily Texan, campus newspaper, reported that nine players had been ordered to move from Hill Hall, the athletic dormitory, as a disciplinary measure. The paper emphasized that Gray and Woodson were not among the nine.

The demotion of Gray and Woodson drew this comment from Price, "Gray was not in satisfactory physical condition and Woodson's performance was not as good as we thought he could do." Price's statement was a turnabout from pre-season ratings which listed Gray as a probably All-America selection and Woodson as the conference's most brilliant sophomore lineman.

Bob Flinn a 205-piund junior was moved into Gray's spot and Langford Sneed, a 200pound junior took over Woodson's spot in Tuesday's preparations for the Saturday meeting between Texas and Southern Methodist at Austin. Scrimmages were scheduled following light drills Monday.

Other training camps reported everything from indoor skull sessions at Arkansas to a heavy two hour workout at SMU.

Arkansas stayed indoors due to heavy rains and spent the time studying defensive patterns for use against Texas A&M Saturday at College Station. The unbeaten Porkers were reported in good physical shape following their rib cracking victory over Mississippi.

SMU had only one doubtful starter — guard Jimmy Smith as the Mustangs opened the week with their longest drill of the year, a two-hour session on running plays.

Halfback L. G. Dupre was rated a possible starter for the first time in three weeks as Baylor got ready for TCU. The running star, out with a leg injury, and the other Bears heard scouts say Texas Christian is stronger at every position than last year.

Reserves worked against ineligibles and freshmen using Arkansas style plays in a 30-minute scrimmage at Texas A&M. Coach Paul (Bear) Bryant told the starters their loss to Baylor last week was their best game of the year.

Coach Jess Neely scheduled lengthy scrimmages Tuesday and Wednesday after a light workout Monday in which he told the Rice Owls they looked "spotty," in their victors over Texas last week. Neely said running plays will be emphasized as the Owls prepare to play Vanderbilt here Saturday night.

TUC will start Harold Pillard, 190-pound sophomore against Baylor Saturday at Fort Worth, Coach Abe Martin announced at Rorned Frog practice Saturday. The extra point specialist will replace Bobby Dike, the top ground-gainer among conference fullbacks.

Ike Hopes to Make Final Vote Drive

By JOHN L. CUTTER

WASHINGTON (UP The White House said today President Eisenhower hopes to make a final campaign tour before election day but it not sure yet whether his work schedule will permit it.

The chief executive was reported to be considering a flying trip on Friday and Saturday that would take him from New England into the south as far as Louisville, Ky and into the upper Middle West.

The White House would give no details of the trip under consideration except to say that a top in Michigan, where Sen. Homer Ferguson (R-Mich) is running for re-election, is part of the itinerary being discussed.

The United Press learned from other sources that Secret Service agents already had made preliminary plans for the President to visit Boston Saturday, stopping for an hour and a half at Logan Airport to address a GOP rally.

In Minneapolis, Minnesota Republican National Committeeman George Eztell told reporters the White House had advised him that a visit to his state is also "under consideration."

White House Press Secretary James C. Hagerty told reporters that Mr. Eisenhower would like to make a final pre-election tour to encourage a heavy vote in the congressional elections next Tuesday, if his work will permit.

Hagerty had told reporters last night that plans for the last-minute tour had not been discussed with the President.

Today he reported that the proposed trip was put up to Mr. Eisenhower this morning by members of his staff.

He said Mr. Eisenhower indicated he would like to speak to the people and the workers or the Republican party to see that everybody gets out and votes on election day.

"Any determination on whether he makes any such proposed swing will have to wait a day or two days," Hagerty said.

Mr. Eisenhower could not leave before sometime Friday, because he has a lunch here Thursday for Dr. Konrad Adenauer, head of the West German government, and makes a major political speech Thursday night from Washington.

Arkansas Also Fourth on UP Poll

By NORMAN MILER

NEW YORK, (UP) UCLA, the highest scoring college football team in the nation, took over the No. 1 sport in the United Press ratings today in a surprise shake up, with Oklahoma and Ohio State tied for second place only three points behind.

It was the closest weekly contest for first place in the five-year history of the United Press ratings.

Oklahoma, which topped the ratings for the three previous weeks, received the largest total of first-place votes from the 35 leading coaches who make up the rating board. The sooners attracted 17 compared to 10 for Ohio state and eight for U. C. L. A.

But Coach Harold (Red Sanders' Bruins, who have averaged nearly 44 points per game in achieving six straight victories, recieved a greater total of second and third place votes than their revals. As a result, UCLA hed 304 out of a possible 350 points while Okladoma and Ohio State each had 301.

UCLA, which crushed Oregon State, 61-09, last Saturday had 16 votes for second place, nine for third, and one each for fourth and 10th places. The Bruins ranked third for the two previous weeks aftes being fourth and second for the first two weeks of the season.

UCLA, rated an excellent bet to retain the Pacific Coast Conference championship although not eligible for the Rose Bowl because it went last year, plays California next Saturday. Oklahoma faces the biggest obstacle in its path t oanother Big Seven conferenie title when it plays Colorado while Ohio State meets Northwestern in the Big Ten.

Oklahoma beat a weak Kansas State team only 21-0 last Saturday Ohio State scored an impressive 31-14 triumph over Wisconsin.

Arkansas and Army moved up to fourth and fifth places, respectively, to fill the spots occupied previously by last Satruday's upset victims; Notre Dame, idle last weekend held sixth, Wisconsin dropped from second to seventh place, while Purdue, Southern California and West Virginia advanced to take over the last three berths among the top 10 in that order.

$50,000 Suit Against Hotel

MEMPHIS (AP) C. A. Vines of Little Rock has filed a $50,000 damage suit against a hotel here.

Vines, associate director of the Arkansas Agriculture Extension Service, claimed his back was injured and his shoulders strained when a Hotel King Cotton elevator last DDec. 17 fell 10 floors before being checked by a safety device at the bottom of the shaft.

Vines' federal court suit contends that the hotel was at fault in loading the elevator with more than 14 passengers.

After entering the Gulf of St. Lawrence, a small ship can sail 2,260 miles into the heart of North America to Duluth.

Fans Gobble Up Hog-Rice Tickets

LITTLE ROCK (AP) Arkansas Razorback fans yesterday stormed two sales stations in greater Little Rock to clear the board of nearly 8,000 reserve seat tickets for the Arkansas-Rice contest still two weeks away.

The last ticket was sold by 2:15 p. m.

Allan Berry, manager of War Memorial Stadium here, said 3,000 general admission tickets (end zone) would go on sale Saturday.

Berry said Saturday's sale was not an attempt to "deprive out-of-towners" but an effort to dispense with the confusion "we experienced in conducting a day-of-the-game sale for the Arkansas-Ole Miss game last Saturday."

All indications point to another sellout for the game scheduled for Nov. 6, Berry said.

Stadium and University school officials were host to a full house last Saturday, for the first time since the stadium was completed in 1948.

Romping Porks Move to 4th in National Poll

By HUGH FULLERTON JR.
Of The Associated Press

Ohio State's Buckeyes, a collection of football players with roses in their eyes and mayhem in their hearts, have replaced Oklahoma as the No. 1 college team in the opinion of the nation's sports writers and broadcasters.

They earned the honor crushing Wisconsin 31-14 last Saturday while Oklahoma was sliding listlessly through a 21-0 decison over Kansas State. Oklahoma had been on top of The Associated Press poll for three weeks.

Oklahoma collected 10 more firstplace votes than Ohio State 74-64 but the Bucks edged ahead on the second-place ballots, of which 60 went to Ohio State and only 49 to the Sooners.

The final count, on the usual 10-9-8 etc., basis gave Ohio State 1,858 points and Oklahoma 1,834. UCLA, with 45 firsts, was right behind with 1,800 points, and the surprising Arkansas team fourth with 1,351.

Ohio State was fourth last week, while Wisconsin was second to Oklahoma.

UCLA which walloped Oregon State 61-0 polled a much higher vote than it did a week ago in retaining third place.

Arkansas, a "team o destiny" which came from nowhere to take the Southwest Conference lead and then knocked Mississippi from the ranks of the unbeaten, jumped from seventh to fourth. Army rose from ninth to fifth and West Virginia from 10th to seventh.

The new order, after the first four, is Army, Notre Dame, West Virginia, Wisconsin, Purdue and Miami (Fla.

DOGS

by Farley Manning

Wrong Ideas

It's remarkable how many misconceptions about dogs used to exist but encouraging to note how many have given way to a saner viewpoint within a comparatively few years.

There are many of us who can remember makng it a practice to have a bulky block of sulphur in our dog's drinking pan at all times. The sulphur "kept his food pure" and had other miraculous effects Then we were told by those who should know that the dust-catching block did notihng of the sort. Sulphur we learned, isn't even soluble in water And so we threw the sulphur away and our dogs were left with nothing but pure, cool water to drink, which is just what they wanted anyway.

Then there was the one about meat having the inevitable effect of making a dog "vicious" Some people wouldn't feed meat at all, or in such small quantities that their poor pets were on the verge of malnutrition and couldn't have run after the mailman if they had tried!

"Feed puppies milk. Heavens above, don't you know that milk causes worms." That was a milkly-held belief, and it persists today in some quarters To understand the fallacy of that theory, just imagine the millions of babies, who were brought up on milk The millions of puppies, too Many of the pups had worms, it's true but let's not blame their good, healthful milk

And let's not listen to every passing stranger who wants to advise us on our dog's card Listen to reputable, experienced breeders, yes Best of all, heed the advice of your veterinarian, who is devoting a lifetime to keping animals healthy.

Arkansas Also Fourth on UP Poll

By NORMAN MILER

NEW YORK, (UP) UCLA, the highest scoring college football team in the nation, took over the No. 1 sport in the United Press ratings today in a surprise shake up, with Oklahoma and Ohio State tied for second place only three points behind.

It was the closest weekly contest for first place in the five-year history of the United Press ratings.

Oklahoma, which topped the ratings for the three previous weeks, received the largest total of first-place votes from the 35 leading coaches who make up the rating board. The sooners attracted 17 compared to 10 for Ohio state and eight for U. C. L. A.

But Coach Harold (Red Sanders' Bruins, who have averaged nearly 44 points per game in achieving six straight victories, recieved a greater total of second and third place votes than their revals. As a result, UCLA hed 304 out of a possible 350 points while Okladoma and Ohio State each had 301.

UCLA, which crushed Oregon State, 61-09, last Saturday had 16 votes for second place, nine for third, and one each for fourth and 10th places. The Bruins ranked third for the two previous weeks aftes being fourth and second for the first two weeks of the season.

UCLA, rated an excellent bet to retain the Pacific Coast Conference championship although not eligible for the Rose Bowl because it went last year, plays California next Saturday. Oklahoma faces the biggest obstacle in its path t oanother Big Seven conferenie title when it plays Colorado while Ohio State meets Northwestern in the Big Ten.

Oklahoma beat a weak Kansas State team only 21-0 last Saturday Ohio State scored an impressive 31-14 triumph over Wisconsin.

Arkansas and Army moved up to fourth and fifth places, respectively, to fill the spots occupied previously by last Satruday's upset victims; Notre Dame, idle last weekend held sixth; Wisconsin dropped from second to seventh place, while Purdue, Southern California and West Virginia advanced to take over the last three berths among the top 10 in that order.

PLEASING SOMEBODY

BOSTON, Mass., (UP) —Coach Lloyd Jordan, whose Harvard football team has won only one game this season, said yesterday, "I'm having a terrible time pleasing anybody except the opposing team's alumni."

SPORTS ROUNDUP

By GAYLE TALBOT

NEW YORK (AP) — The men who must be coming down with the galloping jitters as the nation's gridiron Goliaths continue to fall on their faces week after week are those individuals who see the day coming closer when they woll have to invite a team or twoto play in the major bowl games on Jan. 1.

The pickings from among the "name" powers promise to be perhaps the thinnest ever.

There is at least a possibility tha not one of the four major bowl contests, Rose, Corton Sugar and Orange will be played this New Year's Day between two undefeated teams. The bowl chairman who presents even one all-conquering eleven will count himself lucky unless he wishes to dip down among teams of less than major standing. He would rather die first.

The only chance the granddaddy of the bowls, the Rose, has of showing an unbeaten team rests on Ohio State's ability to knock off its three remaining Big Ten rivals, plus Pittsburgh. That is a tough hand to fill UCLA the only undefeated member of the Coast Conference with the season only just past the halfway point, is not eligible for the Pasadena classic this year.

Similarly, the Cotton Bowl at Dallas cannot offer an unbeaten host team unless the remarkable Arkansas Razorbacks continue to outscramble five more muscular opponents, including three South west Conference members.

Only one other team whose claim to greatness is undisputed, Oklahoma, appears certain now to sail through unbeaten. One might guess that the Sooners would show up again in the Orange Bowl at Miami, except that they are not eligible. That would leave five vacancies to be filled among the Orange, Sugar and Cotton classics.

With Maryland already twice beaten and once tied, and Colorado which apparently had bowl aspirations, knocked off by Nebraska, the bowl selectors will have to do some tall looking. What the flock of lesser bowls, led by the Gator at Jacksonville, will wind up with this time is fringe benefits.

Ike Hopes to Make Final Vote Drive

By JOHN L. CUTTER

WASHINGTON (UP The White House said today President Eisenhower hopes to make a final campaign tour before election day but it not sure yet whether his work schedule will permit it.

The chief executive was reported to be considering a flying trip on Friday and Saturday that would take him from New England into the south as far as Louisville, Ky and into the upper Middle West.

The White House would give no details of the trip under consideration except to say that a top in Michigan, where Sen. Homer Ferguson (R-Mich) is running for reelection, is part of the itinerary being discussed.

The United Press learned from other sources that Secret Service agents already had made preliminary plans for the President to visit Boston Saturday, stopping for an hour and a half at Logan Airport to address a GOP rally.

In Minneapolis, Minnesota Republican National Committeeman George Eztell told reporters the White House had advised him that a visit to his state is also "under consideration."

White House Press Secretary James C. Hagerty told reporters that Mr. Eisenhower would like to make a final pre-election tour to encourage a heavy vote in the congressional elections next Tuesday, if his work will permit.

Hagerty had told reporters last night that plans for the last-minute tour had not been discussed with the President.

Today he reported that the proposed trip was put up to Mr. Eisenhower this morning by members of his staff.

He said Mr. Eisenhower indicated he would like to speak to the people and the workers or the Republican party to see that everybody gets out and votes on election day.

"Any determination on whether he makes any such proposed swing will have to wait a day or two days," Hagerty said.

Mr. Eisenhower could not leave before sometime Friday, because he has a lunch here Thursday for Dr. Konrad Adenauer, head of the West German government, and makes a major political speech Thursday night from Washington.

$50,000 Suit Against Hotel

MEMPHIS (AP) C. A. Vines of Little Rock has filed a $50,000 damage suit against a hotel here.

Vines, associate director of the Arkansas Agriculture Extension Service, claimed his back was injured and his shoulders strained when a Hotel King Cotton elevator last DDec. 17 fell 10 floors before being checked by a safety device at the bottom of the shaft.

Vines' federal court suit contends that the hotel was at fault in loading the elevator with more than 14 passengers.

Coach Shakes Up Lineup of Sagging Texas

By JOE BENHAM
Of The Associated Press

Spring cleaning came to the University of Texas six months early.

A reform movement started Mon day by Coach Ed Price already had two new faces in the Longhorse' starting lineup. with the promise of more to come during the week's workouts.

Right Guard Ben Woodson and right tackle Herb Gray were the first two of what Price said might be a long line of Longhorns sent to the second team for failure to give their all for the Texas cause this year.

Price said he "anticipated" further changes in the starting eleven. That, however, was just one story about the sudden switches.

The Austin, Tex., American, in an article by Mark Batteison, said only five members of the first string all - linemen were reasonable sure of keping their posts. The Daily Texan, campus newspaper, reported that nine players had been ordered to move from Hill Hall, the athletic dormitory, as a disciplinary measure. The paper emphasized that Gray and Woodson were not among the nine.

The demotion of Gray and Woodson drew this comment from Price, "Gray was not in satisfactory physical condition and Woodson's performance was not as good as we thought he could do." Price's statement was a turnabout from pre-season ratings which listed Gray as a probably All-America selection and Woodson as the conference's most brilliant sopho more lineman.

Bob Flinn a 205-piund junior was moved into Gray's spot and Langford Sneed, a 200pound junior took over Woodson's spot in Tuesday's preparations for the Saturday meeting between Texas and Southern Methodist at Austin. Scrimmages were scheduled following light drills Monday.

Other training camps reported everything from indoor skull sessions at Arkansas to a heavy two hour workout at SMU.

Arkansas stayed indoors due to heavy rains and spent the time studying defensive patterns for use against Texas A&M Saturday at College Station. The unbeaten Porkers were reported in good physical shape following their rib cracking victory over Mississippi.

SMU had only one doubtful starter — guard Jimmy Smith as the Mustangs opened the week with their longest drill of the year, a two-hour session on running plays.

Halfback L. G. Dupre was rated a possible starter for the first time in three weeks as Baylor got ready for TCU. The running star, out with a leg injury, and the other Bears heard scouts say Texas Christian is stronger at every position than last year.

Reserves worked against ineligibles and freshmen using Arkansas style plays in a 30-minute scrimmage at Texas A&M. Coach Paul (Bear) Bryant told the starters their loss to Baylor last week was their best game of the year.

Coach Jess Neely scheduled lengthy scrimmages Tuesday and Wednesday after a light workout Monday in which he told the Rice Owls they looked "spotty" in their victors over Texas last week. Neely said running plays will be emphasized as the Owls prepare to play Vanderbilt here Saturday night.

TUC will start Harold Pillard, 190-pound sophomore against Baylor Saturday at Fort Worth, Coach Abe Martin announced at Rorned Frog practice Saturday. The extra point specialist will replace Bobby Dike, the top ground-gainer among conference fullbacks.

Fans Gobble Up Hog-Rice Tickets

LITTLE ROCK (AP) Arkansas Razorback fans yesterday stormed two sales stations in greater Little Rock to clear the board of nearly 8,000 reserve seat tickets for the Arkansas-Rice contest still two weeks away.

The last ticket was sold by 2:15 p. m.

Allan Berry, manager of War Memorial Stadium here, said 3,000 general admission tickets (end zone) would go on sale Saturday.

Berry said Saturday's sale was not an attempt to "deprive out-of-towners" but an effort to dispense with the confusion "we experienced in conducting a day-of-the-game sale for the Arkansas-Ole Miss game last Saturday."

All indications point to another sellout for the game scheduled for Nov. 6, Berry said.

Stadium and University school officials were host to a full house last Saturday, for the first time since the stadium was completed in 1948.

Romping Porks Move to 4th in National Poll

By HUGH FULLERTON JR.
Of The Associated Press

Ohio State's Buckeyes, a collection of football players with roses in their eyes and mayhem in their hearts, have replaced Oklahoma as the No. 1 college team in the opinion of the nation's sports writers and broadcasters.

They earned the honor crushing Wisconsin 31-14 last Saturday while Oklahoma was sliding listlessly through a 21-0 decison over Kansas State, Oklahoma had been on top of The Associated Press poll for three weeks.

Oklahoma collected 10 more firstplace votes than Ohio State 74-64 but the Bucks edged ahead on the second-place ballots, of which 60 went to Ohio State and only 49 to the Sooners.

The final count, on the usual 10-9-8 etc., basis gave Ohio State 1,858 points and Oklahoma 1,834. UCLA, with 45 firsts, was right behind with 1,800 points, and the surprising Arkansas team fourth with 1,351.

Ohio State was fourth last week, while Wisconsin was second to Oklahoma.

UCLA which walloped Oregon State 61-0 polled a much higher vote than it did a week ago in retaining third place.

Arkansas, a "team o destiny" which came from nowhere to take the Southwest Conference lead and then knocked Mississippi from the ranks of the unbeaten, jumped from seventh to fourth. Army rose from ninth to fifth and West Virginia from 10th to seventh.

The new order, after the first four, is Army, Notre Dame, West Virginia, Wisconsin, Purdue and Miami (Fla.

DOGS

by Farley Manning

Wrong Ideas

It's remarkable how many misconceptions about dogs used to exist but encouraging to note how many have given way to a saner viewpoint within a comparatively few years.

There are many of us who can remember makng it a practice to have a bulky block of sulphur in our dog's drinking pan at all times. The sulphur "kept his food pure" and had other miraculous effects Then we were told by those who should know that the dust-catching block did notihng of the sort. Sulphur we learned, isn't even soluble in water And so we threw the sulphur away and our dogs were left with nothing but pure, cool water to drink, which is just what they wanied anyway.

Then there was the one about meat having the inevitable effect of making a dog "vicious" Some people wouldn't feed meat at all, or in such small quantities that their poor pets were on the verge of malnutrition and couldn't have run after the mailman if they had tried!

"Feed puppies milk. Heavens above, don't you know that milk causes worms." That was a mi'k ly-held belief, and it persists today in some quarters To understand the fallacy of that theory, just imagine the millions of babies, who were brought up on milk The millions of puppies, too Many of the pups had worms, it's true but let's not blame their good, healthful milk

And let's not listen to every passing stranger who wants to advise us on our dog's card Listen to reputable, experienced breeders, yes Best of all, heed the advice of your veterinarian, who is devoting a lifetime to keping animal s healthy.

Arkansas Also Fourth on UP Poll

By NORMAN MILER

NEW YORK, (UP) UCLA, the highest scoring college football team in the nation, took over the No. 1 sport in the United Press ratings today in a surprise shake up, with Oklahoma and Ohio State tied for second place only three points behind.

It was the closest weekly contest for first place in the five-year history of the United Press ratings.

Oklahoma, which topped the ratings for the three previous weeks, received the largest total of first-place votes from the 35 leading coaches who make up the rating board. The sooners attracted 17 compared to 10 for Ohio state and eight for U. C. L. A.

But Coach Harold (Red Sanders' Bruins, who have averaged nearly 44 points per game in achieving six straight victories, recieved a greater total of second and third place votes than their revals. As a result, UCLA had 304 out of a possible 350 points while Okladoma and Ohio State each had 301.

UCLA, which crushed Oregon State, 61-09, last Saturday had 16 votes for second place, nine for third, and one each for fourth and 10th places. The Bruins ranked third for the two previous weeks aftes being fourth and second for the first two weeks of the season.

UCLA, rated an excellent bet to retain the Pacific Coast Conference championship although not eligible for the Rose Bowl because it went last year, plays California next Saturday. Oklahoma faces the biggest obstacle in its path t oanother Big Seven conferenie title when it plays Colorado while Ohio State meets Northwestern in the Big Ten.

Oklahoma beat a weak Kansas State team only 21-0 last Saturday Ohio State scored an impressive 31-14 triumph over Wisconsin.

Arkansas and Army moved up to fourth and fifth places, respectively, to fill the spots occupied previously by last Satruday's upset victims; Notre Dame, idle last weekend held sixth; Wisconsin dropped from second to seventh place, while Purdue, Southern California and West Virginia advanced to take over the last three berths among the top 10 in that order.

PLEASING SOMEBODY

BOSTON, Mass., (UP) —Coach Lloyd Jordan, whose Harvard football team has won only one game this season, said yesterday, "I'm having a terrible time pleasing anybody except the opposing team's alumni."

SPORTS ROUNDUP

By GAYLE TALBOT

NEW YORK (AP) — The men who must be coming down with the galloping jitters as the nation's gridiron Goliaths continue to fall on their faces week after week are those individuals who see the day coming closer when they woll have to invite a team or twoto play in the major bowl games on Jan. 1.

The pickings from among the "name" powers promise to be perhaps the thinnest ever.

There is at least a possibility tha not one of the four major bowl contests, Rose, Corton Sugar and Orange will be played this New Year's Day between two undefeated teams. The bowl chairman who presents even one all-conquering eleven will count himself lucky unless he wishes to dip down among teams of less than major standing. He would rather die first.

The only chance the granddaddy of the bowls, the Rose, has of showing an unbeaten team rests on Ohio State's ability to knock off its three remaining Big Ten rivals, plus Pittsburgh. That is a tough hand to fill UCLA the only undefeated member of the Coast Conference with the season only just past the halfway point, is not eligible for the Pasadena classic this year.

Similarly, the Cotton Bowl at Dallas cannot offer an unbeaten host team unless the remarkable Arkansas Razorbacks continue to outscramble five more muscular opponents, including three Southwest Conference members.

Only one other team whose claim to greatness is undisputed, Oklahoma, appears certain now to sail through unbeaten. One might guess that the Sooners would show up again in the Orange Bowl at Miami, except that they are not eligible. That would leave five vacancies to be filled among the Orange, Sugar and Cotton classics.

With Maryland already twice beaten and once tied, and Colorado which apparently had bowl aspirations, knocked off by Nebraska, the bowl selectors will have to do some tall looking. What the flock of lesser bowls, led by the Gator at Jacksonville, will wind up with this time is fringe benefits.

Ike Hopes to Make Final Vote Drive

By JOHN L. CUTTER

WASHINGTON (UP The White House said today President Eisenhower hopes to make a final campaign tour before election day but it not sure yet whether his work schedule will permit it.

The chief executive was reported to be considering a flying trip on Friday and Saturday that would take him from New England into the south as far as Louisville, Ky and into the upper Middle West.

The White House would give no details of the trip under consideration except to say that a top in Michigan, where Sen. Homer Ferguson (R-Mich) is running for reelection, is part of the itinerary being discussed.

The United Press learned from other sources that Secret Service agents already had made preliminary plans for the President to visit Boston Saturday, stopping for an hour and a half at Logan Airport to address a GOP rally.

In Minneapolis, Minnesota Republican National Committeeman George Eztell told reporters the White House had advised him that a visit to his state is also "under consideration."

White House Press Secretary James C. Hagerty told reporters that Mr. Eisenhower would like to make a final pre-election tour to encourage a heavy vote in the congressional elections next Tuesday, if his work will permit.

Hagerty had told reporters last night that plans for the last-minute tour had not been discussed with the President.

Today he reported that the proposed trip was put up to Mr. Eisenhower this morning by members of his staff.

He said Mr. Eisenhower indicated he would like to speak to the people and the workers or the Republican party to see that everybody gets out and votes on election day.

"Any determination on whether he makes any such proposed swing will have to wait a day or two days," Hagerty said.

Mr. Eisenhower could not leave before sometime Friday, because he has a lunch here Thursday for Dr. Konrad Adenauer, head of the West German government, and makes a major political speech Thursday night from Washington.

$50,000 Suit Against Hotel

MEMPHIS (AP) C. A. Vines of Little Rock has filed a $50,000 damage suit against a hotel here. Vines, associate director of the Arkansas Agriculture Extension Service, claimed his back was injured and his shoulders strained when a Hotel King Cotton elevator last DDec. 17 fell 10 floors before being checked by a safety device at the bottom of the shaft.

Vines' federal court suit contends that the hotel was at fault in loading the elevator with more than 14 passengers.

By JOE BENHAM
Of The Associated Press

Spring cleaning came to the University of Texas six months early.

A reform movement started Monday by Coach Ed Price already had two new faces in the Longhorse' starting lineup. with the promise of more to come during the week's workouts.

Right Guard Ben Woodson and right tackle Herb Gray were the first two of what Price said might be a long line of Longhorns sent to the second team for failure to give their all for the Texas cause this year.

Price said he "anticipated" further changes in the starting eleven. That, however, was just one story about the sudden switches.

The Austin, Tex., American, in an article by Mark Batterson, said only five members of the first string all - linemen were reasonable sure of keping their posts. The Daily Texan, campus newspaper, reported that nine players had been ordered to move from Hill Hall, the athletic dormitory, as a disciplinary measure. The paper emphasized that Gray and Woodson were not among the nine.

The demotion of Gray and Woodson drew this comment from Price, "Gray was not in satisfactory physical condition and Woodson's performance was not as good as we thought he could do." Price's statement was a turnabout from pre-season ratings which listed Gray as a probably All-America selection and Woodson as the conference's most brilliant sophomore lineman.

Bob Flinn a 205-piund junior was moved into Gray's spot and Langford Sneed, a 200pound junior took over Woodson's spot in Tuesday's preparations for the Saturday meeting between Texas and Southern Methodist at Austin. Scrimmages were scheduled following light drills Monday.

Other training camps reported everything from indoor skull sessions at Arkansas to a heavy two hour workout at SMU.

Arkansas stayed indoors due to heavy rains and spent the time studying defensive patterns for use against Texas A&M Saturday at College Station. The unbeaten Porkers were reported in good physical shape following their rib cracking victory over Mississippi.

SMU had only one doubtful starter — guard Jimmy Smith as the Mustangs opened the week with their longest drill of the year, a two-hour session on running plays.

Halfback L. G. Dupre was rated a possible starter for the first time in three weeks as Baylor got ready for TCU. The running star, out with a leg injury, and the other Bears heard scouts say Texas Christian is stronger at every position than last year.

Reserves worked against ineligibles and freshmen using Arkansas style plays in a 30-minute scrimmage at Texas A&M. Coach Paul (Bear) Bryant told the starters their loss to Baylor last week was their best game of the year.

Coach Jess Neely scheduled lengthy scrimmages Tuesday and Wednesday after a light workout Monday in which he told the Rice Owls they looked "spotty," in their victors over Texas last week. Neely said running plays will be emphasized as the Owls prepare to play Vanderbilt here Saturday night.

TUC will start Harold Pillard, 190-pound sophomore against Baylor Saturday at Fort Worth, Coach Abe Martin announced at Rorned Frog practice Saturday. The extra point specialist will replace Bobby Dike, the top ground-gainer among conference fullbacks.

Fans Gobble Up Hog-Rice Tickets

LITTLE ROCK (AP) Arkansas Razorback fans yesterday stormed two sales stations in greater Little Rock to clear the board of nearly 8,000 reserve seat tickets for the Arkansas-Rice contest still two weeks away.

The last ticket was sold by 2:15 p. m.

Allan Berry, manager of War Memorial Stadium here, said 3,000 general admission tickets (end zone) would go on sale Saturday.

Berry said Saturday's sale was not an attempt to "deprive out-of-towners" but an effort to dispense with the confusion "we experienced in conducting a day-of-the-game sale for the Arkansas-Ole Miss game last Saturday."

All indications point to another sellout for the game scheduled for Nov. 6, Berry said.

Stadium and University school officials were host to a full house last Saturday, for the first time since the stadium was completed in 1948.

Romping Porks Move to 4th in National Poll

By HUGH FULLERTON JR.
Of The Associated Press

Ohio State's Buckeyes, a collection of football players with roses in their eyes and mayhem in their hearts, have replaced Oklahoma as the No. 1 college team in the opinion of the nation's sports writers and broadcasters.

They earned the honor crushing Wisconsin 31-14 last Saturday while Oklahoma was sliding listlessly through a 21-0 decison over Kansas State, Oklahoma had been on top of The Associated Press poll for three weeks.

Oklahoma collected 10 more firstplace votes than Ohio State 74-64 but the Bucks edged ahead on the second-place ballots, of which 60 went to Ohio State and only 49 to the Sooners.

The final count, on the usual 10-9-8 etc., basis gave Ohio State 1,858 points and Oklahoma 1,834. UCLA, with 45 firsts, was right behind with 1,800 points, and the surprising Arkansas team fourth with 1,351.

Ohio State was fourth last week, while Wisconsin was second to Oklahoma.

UCLA which walloped Oregon State 61-0 polled a much higher vote than it did a week ago in retaining third place.

Arkansas, a "team o destiny" which came from nowhere to take the Southwest Conference lead and then knocked Mississippi from the ranks of the unbeaten, jumped from seventh to fourth. Army rose from ninth to fifth and West Virginia from 10th to seventh.

The new order, after the first four, is Army, Notre Dame, West Virginia, Wisconsin, Purdue and Miami (Fla.

DOGS

by Farley Manning

Wrong Ideas

It's remarkable how many misconceptions about dogs used to exist but encouraging to note how many have given way to a saner viewpoint within a comparatively few years.

There are many of us who can remember makng it a practice to have a bulky block of sulphur in our dog's drinking pan at all times. The sulphur "kept his food pure" and had other miraculous effects Then we were told by those who should know that the dust-catching block did notihng of the sort. Sulphur we learned, isn't even soluble in water And so we threw the sulphur away and our dogs were left with nothing but pure, cool water to drink, which is just what they wanied anyway.

Then there was the one about meat having the inevitable effect of making a dog "vicious" Some people wouldn't feed meat at all, or in such small quantities that their poor pets were on the verge of malnutrition and couldn't have run after the mailman if they had tried!

"Feed puppies milk. Heavens above, don't you know that milk causes worms." That was a milk-ly-held belief, and it persists today in some quarters To understand the fallacy of that theory, just imagine the millions of babies, who were brought up on milk The millions of puppies, too Many of the pups had worms, it's true but let's not blame their good, healthful milk

And let's not listen to every passing stranger who wants to advise us on our dog's card Listen to reputable, experienced breeders, yes Best of all, heed the advice of your veterinarian, who is devoting a lifetime to keping animal s healthy.

Arkansas Also Fourth on UP Poll

By NORMAN MILER

NEW YORK, (UP) UCLA, the highest scoring college football team in the nation, took over the No. 1 sport in the United Press ratings today in a surprise shake up, with Oklahoma and Ohio State tied for second place only three points behind.

It was the closest weekly contest for first place in the five-year history of the United Press ratings.

Oklahoma, which topped the ratings for the three previous weeks, received the largest total of first-place votes from the 35 leading coaches who make up the rating board. The sooners attracted 17 compared to 10 for Ohio state and eight for U. C. L. A.

But Coach Harold (Red Sanders' Bruins, who have averaged nearly 44 points per game in achieving six straight victories, recieved a greater total of second and third place votes than their revals. As a result, UCLA had 304 out of a possible 350 points while Okladoma and Ohio State each had 301.

UCLA, which crushed Oregon State, 61-09 last Saturday had 16 votes for second place, nine for third, and one each for fourth and 10th places. The Bruins ranked third for the two previous weeks aftes being fourth and second for the first two weeks of the season.

UCLA, rated an excellent bet to retain the Pacific Coast Conference championship although not eligible for the Rose Bowl because it went last year, plays California next Saturday. Oklahoma faces the biggest obstacle in its path t oanother Big Seven conferenie title when it plays Colorado while Ohio State meets Northwestern in the Big Ten.

Oklahoma beat a weak Kansas State team only 21-0 last Saturday Ohio State scored an impressive 31-14 triumph over Wisconsin.

Arkansas and Army moved up to fourth and fifth places, respectively, to fill the spots occupied previously by last Satruday's upset victims; Notre Dame, idle last weekend held sixth. Wisconsin dropped from second to seventh place, while Purdue, Southern California and West Virginia advanced to take over the last three berths among the top 10 in that order.

PLEASING SOMEBODY

BOSTON, Mass., (UP) —Coach Lloyd Jordan, whose Harvard football team has won only one game this season, said yesterday, "I'm having a terrible time pleasing anybody except the opposing team's alumni."

SPORTS ROUNDUP

By GAYLE TALBOT

NEW YORK (AP) — The men who must be coming down with the galloping jitters as the nation's gridiron Goliaths continue to fall on their faces week after week are those individuals who see the day coming closer when they woll have to invite a team, or twoto play in the major bowl games on Jan. 1.

The pickings from among the "name" powers promise to be perhaps the thinnest ever.

There is at least a possibility tha not one of the four major bowl contests, Rose, Corton Sugar and Orange will be played this New Year's Day between two undefeated teams. The bowl chairman who presents even one all-conquering eleven will count himself lucky unless he wishes to dip down among teams of less than major standing. He would rather die first.

The only chance the granddaddy of the bowls, the Rose, has of showing an unbeaten team rests on Ohio State's ability to knock off its three remaining Big Ten rivals plus Pittsburgh. That is a tough hand to fill UCLA the only undefeated member of the Coast Conference with the season only just past the halfway point, is not eligible for the Pasadena classic this year.

Similarly, the Cotton Bowl at Dallas cannot offer an unbeaten host team unless the remarkable Arkansas Razorbacks continue to outscramble five more muscular opponents, including three Southwest Conference members.

Only one other team whose claim to greatness is undisputed, Oklahoma, appears certain now to sail through unbeaten. One might guess that the Sooners would show up again in the Orange Bowl at Miami, except that they are not eligible. That would leave five vacancies to be filled among the Orange, Sugar and Cotton classics.

With Maryland already twice beaten and once tied, and Colorado which apparently had bowl aspirations, knocked off by Nebraska, the bowl selectors will have to do some tall looking. What the flock of lesser bowls, led by the Gator at Jacksonville, will wind up with this time is fringe benefits.

Ike Hopes to Make Final Vote Drive

By JOHN L. CUTTER

WASHINGTON (UP The White House said today President Eisenhower hopes to make a final campaign tour before election day but it not sure yet whether his work schedule will permit it.

The chief executive was reported to be considering a flying trip on Friday and Saturday that would take him from New England into the south as far as Louisville, Ky and into the upper Middle West.

The White House would give no details of the trip under consideration except to say that a top in Michigan, where Sen. Homer Ferguson (R-Mich) is running for reelection, is part of the itinerary being discussed.

The United Press learned from other sources that Secret Service agents already had made preliminary plans for the President to visit Boston Saturday, stopping for an hour and a half at Logan Airport to address a GOP rally.

In Minneapolis, Minnesota Republican National Committeeman George Eztell told reporters the White House had adviced him that a visit to his state is also "under consideration."

White House Press Secretary James C. Hagerty told reporters that Mr. Eisenhower would like to make a final pre-election tour to encourage a heavy vote in the congressional elections next Tuesday, if his work will permit.

Hagerty had told reporters last night that plans for the last-minute tour had not been discussed with the President.

Today he reported that the proposed trip was put up to Mr. Eisenhower this morning by members of his staff.

He said Mr. Eisenhower indicated he would like to speak to the people and the workers or the Republican party to see that everybody gets out and votes on election day.

"Any determination on whether he makes any such proposed swing will have to wait a day or two days," Hagerty said.

Mr. Eisenhower could not leave before sometime Friday, because he has a lunch here Thursday for Dr. Konrad Adenauer, head of the West German government, and makes a major political speech Thursday night from Washington.

$50,000 Suit Against Hotel

MEMPHIS (AP) C. A. Vines of Little Rock has filed a $50,000 damage suit against a hotel here.

Vines, associate director of the Arkansas Agriculture Extension Service, claimed his back was injured and his shoulders strained when a Hotel King Cotton elevator last DDec. 17 fell 10 floors before being checked by a safety device at the bottom of the shaft.

Vines' federal court suit contends that the hotel was at fault in loading the elevator with more than 14 passengers.

Coach Shakes Up Lineup of Sagging Texas

By JOE BENHAM
Of The Associated Press

Spring cleaning came to the University of Texas six months early.

A reform movement started Monday by Coach Ed Price already had two new faces in the Longhorse' starting lineup, with the promise of more to come during the week's workouts.

Right Guard Ben Woodson and right tackle Herb Gray were the first two of what Price said might be a long line of Longhorns sent to the second team for failure to give their all for the Texas cause this year.

Price said he "anticipated" further changes in the starting eleven. That, however, was just one story about the sudden switches.

The Austin, Tex., American, in an article by Mark Batterson, said only five members of the first string all linemen were reasonable sure of keping their posts. The Daily Texan, campus newspaper, reported that nine players had been ordered to move from Hill Hall, the athletic dormitory, as a disciplinary measure. The paper emphasized that Gray and Woodson were not among the nine.

The demotion of Gray and Woodson drew this comment from Price, "Gray was not in satisfactory physical condition and Woodson's performance was not as good as we thought he could do."

Price's statement was a turnabout from pre-season ratings which listed Gray as a probably All-America selection and Woodson as the conference's most brilliant sophomore lineman.

Bob Flinn a 205-piund junior was moved into Gray's spot and Langford Sneed, a 200pound junior took over Woodson's spot in Tuesday's preparations for the Saturday meeting between Texas and Southern Methodist at Austin. Scrimmages were scheduled following light drills Monday.

Other training camps reported everything from indoor skull sessions at Arkansas to a heavy two hour workout at SMU.

Arkansas stayed indoors due to heavy rains and spent the time studying defensive patierns for use against Texas A&M Saturday at College Station. The unbeaten Porkers were reported in good physical shape following their rib cracking victory over Mississippi.

SMU had only one doubtful starter — guard Jimmy Smith as the Mustangs opened the week with their longest drill of the year, a two-hour session on running plays.

Halfback L. G. Dupre was rated a possible starter for the first time in three weeks as Baylor got ready for TCU. The running star, out with a leg injury, and the other Bears heard scouts say Texas Christian is stronger at every position than last year.

Reserves worked against ineligibles and freshmen using Arkansas style plays in a 30-minute scrimmage at Texas A&M. Coach Paul (Bear) Bryant told the starters their loss to Baylor last week was their best game of the year.

Coach Jess Neely scheduled lengthy scrimmages Tuesday and Wednesday after a light workout Monday in which he told the Rice Owls they looked "spotty," in their victors over Texas last week. Neely said running plays will be emphasized as the Owls prepare to play Vanderbilt here Saturday night.

TUC will start Harold Pillard, 190-pound sophomore against Baylor Saturday at Fort Worth, Coach Abe Martin announced at Horned Frog practice Saturday. The extra point specialist will replace Bobby Dike, the top ground-gainer among conference fullbacks.

Fans Gobble Up Hog-Rice Tickets

LITTLE ROCK (AP) Arkansas Razorback fans yesterday stormed two sales stations in greater Little Rock to clear the board of nearly 8,000 reserve seat tickets for the Arkansas-Rice contest still two weeks away.

The last ticket was sold by 2:15 p. m.

Allan Berry, manager of War Memorial Stadium here, said 3,000 general admission tickets (end zone) would go on sale Saturday.

Berry said Saturday's sale was not an attempt to "deprive out-of-towners" but an effort to dispense with the confusion "we experienced in conducting a day-of-the-game sale for the Arkansas-Ole Miss game last Saturday."

All indications point to another sellout for the game scheduled for Nov. 6, Berry said.

Stadium and University school officials were host to a full house last Saturday, for the first time since the stadium was completed in 1948.

Romping Porks Move to 4th in National Poll

By HUGH FULLERTON JR.
Of The Associated Press

Ohio State's Buckeyes, a collection of football players with roses in their eyes and mayhem in their hearts, have replaced Oklahoma as the No. 1 college team in the opinion of the nation's sports writers and broadcasters.

They earned the honor crushing Wisconsin 31-14 last Saturday while Oklahoma was sliding listlessly through a 21-0 decison over Kansas State. Oklahoma had been on top of The Associated Press poll for three weeks.

Oklahoma collected 10 more firstplace votes than Ohio State 74-64 but the Bucks edged ahead on the second-place ballots, of which 60 went to Ohio State and only 49 to the Sooners.

The final count, on the usual 10-9-8 etc., basis gave Ohio State 1,858 points and Oklahoma 1,834. UCLA, with 45 firsts, was right behind with 1,800 points, and the surprising Arkansas team fourth with 1,351.

Ohio State was fourth last week, while Wisconsin was second to Oklahoma.

UCLA which walloped Oregon State 61-0 polled a much higher vote than it did a week ago in retaining third place.

Arkansas, a "team o destiny" which came from nowhere to take the Southwest Conference lead and then knocked Mississippi from the ranks of the unbeaten, jumped from seventh to fourth. Army rose from ninth to fifth and West Virginia from 10th to seventh.

The new order, after the first four, is Army, Notre Dame, West Virginia, Wisconsin, Purdue and Miami (Fla.

DOGS

by Farley Manning

Wrong Ideas

It's remarkable how many misconceptions about dogs used to exist but encouraging to note how many have given way to a saner viewpoint within a comparatively few years.

There are many of us who can remember makng it a practice to have a bulky block of sulphur in our dog's drinking pan at all times. The sulphur "kept his food pure" and had other miraculous effects Then we were told by those who should know that the dust-catching block did notihng of the sort. Sulphur we learned, isn't even soluble in water And so we threw the sulphur away and our dogs were left with nothing but pure, cool water to drink, which is just what they wanted anyway.

Then there was the one about meat having the inevitable effect of making a dog "vicious" Some people wouldn't feed meat at all, or in such small quantities that their poor pets were on the verge of malnutrition and couldn't have run after the mailman if they had tried!

"Feed puppies milk. Heavens above, don't you know that milk causes worms." That was a milkly-held belief, and it persists today in some quarters To understand the fallacy of that theory, just imagine the millions of babies, who were brought up on milk The millions of puppies, too Many of the pups had worms, it's true but let's not blame their good, healthful milk

And let's not listen to every passing stranger who wants to advise us on our dog's card Listen to reputable, experienced breeders, yes Best of all, heed the advice of your veterinarian, who is devoting a lifetime to keping animal s healthy.

SPORTS ROUNDUP

By GAYLE TALBOT

NEW YORK (AP) — The men who must be coming down with the galloping jitters as the nation's gridiron Goliaths continue to fall on their faces week after week are those individuals who see the day coming closer when they woll have to invite a team or twoto play in the major bowl games on Jan. 1.

The pickings from among the "name" powers promise to be perhaps the thinnest ever.

There is at least a possibility tha not one of the four major bowl contests, Rose, Corton Sugar and Orange- will be played this New Year's Day between two undefeated teams. The bowl chair man who presents even one all-conquering eleven will count himself lucky unless he wishes to dip down among teams of less than major standing. He would rather die first.

The only chance the granddaddy of the bowls, the Rose, has of showing an unbeaten team rests on Ohio State's ability to knock off its three remaining Big Ten rivals, plus Pittsburgh. That is a tough hand to fill UCLA the only undefeated member of the Coast Conference with the season only just past the halfway point, is not eligible for the Pasadena classic this year.

Similarly, the Cotton Bowl at Dallas cannot offer an unbeaten host team unless the remarkable Arkansas Razorbacks continue to outscramble five more muscular opponents, including three Southwest Conference members.

Only one other team whose claim to greatness is undisputed, Oklahoma, appears certain now to sail through unbeaten. One might guess that the Sooners would show up again in the Orange Bowl at Miami, except that they are not eligible. That would leave five vacancies to be filled among the Orange, Sugar and Cotton classics.

With Maryland already twice beaten and once tied, and Colorado which apparently had bowl aspirations, knocked off by Nebraska, the bowl selectors will have to do some tall looking. What the flock of lesser bowls, led by the Gator at Jacksonville, will wind up with this time is fringe benefits.

Ike Hopes to Make Final Vote Drive

By JOHN L. CUTTER

WASHINGTON (UP The White House said today President Eisenhower hopes to make a final campaign tour before election day but it not sure yet whether his work schedule will permit it.

The chief executive was reported to be considering a flying trip on Friday and Saturday that would take him from New England into the south as far as Louisville, Ky and into the upper Middle West.

The White House would give no details of the trip under consideration except to say that a top in Michigan, where Sen. Homer Ferguson (R-Mich) is running for re-election, is part of the itinerary being discussed.

The United Press learned from other sources that Secret Service agents already had made preliminary plans for the President to visit Boston Saturday, stopping for an hour and a half at Logan Airport to address a GOP rally.

In Minneapolis, Minnesota Republican National Committeeman George Eztell told reporters the White House had advised him that a visit to his state is also "under consideration."

White House Press Secretary James C. Hagerty told reporters that Mr. Eisenhower would like to make a final pre-election tour to encourage a heavy vote in the congressional elections next Tuesday, if his work will permit.

Hagerty had told reporters last night that plans for the last-minute tour had not been discussed with the President.

Today he reported that the proposed trip was put up to Mr. Eisenhower this morning by members of his staff.

He said Mr. Eisenhower indicated he would like to speak to the people and the workers or the Republican party to see that everybody gets out and votes on election day.

"Any determination on whether he makes any such proposed swing will have to wait a day or two days," Hagerty said.

Mr. Eisenhower could not leave before sometime Friday, because he has a lunch here Thursday for Dr. Konrad Adenauer, head of the West German government, and makes a major political speech Thursday night from Washington.

Arkansas Also Fourth on UP Poll

By NORMAN MILER

NEW YORK, (UP) UCLA, the highest scoring college football team in the nation, took over the No. 1 sport in the United Press ratings today in a surprise shake up, with Oklahoma and Ohio State tied for second place only three points behind.

It was the closest weekly contest for first place in the five-year history of the United Press ratings.

Oklahoma, which topped the ratings for the three previous weeks, received the largest total of first-place votes from the 35 leading coaches who make up the rating board. The sooners attracted 17 compared to 10 for Ohio state and eight for U. C. L. A.

But Coach Harold (Red Sanders' Bruins, who have averaged nearly 44 points per game in achieving six straight victories, recieved a greater total of second and third place votes than their revals. As a result, UCLA had 304 out of a possible 350 points while Okladoma and Ohio State each had 301.

UCLA, which crushed Oregon State, 61-09, last Saturday had 16 votes for second place, nine for third, and one each for fourth and 10th places. The Bruins ranked third for the two previous weeks aftes being fourth and second for the first two weeks of the season.

UCLA, rated an excellent bet to retain the Pacific Coast Conference championship although not eligible for the Rose Bowl because it went last year, plays California next Saturday. Oklahoma faces the biggest obstacle in its path t oanother Big Seven conferenie title when it plays Colorado while Ohio State meets Northwestern in the Big Ten.

Oklahoma beat a weak Kansas State team only 21-0 last Saturday Ohio State scored an impressive 31-14 triumph over Wisconsin.

Arkansas and Army moved up to fourth and fifth places, respectively, to fill the spots occupied previously by last Saturday's upset victims; Notre Dame, idle last weekend held sixth, Wisconsin dropped from second to seventh place, while Purdue, Southern California and West Virginia advanced to take over the last three berths among the top 10 in that order.

PLEASING SOMEBODY

BOSTON, Mass., (UP) —Coach Lloyd Jordan, whose Harvard football team has won only one game this season, said yesterday, "I'm having a terrible time pleasing anybody except the opposing team's alumni."

$50,000 Suit Against Hotel

MEMPHIS (AP) C. A. Vines of Little Rock has filed a $50,000 damage suit against a hotel here.

Vines, associate director of the Arkansas Agriculture Extension Service, claimed his back was injured and his shoulders strained when a Hotel King Cotton elevator last DDec. 17 fell 10 floors before being checked by a safety device at the bottom of the shaft.

Vines' federal court suit contends that the hotel was at fault in loading the elevator with more than 14 passengers.

Coach Shakes Up Lineup of Sagging Texas

By JOE BENHAM
Of The Associated Press

Spring cleaning came to the University of Texas six months early.

A reform movement started Monday by Coach Ed Price already had two new faces in the Longhorse' starting lineup. with the promise of more to come during the week's workouts.

Right Guard Ben Woodson and right tackle Herb Gray were the first two of what Price said might be a long line of Longhorns sent to the second team for failure to give their all for the Texas cause this year.

Price said he "anticipated" further changes in the starting eleven. That, however, was just one story about the sudden switches.

The Austin, Tex., American, in an article by Mark Batterson, said only five members of the first string all - linemen were reasonable sure of keping their posts. The Daily Texan, campus newspaper, reported that nine players had been ordered to move from Hill Hall, the athletic dormitory, as a disciplinary measure. The paper emphasized that Gray and Woodson were not among the nine.

The demotion of Gray and Woodson drew this comment from Price, "Gray was not in satisfactory physical condition and Woodson's performance was not as good as we thought he could do."

Price's statement was a turnabout from pre-season ratings which listed Gray as a probably All-America selection and Woodson as the conference's most brilliant sophomore lineman.

Bob Flinn a 205-piund junior was moved into Gray's spot and Langford Sneed, a 200pound junior took over Woodson's spot in Tuesday's preparations for the Saturday meeting between Texas and Southern Methodist at Austin. Scrimmages were scheduled following light drills Monday.

Other training camps reported everything from indoor skull sessions at Arkansas to a heavy two hour workout at SMU.

Arkansas stayed indoors due to heavy rains and spent the time studying defensive patterns for use against Texas A&M Saturday at College Station. The unbeaten Porkers were reported in good physical shape following their rib cracking victory over Mississippi.

SMU had only one doubtful starter — guard Jimmy Smith as the Mustangs opened the week with their longest drill of the year, a two-hour session on running plays.

Halfback L. G. Dupre was rated a possible starter for the first time in three weeks as Baylor got ready for TCU. The running star, out with a leg injury, and the other Bears heard scouts say Texas Christian is stronger at every position than last year.

Reserves worked against ineligibles and freshmen using Arkansas style plays in a 30-minute scrimmage at Texas A&M. Coach Paul (Bear) Bryant told the starters their loss to Baylor last week was their best game of the year.

Coach Jess Neely scheduled lengthy scrimmages Tuesday and Wednesday after a light workout Monday in which he told the Rice Owls they looked "spotty" in their victors over Texas last week. Neely said running plays will be emphasized as the Owls prepare to play Vanderbilt here Saturday night.

TUC will start Harold Pillard, 190-pound sophomore against Baylor Saturday at Fort Worth, Coach Abe Martin announced at Rorned Frog practice Saturday. The extra point specialist will replace Bobby Dike, the top ground-gainer among conference fullbacks.

Fans Gobble Up Hog-Rice Tickets

LITTLE ROCK (AP) Arkansas Razorback fans yesterday stormed two sales stations in greater Little Rock to clear the board of nearly 8,000 reserve seat tickets for the Arkansas-Rice contest still two weeks away.

The last ticket was sold by 2:15 p. m.

Allan Berry, manager of War Memorial Stadium here, said 3,000 general admission tickets (end zone) would go on sale Saturday.

Berry said Saturday's sale was not an attempt to "deprive out-of-towners" but an effort to dispense with the confusion "we experienced in conducting a day-of-the-game sale for the Arkansas-Ole Miss game last Saturday."

All indications point to another sellout for the game scheduled for Nov. 6, Berry said.

Stadium and University school officials were host to a full house last Saturday, for the first time since the stadium was completed in 1948.

Romping Porks Move to 4th in National Poll

By HUGH FULLERTON JR.
Of The Associated Press

Ohio State's Buckeyes, a collection of football players with roses in their eyes and mayhem in their hearts, have replaced Oklahoma as the No. 1 college team in the opinion of the nation's sports writers and broadcasters.

They earned the honor crushing Wisconsin 31-14 last Saturday while Oklahoma was sliding listlessly through a 21-0 decison over Kansas State, Oklahoma had been on top of The Associated Press poll for three weeks.

Oklahoma collected 10 more firstplace votes than Ohio State 74-64 but the Bucks edged ahead on the second-place ballots, of which 60 went to Ohio State and only 49 to the Sooners.

The final count, on the usual 10-9-8 etc., basis gave Ohio State 1,858 points and Oklahoma 1,834. UCLA, with 45 firsts, was right behind with 1,800 points, and the surprising Arkansas team fourth with 1,351.

Ohio State was fourth last week, while Wisconsin was second to Oklahoma.

UCLA which walloped Oregon State 61-0 polled a much higher vote than it did a week ago in retaining third place.

Arkansas, a "team o destiny" which came from nowhere to take the Southwest Conference lead and then knocked Mississippi from the ranks of the unbeaten, jumped from seventh to fourth. Army rose from ninth to fifth and West Virginia from 10th to seventh.

The new order, after the first four, is Army, Notre Dame, West Virginia, Wisconsin, Purdue and Miami (Fla.

DOGS

by Farley Manning

Wrong Ideas

It's remarkable how many misconceptions about dogs used to exist but encouraging to note how many have given way to a saner viewpoint within a comparatively few years.

There are many of us who can remember makng it a practice to have a bulky block of sulphur in our dog's drinking pan at all times. The sulphur "kept his food pure" and had other miraculous effects Then we were told by those who should know that the dust-catching block did notihng of the sort. Sulphur we learned, isn't even soluble in water And so we threw the sulphur away and our dogs were left with nothing but pure, cool water to drink, which is just what they wanted anyway.

Then there was the one about meat having the inevitable effect of making a dog "vicious" Some people wouldn't feed meat at all, or in such small quantities that their poor pets were on the verge of malnutrition and couldn't have run after the mailman if they had tried!

"Feed puppies milk. Heavens above, don't you know that milk causes worms." That was a milkly-held belief, and it persists today in some quarters To understand the fallacy of that theory, just imagine the millions of babies, who were brought up on milk The millions of puppies, too Many of the pups had worms, it's true but let's not blame their good, healthful milk

And let's not listen to every passing stranger who wants to advise us on our dog's card Listen to reputable, experienced breeders, yes Best of all, heed the advice of your veterinarian, who is devoting a lifetime to keping animals healthy.

Madness In The Spring

By Elinore Denniston

Copyright 1954 by Elinore Denniston   Distributed by NEA Service, Inc.

By ELINORE DENNISTON

THE STORY: Greg Beaver does not seem to fit anywhere because he is so overshadowed by his vigorous, dogmatic stepfather, Horace Crain, manufacturer of Crain's Canned Cornbread, and his absurdly young and decorative mother. Since getting out of the Army, Greg has been employed by his stepfather, but now Greg feels the first urge to revolt. Oddly, this feeling comes with the first signs of spring.

II

In crime it is the first step that counts. The torn pages scattered on the carpet represented the rejection, the overthrow, of the way they expect you to do things.

That morning Greg did not go laboriously through the News of the Week section in order to Keep Up With Current Events. This procedure was recommended by his stepfather who found it the most useful way of starting conversations. Instead, he read avidly every word about a mysterious disappearance that would probably turn out to be a murder.

Things happen to other people, Greg thought. Nothing ever happens to me. Not that he wanted to be involved in murder; he just wanted to be involved in something.

The sky was dark gray and the rain fell monotonously; one of those sodden, dreary March rains that turn the crusted snow into dirty pools of water. Late March in New York City was a time of bitter wind and leaden skies, of slush underfoot and subways smelling of wet coats and galoshes; a slovenly old man who had outstayed his welcome. All week you looked forward to Sunday and then what could you do? He picked up the Saturday Review and flicked the pages. Among the personals his eye fell on an advertisement:

WANTED: College graduate with high hopes and no experience wants interesting job.

Greg snorted. Interesting job! That showed he had no experience.

Twenty-six stories below the window where Greg's desk was placed inside beaverboard partitions on the big loft floor that housed the clerical staff of Crain's Canned Cornbread, the river, which began as a stream above Albany, flowed majestically between New Jersey and Manhattan, and eventually went out to sea. In the summer it was a deep sparkling blue; in winter a gray turgid mass with floating ice cakes.

On Monday mornings Greg started the week right by turning his back squarely to the window but by Friday afternoon he found it increasingly difficult to concentrate on charting the rise and fall of cornbread sales in B income groups. Instead, he watched the tugboats, ferries, freighters and ocean liners that floated on the loveliest of all rivers. The impertinent toots of small craft, the deep-throated warnings of big ones, were like voices calling, beckoning over the horizon.

At twilight the patient lady in the harbor lifted her lamp like a light kept burning in the window to welcome the wanderer home. It would be good to come back like that, Greg thought, back from far places just at twilight, with New York lighted up and the lady holding her lamp to see you safely home. But to come back you have to go somewhere first. Greg's one journey had been at the pressing invitation of Uncle Sam and he had returned in a fog by way of San Francisco. He had not even seen the Golden Gate.

At that time he was lucky. Horace Crain had the job waiting when Greg got out of the Army. A nice job. Nice people too. And his mother had been right. Why look around for something to suit him when Horace could handle it? She did not say Horace could handle it better. That was unnecessary.

Greg was doing all right. His Army severance pay had been banked. His stepfather wanted him to invest it but Greg kept making excuses. He liked knowing the money was where he could get at it.

His own money. And then he sat bolt upright, his mouth half open in sheer astonishment. He had gone to work for Crain's Canned Cornbread to please his stepfather but he did not have to stay to please anyone. He was free to strike out, to try something else.

The idea was more than he could absorb at once. He thought it over, savored it. Free. The word was less exhilarating than he had supposed. More alarming. It involved a suggestion of choice and Greg realized that, aside from moving out of the Montclair house and into the Yorkville apartment, he had never made a major choice. The safe thing was to go along with the main stream. Anyhow, if he did not attempt to do anything special, he would never have the humiliation of failing, of confirming Horace Crain's belief that he was bound to fail on his own.

The rain had stopped and through a rent in the clouds a pale light came through the Venetian blinds.

He walked slowly across the room, kicking the basket of wine bottles as he passed, aware of the coming of the new season as he had not been aware since adolescence, which, at 26, seemed light-years away. His conscience gripped him by the shoulder, warned him to ignore the heady quality of the air; but it had already touched his nostrils, been drawn into his lungs.

Free. The word that had fallen like a stone was, on repetition, a bright-colored balloon, and he tossed it into the air. If he could do anything he wanted, what would he choose? To his surprise he found no immediate answer. But there must be something. Things happen to other people. Why no to him?

He grinned to himself and pulled a fountain pen out of his pocket:

WANTED: Man, 26, anxious to give up a good job with a future for practically any job with a present.

He made out a check and addressed an envelope to the Saturday Review. Then, because he had nothing else to do, he went out and mailed it.

(To Be Continued

By Friday afternoon Greg found it increasingly difficult to concentrate on chartin gthe rise and fall of cornbread sales.

Accidents Take 11 Lives in State

By The Associated Press

Seven persons suffered violent deaths in Arkansas during the week that ended Sunday midnight — all of them from traffic accidents.

Walter Cherry, 78, of Walnut Ridge was killed yesterday when the car in which he was riding overturned near Imboden, Ark.

A Missouri woman, identified by Arkansas State police as Mrs. Nora L. Daves, 67, of Ava, Mo., was killed in a traffic accident two miles south of Bee Branch, Ark., yesterday.

Saturday night, Mrs. Ruby Farrell, 41, of Blytheville was killed when she was struck by a truck near Blytheville. When her mother, Mrs. James Edins of Newport, was told of her daughter's death, she too died — of an apparent heart attack.

A car-truck crash near Marianna Saturday, claimed the largest number of lives in single accident. Three died in the smash up.

Undecided U.S. Voters Target of Both Sides

By JOHN L. CUTTER

WASHINGTON (UP) — Republicans and Democrats trained their sights on the nation's undecided voters today as the 1954 election campaign rolled into its final climactic week.

The GOP National Comittee announced it has scheduled more than 250 speeches in 36 states in an all-out bid for votes between now and Nov. 2. The Democrats said their campaigning will be just as vigorous.

President Eisenhower, Vice President Richard M. Nixon and most of the President's cabinet will all be in action for the Republicans.

Mr. Eisenhower, now campaigning hard for GOP candidates, will deliver a nationwide "appeal to all Americans" Thursday night on behalf of the national citizens for Eisenhower campaign committee. He also will make a "nonpolitical" speech tonight at an industrial meeting here.

Adlai E. Stevenson, 1952 presidential nominee; Senate Leader Syndon B. Johnson, former House Speaker Sam Rayburn and a host of others will be in the firing line for the Democrats.

Generally, the Republicans are worried about straws in the wind pointing to a Democratic victory. They also are concerned about widespread public apathy which they figure will help the Democrats. The Democrats, on the other hand, are mostly fretting about posible overconfidence.

ORVAL E. FAUBUS
Governor

The Democratic Party offers as its Standard Bearer, Honorable Orval E. Faubus, who won the nomination in the Primary on August 10 and who is being supported by an overwhelming majority of the people of this State who recognize his integrity, ability, experience and determination to give Arkansas an honest and progressive administration — free from entangling alliances or commitments.

The Democratic Party in Arkansas proposes to reject Republicanism-Remmelism which would bring to our State an inexperienced and incapable Chief Executive.

The Democratic Nominee for Governor stands 100% for the platform adopted by the State Convention.

Offers Reward for Faubus' Loyalty Oath

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The Citizens for Clean Elections Committee has offered to add $1,000 to the Democratic State Committee fund if Orval Faubus will make public his federal employment applications and Loyalty Oath.

Dr. George P. Branscum, Little Rock dentist and chairman of the committee, made the offer here yesterday.

He said the $1,000 offer would stand until Saturday. The statement issued by Branscum called the $1,000 ofer "a reward" to be paid if Faubus would:

1. Make public all the applications he filed with the U. S. Postoffice Department.

2. Make public the Loyalty Oath he executed as a major in the U S. Army Reserve this year before announcing for governor.

Branscum, practicing Little Rock dentist since 1944, said it would be remembered that Faubus asserted publicly, "on more than one occasion, in press interviews, in advertisements and on radio and television that the FBI has cleared him after an investigation of his connection with Commonwealth College."

Defunct Commonwealth College, operated at Mena, Ark. during the 1930s and was declared "Communistic" after investigations by state and federal organizations.

During the runoff campaign in which Faubus opposed Gov. Francis Cherry, Faubus was accused of having taken active part in the school's student activities.

Faubus denied that he ever had enrolled at the college. He said he had visited on the campus several days after receiving a scholarship offer, but did not remain as a student. Faubus said that his back ground had been thoroughly investigated when he served as a major in the U. S. Army during World War II and again when he was postmaster at Huntsville.

Dr. Branscum charged, however, that in a telegram from Washington last week, the Department of Justice publicly stated that neither the FBI nor any other division of the Department of Justice, had investigated his (Faubus') Commonwealth College connection and that it never had celared him.

"We deduce from that information," Dr. Branscum said, "that Mr. Faubus withheld from the Army, from the Postoffice Department and from the Civil Service Commission vital data about his record and activities."

Branscum, who said he became interested in activities of the Citizens for Clean Elections, Committee because of a desire to maintain a country for three growing sons, noted that Faubus had one week in which to "claim his reward."

"It gives Mr. Faubus an opportunity, if he has the courage to do so, the receive the $1,000 reward and reimburse the Democratic State Committee for a part of the money it is spending on his campaign," Dr. Branscum said.

"Besides the people of Arkansas are entitled to the truth from Mr. Faubus before the election."

Faubus, speaking from Fort Smith in a telephone interview with the Associated Press said:

"I see no reason why I should play the game of Dr. Branscum and his so-called Citizens' Committee."

The Democratic nominee for governor would not state when he would answer the charges but indicated he would make a statement soon.

"I feel that there is a good answer for the doctor and his group" Faubus said. "But I'll give it at my own time and at my own choosing."

When asked about the $1,000 "reward", Faubus laughed and said: "No comment."

Faubus today is scheduled to speak at a Republicans for Faubus dinner meeting at Eureka Springs.

Dr. Branscum who said he was not becoming active in politics "as such", charged "there was enough apparent irregularity in the voting during the last primary to warrant the action I have taken."

"I am not a politician," he said. "However, we've a condition in the Deocratic Party which someone needs to do something about and I am a Democrat."

Dr. Branscum said the committee of which he is a chairman, had "no connection whatsoever with Republican candidate Pratt Remmel. There have been many charges to that effect, but they are not true," he said.

Weeping Marilyn Gets Divorce After Telling Judge Joe Was 'Cold', 'Indifferent' to Her

FIRED, SHE SAYS — Red-headed actress Jeane Williams looks almost too demure to be the center of a Broadway uproar as she plays with her pet poodle in her New York apartment. HOLLYWOOD (UP) — Actress Marilyn Monroe, America's favorite pin-up girl, won an uncontested divorce from Joe DiMaggio today with testimony between sobs that he treated her with "coldness and indifference."

The famed blond, her voice often breaking with emotion, told Santa Monica Superior Court Judge Orlando Rhodes that the former New York Yankee star was moody and even refused to allow her to have friends in their home. Judge Rhodes granted the divorce after 15 minutes of testimony.

Miss Monroe, attired in a tight-fitting back wool suit with a hlunging neckline, said "I voluntarily offered to give up my work in hopes that it woud solve our problems — but it didn't change his attitude."

A packed courtroom of spectators, press and attorneys visiting from other sections of the court building heard the 29-year-old movie star give her testimony, tears splotching her makeup.

"I hoped to have out of my marriage love, warmth, affection and understanding," she said, "but the relationship was one of coldness and indifference."

Marilyn's corroborating witness, Inez Melson testified that DiMaggio would push Marilyn away when she tried to show affection for him and would say "don't bother me."

The divorce ended one of the year's most celebrated marriages one which only lasted nine months. Miss Monroe filed her suit Oct. 5, just one day following the breakup of the popular couple.

Marilyn paused several times during her testimony, which sounded as well-rehearsed and dramatic as one of her movies.

"My husband would get into moods when he wouldn't speak to me for periods of sometimes 10 days," she continued.

"If I would try to reproach him usually he wouldn't answer at all. When he would he would say, 'Leave me alone.' "

"If I would say, 'What's the matter,' he would say, 'Stop nagging me.' "

Marilyn, wearing a fashionable black suit with a huge stand-away collar, said Joe did not allow her to ask any friends to their home.

'I didn't ask to have anyone more than three times during the

Fanatical Moslems Are Gathering

By ROBERT B. HEWETT

CAIRO, Egypt (AP) — Shouting crowds fired the Moslem Brotherhood's headquarters today in protests against the Alexandria attempt to assassinate Premier Gamal Abdel Nasser and then turned out in cheering thousands to give him a hero's welcome home.

Mob violence flared after it was announced the gunman who fired the eight shots last night was a member of the brotherhood, a fanatical political-religious organization which has attacked the premier for signing the compromise British-Egyptian treaty for British evacuation of the Suez Canal Zone. Nasser escaped injury.

A crowd of 500 broke into the brotherhood's two-story headquarters here about noon, smashed furniture and windows and set the building aflame. Then the demonstrators started a fire in an adjacent building which formerly housed the brotherhood's magazine. They shouted "death to the Moslem brothers." No one was injured but both buildings were considerably damaged.

A communique said "some students and some workers" were involved.

ALEXANDRIA, Egypt (AP) — A widespread roundup of leaders of the fanatical Moslem Brotherhood was reported under way today on the heels of an apparent assassination attempt against Premier Gamal Abdel Nasser.

Eight deliberately spaced pistol shots rang out last night while Nasser addressed a big rally celebrating the signing of the British-Egyptain agreement on the Suez Canal Zone. Nasser was not hurt. He shouted to the startled crowd that the shots were a "criminal's attempt against my life."

Writes Hit Broadway Play in Only 60 Hours After Years of Trying to Keep From Starving

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP) "I have a morbid interest in money," confessed George Axelrod, a young man who wrote in 60 hours a Broadway play he says will earn him a million dollars.

For the actual time he spent at the typewriter in turning out "The Seven Year Itch" now being filmed as a vehicle for Marilyn Monroe—this comes to $16,666-66 an hour.

Axelrod who is 33, wears a crew cut, and looks like a fugitive Princeton freshman, thinks this is a fair rate of pay for a writer-if he got to keep the money.

But, of course, he doesn't. Today it may take more time to figure out the income tax on a hit play than it does to write it.

"You work for years and starve," said George wryly," "and then when you hit the big loot they take it all away.

"Money is no longer enough. A writer needs some new kind of payment that can't be taken away such as a guarantee your golf score will improve. Or they might promise to add two years to your life or-in my care — agree to find a way to make my front teeth come together."

But until something better does come along Axelrod has decided money is about the best allaround substitute.

"Writing doesn't count unless you get paid for it," he said. "I can't even write a letter to my son now unless he promises to send me a buck for it.

"Art is a byproduce of writing for money. Shakespeare wrote be-

More Than 400 Persons Dead in Italian Floods

SALERNO, Italy (UP — The United States today joined the massive relief operation for victims of what is feared to be Italy's worst post-war flood disaster.

With nearly 400 persons oficially listed as dead or missing and thousands homeless, U. S. Foreign Operations Administration Chief Rome that he has ordered that agency to "extend aid to the victims" of the Salerno flood.

SALERNO, Italy (UP) Help was rushed by sea today to the isolated coastal region around Salerno where more than 300 persons were feared dead in the worst flash flood in the nation's history.

Police listed 275 dead, 170 missing and 150 injured, with reports still due from areas isolated by the rampaging waters which swept out of the mountains drowing residents in a score of hamlets while they slept early yesterday.

Premier Mario Scelba left Rome for the disaster area by plane this morning, as offers of aid poured in from all parts of Italy.

Fishermen working off Salerno fished the bodies of drowned victims from the sea.

Mud a foot thick in the streets and a grim silence in the air told the story of the third major flood disaster in the Salerno region in 30 years.

Only the shriek of an occasional siren and the sparse clanking of rescuers' tools interrupted the quiet death and destruction in the area bounded, roughly by Salerno, Amalfi and Nocera Inferiore south of Naples.

Medicine, food and rescue squads were brought to the scene in a hastily-improvised seaborne ferry service. Firemen, policemen and soldiers were brought from distant cities to help.

Telephone lines were cut. Roads were blocked by landslides. Only one railway line was back in operation. Bridges were down, houses swept away. Debris was everywhere.

Hundreds were homeless and the threat of new disaster hung over the area as a dark overcast promised new rains in the region.

Elsewhere in Italy, the weather continued on a rampage. It rained in the valley of the Po river. There were deluges and landslides near Genoa. Part of La Spezia was flooded. Snow fell in the Alps and avalanches were reported at Stelvic pass on the Swiss border.

Amendment No. 44 Provides 4-Year-Term for Governor Excluding Present Candidates

QUIET MOMENT — Head in hands, chief defense attorney William J. Corrigan pauses a moment to meditate before the first degree murder trial of Dr. Samuel Sheppard is resumed in Cleveland Tuesday. — NEA Telephoto

(This is the second in a series on measure which will be voted on at the general election.)

By LEON HATCH

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Adoption of proposed constitutional amendment No. 44 at the general election next Tuesday could give Orval Faubus or Pratt Remmel depending, of course, on who's elected — a running start toward being a six-year governor.

Proposed amendment No. 44 is the one which says that beginning with the 1956 general election Arkansas governors will be chosen for four year terms.

The six-year speculation is based on the assumption that this year's successful candidate will run again in 1956. If he should be re-elected it would be for a four-year term.

But assuming that the proposed amendment is approved Tuesday, whoever's elected in 1956 can't serve for more than four years beginning with January, 1957.

The proposal specifies that a governor may not succeed himself.

However, there's nothing in the measure to prohibit a governor from serving one four-year term and then, after a four-year lapse, becoming governor again.

It's been done in other states having provisions similar to the one proposed for Arkansas.

The proposal also would prohibit the governor from "taking an active part or using his office" for or against any constitutional officer in any primary or general election.

An exception is made in the governor's own behalf that is he may campaign for himself. Since he can't seek re-election as governor, it would seem that our hypothetical governor must be a candidate for some other constitutional office.

Conviction of violating this section would be punishable by a fine of from $5,000 to $20,000 and by removal from office.

Apparently this provision, if strictly construed, would prohibit a governor from aiding a candidate of his own party.

For example, a Democratic governor couldn't make a speech in behalf of a Democratic candidate for attorney general who had Republican opposition.

The political situation in Arkansas now differs greatly from that which apparently was in prospect when proposed amendment No. 44 was referred by the 1953 Legislature to a popular vote.

At the time the legislature authorized a place on the ballot for the proposal, no one seriously ex-

Cold Weather Is Moving Out of West

By United Press

The coldest weather of the season moved out of the West today in the wake of snows that piled up as high as 12 inches.

Temperatures skidded deep into the 20's in the Rocky Mountain states and Western Plains and got as low as 17 at Ely Nev. Another cold mass dropped the mercury to 26 at Caribou, Me.

The oncoming cold front created temperature ranges of almost 50 degrees in Texas from 20 to Dalhart to 75 at Galveston.

Ahead of the cold front light rains or drizzles spread from the Great Lakes through the northeast states.

The blanket of fog that shrouded the Midwest yesterday was blamed for the crash of an Air Force F-80 shooting jet near Bluffton, Ind., in which the pilot was killed.

Slick highways and poor visibility caused scores of auto accidents, including one in which Sen. John Sparkman of Alabama, campaigning for Democratic candidates, suffered a cut knee near Evansville, Ind.

The cold chased snow clouds from the West and Great Plains, leaving 12 inches on the ground in South Dakota's Black Hills.

In East Texas, meanwhile, the Sabine river was above flood stage.

A crest of about 10 feet above flood stage was expected to hit Gladewater early next week threatening damage.

Los Angeles, which was the weather goat of the nation during 18 days of chcking smog, continued to breathe easier. Despite earlier predictions that the smog would return, yesterday was a near-perfect autumn day.

Appointees of Gov. Cherry to Get Boot

By LEON HATCH

LITTLE ROCK (AP) Some 50 or more appointees of Gov. Cherry to various honorary state boards and commissions may find themselves cut of their non-paying jobs come next January.

These are persons whose positions are subject to Senate confirmation but who were appointed after the 1953 General Assembly adjourned.

Included is the entire membership of two boards the Arkansas Publicity and Information Commission created by a 1953 act and the reorganized State Resources and Development Commission.

Cherry's successor Democrat Orval Faubus or Republican Pratt Remmel depending on the outcome of next Tuesday's election isn't bound to even submit the names of the Cherry appointees to the 1955 Senate.

The new governor may and probably will nominate his own choices. In some instances, they may coincide with those of the retiring chief executive.

There's nothing unusual in the situation. A similar condition arises every time there's a change in governors.

However, if Cherry had been nominated and elected to the customary second term, he would have been in a position to receive Senate approval on most of his appointments. As it is, his wishes will not figure at all.

And because the two full boards were not named until after the 1953 Senate was not in a position to approve or disapprove them, the list of the between session appointments is probably larger than customary with changes of administration.

Atomic Tests in Russia Are Confirmed

By FRED S. HOFFMAN

WASHINGTON (AP) For the first time in over a year, the U.S. government has reported Russian atomic test blasts, thus confirming a Soviet announcement last month.

The Atomic Energy Commission issued a bare-boned statement last night telling of "a series of detonations of nuclear explosives in Soviet territory" starting in mid-September and "continuing at intervals to the present."

The use of the term "series of detonations" suggested to some observers the possibility that the Soviets may be developing a "family" of nuclear weapons, possibly including artillery shells.

Otherwise, the AEC statement shed little light. It gave no inkling as to whether the Russians had set off atomic or hydrogen devices.

It did say, "these tests have resulted in some widespread fall-out of radioactive material, but insignificantly in the United States." The commission did not say where in this country this fallout was detected.

AEC said nothing about how it found out for itself about the Russian tests, but the reference to the nuclear fall-out may in itself be a hint.

Not since Aug. 31, 1953, has the AEC formally announced Russian A-test activity. It said then there had been a fission-type explosion on Soviet soil and that the blast "would appear to be part of a series."

Last Sept. 17, the Soviet Union announced it had exploded "one of a type of atomic weapons" with what it called "valuable results." The brief announcement said the test "will enable Soviet scientists and engineers to solve successfully problems of defense from atomic attack." The Russians gave no details on where the explosion had been touched off or what type of weapon was involved.

Merchants in Approval of Act No. 285

Retail Merchants Division of the Hope Chamber of Commerce met here yesterday and went on record as favoring passage of Act 285 which will be up to the voters of Arkansas in Tuesday's general election.

In fact the act takes three per cent of the liquor wholesalers 10 per cent markup and gives it to the livestock shows, district and county fairs.

The act provides that this money comes off the wholesalers profit and is not to be paid by retailers.

PSC's Own Sta Asks Rejection of AP&L Reques

By LEON HATCH

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The Arkansas Public Service Commission's own technical staff today asked the commission to reject Arkansas Power and Light Co.'s application for a permanent $3,[illegible] 000-a-year rate increase.

Refunds to customers of additional charges already collected under the new rate schedule also was asked in the motion. This excess has been collected under a company surety bond which guarantees refunds if any should be ordered.

2. A motion filed last Friday by other objectors to the rate increase asking that the AP&L petition be disallowed without further hearings.

U. S. Protests Seizure of Americans

WASHINGTON (AP) — Russian secret police illegally detained two U.S. embassy wives in Moscow and subjected them to "personal indignities," the State Department charged last night.

The two women went for a morning stroll Monday, carrying a camera, and landed in the middle of a first-class diplomatic set-to between the United States and Russia, with these results:

1. U. S. Ambassador Charles Bohlen presentedand the Soviet Foreign Ministry rejected a strong protest that the women had been held for some 90 minutes "in violation of generally accepted diplomatic practice and [illegible] hibits the detention of persons" have recognized diplomatic status." First Secretary [illegible] Siscoe was sent to the Foreign Office with that oral protest.

2. The Foreign Office countered with a verbal statement after [illegible] in writing, accusing one of the women, Mrs. Karl E. Sommerlatte, of "hooliganism," a Soviet term for rowdy behavior. Her removal from Russia was demanded.

3. Bohlen returned the Russian note saying: "This version is such flagrant contradiction of the facts... that I am sure that after further investigation the Foreign Ministry will wish to change it."

4. The Soviets again sent the note to the American Embassy early today, and at the same time formally returned Bohlen's original protest.
